FOREWORD

The Constitution requires each house of the General Assembly to keep a Journal of its proceedings. The Journal is intended to assure a public account of legislative activity and constitutes the final official record of action by the General Assembly.

Under the provisions of Section 6.161, 6.162 and 57.151 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes, the Legislative Research Commission is responsible for comparing, editing, correcting, and publishing the Journals as approved by each house of the General Assembly. This volume represents the fullfillment of this obligation for the House of Representatives of 1976.

The text of a bill is spread in full when it receives a first reading. The roll call on passage of a bill is indicated upon its receipt of a third reading, or upon concurrence by the originating house in amendments by the second house. Simple and concurrent resolutions are printed on first reading when applicable or when adopted, and joint resolutions are treated as bills. A table of actions on bills and resolutions is appended.

Mrs. Shan Stone Gray and Mrs. Martha Jane Rogers prepared the 1976 House Journal. The edited copy and index found in this volume reflect the cooperative efforts of the commission's staff.

Common Sense For The Common Good

Lieutenant Governor Stovall, Speaker Kenton, Members of the General Assembly, Members of the Judiciary, Members of the Executive Cabinet, Ladies and Gentlemen.

We are gathered to discuss the condition of our Commonwealth and its economic prospects. But even more important is the opportunity this message provides to give you insight into my philosophy of government management, and to tell you how that philosophy will be reflected in programs I will submit for your consideration.

It is also imperative that we immediately address and establish long range goals we seek to meet, not only during the time you and I are here, but for the future as well.

It is not a simple task to measure either the change taking place in our nation's economy, as it moves in and out of recession, or the change in Kentucky's economy as it reacts to national trends.

It is even more difficult to translate those economic changes into a rate of revenue generated from our diversified tax base. However, despite those uncertainties, there are positive signs which indicate that our economy is viable.

Economic recovery is underway, although the twin problems of inflation and unemployment continue to linger. While energy problems will probably remain with us for the biennium, the energy crisis is expected to further stimulate the demand for coal, including Kentucky production. However, extremely high coal prices are not expected.

What is certain about our economy tonight is that this administration will maintain a prudent fiscal posture in regards to the revenue receipts which finance our governmental operations. This state will not have to ask the federal government to help us manage our financial affairs.

But neither will we readily accept senseless mandates upon our state, such as forced busing, which require bast expenditures of your tax money while our Congress proudly withholds the use of federal funds.

Kentucky was extremely fortunate last fiscal year in its collection of general fund revenues. While many states were suffering financial calamity because of the energy crisis, Kentucky's coal-related industries were reaping unprecedented profits and as a result contributed higher revenues than estimated to Kentucky's tax coffers, building a one time surplus.

Sound fiscal management dicates that these non-recurring dollars be put to work in areas that will not create a continuing cost to the state, that is why I will propose to put these dollars to work in such areas as debt reduction, grant matching programs, local development programs, and major maintenance and replacement of buildings and equipment, the specifics in those areas will be embodied in my budget address.

I come tonight to suggest that it is time we make a new start. While one could claim the completion of two hundred years as a nation requires that we examine our accomplishments and better shape our future, I find even more convincing proof that we must make a new start.

Complex and expensive programs administered by bigger and bigger centralized government have limited personal freedom, taxed our ability to pay and obscured our self-reliance.

Too often govenment fails to look beyond the urgencies of today. So policies are hastily conceived that evade the consequences of tomorrow.

A history of wasted natural and human resources has led to mistrust of government and weakened the public support that is the foundation of our governmental framework.

We have been on a course which appears to commit everything to eveybody.

In years past, we applauded the generous spirit that loosened the lid on the public treasury.

But, despite the relative affluence of our society, abundance has its limits. We must stop somewhere.

It is an insult to our common sense to suggest that better government requires more spending, or that more spending brings better government.

My common sense objects to advancement of false hopes, to rhetoric without reason.

My common sense tells me that we must dedicate our existing resources to provide for the essential needs of our people.

Those who look through the clear lens of common sense can see many of Kentucky's worthwhile goals drowning in a lake of bureaucracy fed by a river of good intentions.

It is time to drain that lake, to make a new start.

I would like to suggest a theme for that new start—common sense for the common good." That theme should be the yardstick by which we measure each bill, each program or each initiative that is proposed.

Like other Americans this bicentennial year, we pause to reflect on our history and look toward tomorrow. It is proper that we do so. Not only does the time suggest it, but past failures demand it.

When we met at the pre-legislative conference several weeks ago, I examined with you the tremendous improvement of the General Assembly over the years and outlined what I believed to be the proper relationship between a Governor and the General Assembly: That is one of responsible cooperation; partners, working together on behalf of the people.

We have an exciting opportunity. If we use our imagination, if we call upon our common sense, we can build for Kentucky a strong foundation that will hold our people prospering well into America's third century.

But make no mistake about it. Our course will not be an easy one. We must be willing to roll up our sleeves and get down to some good old-fashioned hard work.

The answers will not come easily and the results will not please everyone. We must seek solutions which are in the public interest even when those solutions are opposed by a special few.

We must challenge the form and structure of Kentucky's institutions, we must examine every aspect of government that touches the lives of Kentuckians.

No institution is too entrenched. No structure too powerful and no document too sacred to escape the scrutiny required by tomorrow's needs and plain common sense. And that includes Kentucky's consitution.

What is worthwhile we should and will preserve. What is useless or harmful we should and will discard. When improvements are needed we will make them.

As a veteran legislator, after having been Speaker of the House, I thought I really understood state government. After three years as Lieutenant Governor, I was sure I knew Kentucky state government. Now, after one year as Governor and after these recent weeks of in-depth budget review, I have gained insights into the complexity and severity of the governmental process that have exceeded all knowledge that I previously gained in my prior years of public service.

Kentucky state government is no longer a simple government with simple problems and simple solutions. It is a complex institution with its tentacles intertwined in any number of governmental programs and processes.

I will carry out my constitutional mandate and present to this body in the next few weeks a balanced budget with gubernatorial recommendations for appropriations. However, unlike previous gubernatorial budgets I will not contend that all decisions made therein are conclusive and final, but rather I will invite you to work with me on the resolution of a number of these complex issues. Should this process demonstrate that changes need to be made in the budget I have recommended, and that such changes are in the public interest of our citizens, I will welcome changes. Through our partnership, I am convinced we can make even the most difficult and complex decisions in the public interest.

Tonight, I would like to share with you and the people of Kentucky some conclusions I have already made and which will be reflected in my executive budget soon to be presented to the General Assembly for your consideration.

My first year of government has convinced me that the power granted to the Governor by the General Assembly, to appropriate surplus revenue is one of the most destructive policies ever inflicted on the sound management of state government.

There is absolutely no incentive for state agencies to establish clear priorities, or manage their finances in a responsible manner, if they know that, when the money runs out, the Governor can give them more money.

Average citizens cannot arbitrarily increase their take-home pay when the cost of living goes up. And state government should be no different.

A bill has been introduced that will permit the Governor to make surplus appropriations with approval of the Interim Committee on Appropriations and Revenue. If such legislation is passed I will veto it, or any other bill that seeks to delegate or evade the General Assembly's responsibility to appropriate revenue.

Kentucky's constitution gives the General Assembly the power of appropriation, and while I am Governor that is where I propose to keep it.

State government must be managed on a sound fiscal basis. We cannot create debts now that must be paid for by those who follow. The city of New York provides stark evidence of the folly of "buy now—ay later."

In keeping with this philosophy, in my budget I do not intend to use any revenue bonds for capital construction that will require future appropriations to retire principal and interest.

Furthermore, I have requested appropriations for authorized but unsold issues. This will reduce the annual debt retirement sufficient to make the projects self-sustaining without additional appropriations.

I have concluded that federal dollars are not always the blessing they have been perceived as being.

Too often federal programs are discontinued leaving the state with a costly and unwanted bureaucratic structure as well as additional employees we cannot afford.

Budgetary and statutory remedies will be sought to correct past mistakes in this area, and new federal programs will be carefully scrutinized for hidden pitfalls.

I have concluded that services best performed at the local level should be performed at the local level.

I will offer programs rewarding local initiative in community development, health care, public safety and flood control to name a few.

In an effort to control the growth of government, I will oppose across-the-board increases for existing state programs. Each increase must be justified on the basis of public value and effective use of tax dollars.

This rigorous scrutiny of all state programs will force us to make hard choices—ut priorities must and will be established.

I will ask for no new taxes and no tax increases on consumers in Kentucky. I will recommend changes that ease the tax burden on citizens who most need relief.

To govern wisely is to plan carefully. To plan carefully you and I must look ahead to the needs of Kentuckians and the problems likely to be faced by the commonwealth for many years to come.

After evaluating those needs, we must take action, so that when our children's children look back on our time, they will say we responded well to the challenges we faced.

During this past year, I have become convinced that there are four major areas that demand our special attention if we are to meet those challenges. I have already begun preparation so that we can soon initiate an extensive evaluation designed to make our programs and mechanisms fully responsive.

Our goal in each of these areas of public responsibility will not only be to address current problems, but to develop ongoing structures capable of solving new problems as the future reveals them to us.

First, we must direct attention to Kentucky's economy and the related subjects of environment and energy.

Everything we hope to accomplish depends upon Kentucky having the financial resources necessary to meet the needs of our people.

Secondly, we must assess the educational requirements of our citizens and determine how we can most effectively meet them. Hard questions relating to educational financing, curriculum, and state responsibility must be asked—nd answered.

Our budget will recommend immediate and long needed improvements in our elementary, secondary, and vocational educational programs.

But, if we are to preserve even what progress we have achieved in recent years, we must find acceptable, workable, and productive alternatives which will guarantee an equal educational opportunity to all our children, black and white, without resorting to the destructive device of forced busing.

A third subject demanding careful review and wise planning is that of welfare and human needs. An increasing proportion of the output of our economy is being spent in this area. So we must make deliberate choices among rapidly increasing social demands.

The huge amounts of money spent by Kentucky taxpayers to provide assistance, protect life and property, and provide necessary services must not be distributed in a disjointed, fragmented or uncoordinated manner.

A fourth project will review the effectiveness of government as well as the relationships of governments with each other and the people they serve.

The complexities of the modern world have placed increasing pressure on us to re-examine the roles played by federal, state and local governments in providing public services and allocating public resources.

I will have more to say about the purpose and scope of these inquiries in the near future.

To accomplish our goals you and I must draw fully from the deep well of intellect and concern possessed in the minds and hearts of private citizens throughout the commonwealth. I seek their support, their ideas and suggestions, and their service on special commissions, committees and task forces that must help us if we are to find the practical and workable solutions to the many problems which continue to plague us.

The thrust of my program and the goal of my administration is clear. It is to apply the resources of our state and lead the energies and intellect of our people toward building programs and structures capable of responding to short term problems as well as future demands. It is to administer state government efficiently and responsibly. To apply "common sense for the common good."

I seek a time of governmental openness and responsibility, of public enlightenment and involvement in the decisions we must make.

This, then, is our challenge. To lift our eyes to the horizon, to plan wisely and well, to welcome a new American century with the resolve that for our efforts, generations of Kentuckians will share in a more rewarding, prosperous and meaningful life.

Thank you.

HB 24, AN ACT relating to the management and use of investments held by eleemosynary institutions and funds.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. A new section of KRS 273 is created to read as follows:

In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Institution" means an incorporated or unincorporated organization organized and operated exclusively for educational, religious, charitable, or other eleemosynary purposes, or a governmental organization to the extent that it holds funds exclusively for any of these purposes.

(2) "Institutional fund" means a fund held by an institution for its exclusive use, benefit, or purposes, but does not include:

(a) A fund held for an institution by a trustee that is not an institution; or

(b) A fund in which a beneficiary that is not an institution has an interest, other than possible rights that could arise upon violation or failure of the purposes of the fund.

(3) "Endowment fund" means an institutional fund, or any part thereof, not wholly expendable by the institution on a current basis under the terms of the applicable gift instrument.

(4) "Governing board" means the body responsible for the management of an institution or of an institutional fund.

(5) "Historic dollar value" means the aggregate fair value in dollars of:

(a) An endowment fund at the time it became an endowment fund;

(b) Each subsequent donation to the fund at the time it is made; and

(c) Each accumulation made pursuant to a direction in the applicable gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The determination of historic dollar value made in good faith by the institution is conclusive.

(6) "Gift instrument" means a will, deed, grant, conveyance, agreement, memorandum, writing, or other governing document (including the terms of any institutional solicitations from which an institutional fund resulted) under which property is transferred to or held by an institution as an institutional fund.

Section 2. A new section of KRS Chapter 273 is created to read as follows:

The governing board may appropriate for expenditure for the uses and purposes for which an endowment fund is estabilshed so much of the net appreciation, realized and unrealized, in the fair value of the assets or an endowment fund over the historic dollar value of the fund as is prudent under the standard established by Section 6 of this Act. This section does not limit the authority of the governing board to expend funds as permitted under other law, the terms of the applicable gift instrument, or the charter of the institution.

Section 3. A new section of KRS Chapter 273 is created to read as follows:

Section 2 of this Act does not apply if the applicable gift instrument indicates the donor's intention that net appreciation shall not be expended. A restriction upon the expenditure of net appreciation may not be implied from a designation of a gift as an endowment, or from a direction or authorization in the applicable gift instrument to use only "income," "interest," "dividends," or "rents, issues or profits," or "to preserve the principal intact," or a direction which contains other words of similar import. This rule of construction applies to gift instruments executed or in effect before or after the effective date of this Act.

Section 4. A new section of KRS Chapter 273 is created to read as follows:

In addition to an investment otherwise authorized by law or by the applicable gift instrument, and without restriction to investments a fiduciary may make, the governing board, subject to any specific limitations set forth in the applicable gift instrument or in the applicable law other than law relating to investments by a fiduciary, may:

(1) Invest and reinvest an institutional fund in any real or personal property deemed advisable by the governing board, whether or not it produces a current return, including mortages, stocks, bonds, debentures, and other securities of profit or nonprofit corporations, shares in or obligations of associations, partnerships, individuals, and obligations of any government or subdivision or instrumentality thereof;

(2) Retail property contributed by a donor to an institutional fund for as long as the governing board deems advisable;

(3) Include all or any part of an institutional fund in any pooled or common fund maintained by the institution; and

(4) Invest all or any part of an institutional fund in any other pooled or common fund available for investment, including shares or interests in regulated investment companies, mutual funds, common trust funds, investment partnerships, real estate investment trusts, or similar organizations in which funds are co-mingled and investment determinations are made by persons other than the governing board.

Section 5. A new section of KRS Chapter 273 is created to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided by the applicable gift instrument or by applicable law relating to governmental institutions or funds, the governing board may:

(1) Delegate to its committees, officers or employes of the institution or the fund, or agents, including investment counsel, the authority to act in place of the board in investment and reinvestment of institutional funds;

(2) Contract with independent investment advisors, investment counsel or managers, banks, or trust companies, so to act; and

(3) Authorize the payment of compensation for investment advisory or management services.

Section 6. A new section of KRS Chapter 273 is created to read as follows:
In the administration of the powers to appropriate appreciation, to make and retain investments, and to delegate investment management of institutional funds, members of a governing board shall exercise ordinary business care and prudence under the facts and circumstances prevailing at the time of the action or decision. In so doing they shall consider long and short term needs of the institution in carrying out its educational, religious, charitable, or other eleemosynary purposes, its present and anticipated financial requirements, expected total return on its investments, price level trends, and general economic conditions.

Section 7. A new section of KRS Chapter 273 is created to read as follows:
(1) With the written consent of the donor, the governing board may release, in whole or in part, a restriction imposed by the applicable gift instrument on the use or investment of an institutional fund.
(2) If written consent of the donor cannot be obtained by reason of his death, disability, unavailability, or impossibility of identification, the governing board may apply in the name of the institution to the circuit court of the county in which the institution's principal office is located for release of a restriction imposed by the applicable gift instrument on the use or investment of an institutional fund. The Attorney General shall be notified of the application and shall be given an opportunity to be heard. If the court finds that the restriction is obsolete, inappropriate, or impracticable, it may by order release the restriction in whole or in part. A release under this subsection may not change an endowment fund to a fund that is not an endowment fund.
(3) A release under this section may not allow a fund to be used for purposes other than the educational, religious, charitable, or other eleemosynary purposes of the institution affected.
(4) This section does not limit the application of the doctrine of cypres.

Section 8. A new section of KRS Chapter 273 is created to read as follows:
This Act shall be so applied and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law with respect to the subject of this Act among those states which enact it.

Section 9. A new section of KRS Chapter 273 is created to read as follows:
This Act may be cited as the "Uniform Management of Institutional Funds Act."

HB 26, AN ACT relating to business organizations.

The statement of existence shall also contain a statement verifying the correctness of the location and post office address of the corporation's office and the name of its agent designated for the service of process.

(5) The agent for service of process provided for in this section may be either an individual resident of this state, or a corporation authorized to transact business in this state and authorized by its articles or certificate of incorporation to act as such agent. Service of process upon a corporate agent, as such agent, may be had by delivering a copy of the process to the president, a vice president, the secretary, or an assistant secretary of such corporate agent.
(6) Whenever a five-year period has elapsed or shall elapse during which period a domestic or foreign corporation has not filed with the secretary of state either a statement verifying the correctness of the location and post-office address of its registered office and the name of its agent for the service of process or the annual report required by this chapter, the secretary of state shall mail to the corporation at its registered office a notice that if the required statements and/or reports are not filed within six months after the mailing of the notice, the certificate of incorporation will be revoked, if a domestic corporation, or withdrawn, if a foreign corporation. If the required statements and/or reports are not received within six months from the date on which the notice was mailed, the secretary of state shall revoke or withdraw the certificate of incorporation as provided above and mail notice thereof to the corporation at its registered office.

(7) When it appears that upon revocation or dissolution assets remain in the corporation, a member or any citizen may make application to the circuit court of the county in which the registered office of corporation was located for an order making disposition of any remaining property or assets in accordance with the provisions of KRS 273.333(3).

Section 2. KRS 273.177 is amended to read as follows:

The provisions of this subsection shall not affect the right of any corporation existing on June 13, 1968, to continue the use of its name.

(2) The corporate name shall not be the same as, nor deceptively similar to, the name of any other domestic corporation or of any foreign corporation authorized to do business in this state unless [:]

[(a) Such other domestic or foreign corporation is about to change its name, or to cease to do business, or is being wound up, or such foreign corporation is about to withdraw from doing business in this state, and]

[(b) The] the written consent of such other domestic or foreign corporation to the adoption of its name or a deceptively similar name has been given and one or more words are added to make such name distinguishable from such other name [filed in triplicate with the articles of incorporation].

(3) The corporate name shall not contain any word or phrase which indicates or implies that it is organized for any purpose not permitted under KRS 273.161 to 273.390.

(4) The assumption of a name in violation of this section shall not affect or vitiate the corporate existence, but the courts of this state having equity jurisdiction may, upon the application of the state or of any person interested or affected, enjoin such corporation from doing business under a name assumed in violation of this section, although a certificate of incorporation may have been issued.

Section 3. KRS 273.243 is amended to read as follows:

One or more persons may incorporate a corporation by signing and delivering articles of incorporation in triplicate [duplicate] to the Secretary of State.

Section 4. KRS 271A.295 is amended to read as follows:

(a) The board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the proposed amendment and, if shares have been issued, directing that it be submitted to a vote at a meeting of shareholders, which may be either the annual or a special meeting. If no shares have been issued, the amendment shall be adopted by resolution of the board of directors and the provisions for adoption by shareholders shall not apply; [. The resolution may incorporate the proposed amendment in restated articles of incorporation which contain a statement that except for the designated amendment the restated articles of incorporation correctly set forth without change the corresponding provisions of the articles of incorporation as theretofore amended, and that the restated articles of incorporation together with the designated amendment supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto;]

(b) Written notice setting forth the proposed amendment or a summary of the changes to be effected thereby shall be given to each shareholder of record entitled to vote thereon within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of shareholders. If the meeting be an annual meeting, the proposed amendment of such summary may be included in the notice of such annual meeting;

(c) At such meeting a vote of the shareholders entitled to vote thereon shall be taken on the proposed amendment. The proposed amendment shall be adopted upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote thereon, unless any class of shares is entitled to vote thereon as a class, in which event the proposed amendment shall be adopted upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of each class of shares entitled to vote thereon as a class and of the total shares entitled to vote thereon.

(e) If the shares are to be divided into classes, the designation of each class and a statement of the preferences, limitations and relative rights in respect of the shares of each class;

(f) If the corporation is to issue the shares of any preferred or special class in series, then the designation of each series and a statement of the variations in the relative rights and preferences as between series insofar as the same are to be fixed in the articles of incorporation, and a statement of any authority to be vested in the board of directors to establish series and fix and determine the variations in the relative rights and preferences as between series;

(g) If any preemptive right created by KRS 271A.130 is to be limited, denied or enlarged, the provisions therefor;

Rule 1. Hours of Meeting. The House shall meet at times set by the Committee on Committees.

Rule 2. Quorum. A majority of the members elected to the House shall constitute a quorum. If a quorum is not present at the time fixed for a meeting of the House, five members may adjourn or recess from day to day or from time to time and fifteen members may order a call of the House and send for absent members.

Rule 3. Call of the House. Upon a call of the House, the Clerk shall call the roll. Absentees are then only noted, but no excuses shall be made until the full roll is called. The clerk shall then call the absentees again. Excuses will be heard at this time. The doors of the House Chamber shall then be closed and the absentees not excused by the House may be sent for and arrested by the Sergeant-at-Arms and the House shall determine upon what conditions they shall be discharged from arrest. Members who voluntarily appear shall be immediately admitted to the floor of the House and names returned upon the Journal as present unless the House otherwise directs. Excuses for leaves of absence must receive a consent approval of 2/3 of the members elected.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

Rule 4. Order of Business. The order of business shall be as follows:

1. Invocation.
2. Roll Call.
3. Reading and approval of the Journal.
4. Introduction and Reading of New Bills and Resolutions Introduced by Title and Sponsor.
5. Report of Reference of Bills to Committees.
6. Report of Committees.
7. First Reading of Bills.

8. Second Reading of Bills.
9. Motions, Petitions and Communications.
10. Orders of the Day.
11. Announcements.
12. Adjournment.

No more than thirty minutes shall be allotted to Motions, Petitions and Communications.

Rule 5. Unfinished Business. Unfinished business which was being considered upon adjournment shall have precedence in the class of business to which it properly belongs upon the next succeeding legislative day.

MOTIONS

Rule 6. Reading of Motions. When a motion has been made and seconded, it shall be stated by the Speaker, or, being in written form, it shall be read by the Clerk before debate, amendment or motion concerning it shall be in order.

Rule 7. Withdrawal of Motions. Every oral motion after it has been stated by the Speaker, and every written motion, bill, resolution or other paper, after it has been read by the Clerk, shall be the property and in the possession of the House and shall not be withdrawn without consent of the House. Every written motion, report or measure may be committed or recommitted at the pleasure of the House.

Rule 8. Order of Questions. All questions, whether in Committee of the Whole or in the House, when not privileged questions, shall be propounded in the order in which they were moved, except that in filing blanks the smallest sum and the most remote date shall be put first.

Rule 9. Precedence of Motions. When a question is under consideration, no motion shall be in order except:

1. To call the House when there is no quorum present.
2. To fix the time to which the House shall adjourn.
3. To adjourn.
4. To take recess.
5. To lay on the table.
6. For the previous question.
7. To limit or extend limits of debate.
8. To postpone to a fixed time.
9. To lay on the Clerk's Desk.
10. To refer or commit.
11. To amend.
12. To postpone indefinitely.

The above several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged and the first seven of them shall not be debatable.

A second motion to adjourn, to take a recess, to lay on the table, for the previous question, to limit or extend limits of debate, to postpone to a time certain, to lay on the Clerk's desk, to refer or commit or to postpone indefinitely shall not be in order on the same day, upon the same question, and at the same status unless other business intervenes; provided, however, that amendments may be made to the time to which it is proposed to adjourn, to take a recess or to postpone to a fixed time.

Rule 10. Motion to Adjourn. A motion to adjourn, to take a recess, or a motion to adjourn to a time certain, shall always be in order, except when a member is speaking, while a vote is being taken or when the Committee on Committees is reporting; subject, however, to the limitations set out in Rule 9. A motion to adjourn or a motion to adjourn to a time certain shall be taken by roll call vote.

Rule 11. Motion to Table. The adoption of the motion to table, under these rules, defeats the subject matter under consideration. The reconsideration of the motion to table shall require approval of a majority of the members elected.

Rule 12. Previous Question. When the previous question has been ordered, a vote shall be taken immediately upon the pending measure and such pending amendments as are in order. The effect of the previous question shall be to put an end to all debate; to prevent the offering of additional amendments and to bring the House to an immediate vote upon the measure and amendments aforesaid. The previous question may be ordered by a majority of the members elected. On the call of the roll, no member shall be allowed to speak more than three minutes to explain his vote and shall not speak at all if the question is not a debatable question. After the previous question has been ordered, and before the vote upon the main question, the opponents of the measure shall have ten minutes, and proponents of the measure shall have ten minutes.

Rule 13. Motion to Set the Limits on Debate. A motion to set a time limit for debate on a measure, in excess of that permitted under Rule 12, shall be in order unless the previous question shall have been ordered on the measure. The time limit set for debate under this rule shall be allotted by the Speaker evenly between the opponents of the measure and the proponents of the measure. Adoption of a motion under this rule does not prevent the offering of additional amendments.

Rule 14. Motion to Reconsider. A motion to reconsider a vote shall not be in order unless made by a member who voted upon the prevailing side of the question; nor shall such motion be in order unless made within two legislative days in which the House is in session next after the date the vote was taken; however, the motion to reconsider when coupled with the additional motion to lay that motion upon the table may be made by any member.

Rule 15. Motion to Lay on Clerk's Desk. The effect of the adoption of a motion to lay on the Clerk's desk under these rules is to place in charge of the Clerk the pending question and everything adhering to it. A motion laid on the Clerk's desk may be taken from the desk and proceeded with at any time in the same order as when laid on the Clerk's desk.

Rule 16. Motion to Strike Out Enacting Clause. A motion to amend by striking out the enacting words of a bill or resolution shall have precedence over a motion to amend; and, if adopted, shall have the same effect as though the bill or resolution were regularly voted upon and rejected.

Rule 17. Motion to Separate Part of a Measure. A motion to commit, recommit, or postpone a part of a measure so as to separate that part of the measure from the remainder shall not be in order.

Rule 18. Postponement of Measure. When a measure shall have been postponed indefinitely it shall not be in order again during the session.

Rule 19. Reading of Pending Papers. Any pending bill, resolution; motion or report shall be read by the Clerk upon the demand of any member, but it shall not again be read on the same day unless so ordered by the House.

Rule 20. Nominations. In all elections a previous nomination shall be made.

Written request for leave of absence may be obtained from the Clerk of the House and shall be submitted to the Speaker. The request shall state thereon the member's excuse for obtaining the leave. No excuse for leave of absence shall be heard from the floor.

Rule 22. Decorum of Members. No member shall designate another member by name.

Rule 23. Call to Order. If any member, in speech or otherwise, transgress the rules of order or decorum, he shall immediately be called to order by the chair and shall take his seat. The Clerk shall reduce the objectionable words to writing and read them to the House. After hearing a short explanation from the member called to order, or upon the withdrawal of the objectionable language, the Speaker may permit the member to proceed, or may compel silence upon him until the matter is disposed of. The ruling of the chair shall be subject to an appeal to the House. A member offending the House shall be liable to censure.

Rule 24. Debate. No member may speak more than once to the same subject until all members desiring to be heard have spoken, but nothing in this rule shall do away with the previous question if then in effect, nor permit debate on an undebatable motion.

No member shall speak more than thirty minutes in the aggregate on any question or measure, at the end of which period, or any portion thereof, the floor shall be returned to the Speaker.

Rule 25. Members Shall Vote at Seats. A member shall vote only when at his seat or visibly approaching it.

OFFICERS AND EMPLOYES

Rule 26. Duties of Speaker. The Speaker shall take the chair every day precisely at the hour fixed for the meeting of the House and on the appearance of a quorum, shall cause the Journal of the preceding day to be read, unless the reading of the same is dispensed with by the House.

The Speaker shall preserve decorum and order and, in the event of any disorder in the gallery or in the House Chamber, may cause the same to be cleared of any persons creating disturbances or disorders.

All writs, warrants, subpoenas or other processes shall be signed by the officer who may be presiding over the House when the paper is issued; and his signature shall be attested by the Clerk, when ordered by a majority of the members.

If two or more members arise from their respective seats and address the chair, the Speaker shall determine who was first and recognize him.

Any decision made by the Speaker shall be subject to appeal to the House. Every such appeal shall be in writing and signed by at least two members. During the pendency of an appeal to the House from a decision of the chair, the Speaker shall vacate the chair and call the Speaker Pro Tempore to preside. When the Speaker Pro Tempore is presiding on an appeal to the House from a decision of the Chair, no motion or business shall be in order except the motion on appeal from the decision of the Chair, and that motion shall not be debatable.

Rule 28. Speaker Pro Tempore. The House shall elect a Speaker Pro Tempore. The Speaker Pro Tempore shall perform the duties of the Speaker when the Speaker is absent from the House or when empowered by the Speaker to perform the duties of the Chair.

The Commission staff shall proofread and index the Journal upon return from the printer and make necessary typographical corrections.

Rule 31. Custody of Papers. The Clerk shall have custody of all records, papers and bills of the House and shall not allow them to be taken out of her possession without the leave of the House, unless to be delivered to the chairman of a committee to which they have been referred, or to the Legislative Research Commission, as specified in these Rules, and then she shall take a proper receipt therefor. The Majority Floor Leader shall while the Rules Committee is in session call bills and resolutions and shall call the same for consideration by the Rules Committee. A bill or resolution may be placed for consideration in the first order of business at the next regular Rules Committee meeting by a majority of the membership voting for such consideration.

Each member shall be given an opportunity upon request to appear before the Rules Committee when a bill of which he is a sponsor or co-sponsor is under consideration including the subsequent vote thereon. No measure shall be posted in the Orders of the Day for final passage except by order of the Rules Committee unless otherwise ordered posted for the next succeeding legislative day by a majority of the members voting. The Rules Committee shall arrange the Orders of the Day so that all measures shall appear thereon for the consideration of the House, but the Rules Committee may not place in the Orders of the Day any bill or other measure in the possession of a standing or special committee of the House. The Rules Committee, prior to each day's session, shall post a notice in a regular place in the House Chamber listing the bills to be considered that day in the Orders of the Day. Should the House not complete any day's Orders of the Day, the bills and resolutions remaining unconsidered shall go to the top of the Orders of the Day on the next day that Orders of the Day are considered.

The Speaker of the House shall act as Chairman of the Rules Committee. The Majority Floor Leader of the House shall act for the Rules Committee in calling from the Orders of the Day any bills or resolutions in the order he deems proper and shall be recognized by the Speaker for said purpose during all times that the Rules Committee is in charge of posting the Orders of the Day. The Speaker Pro Tempore shall act as chairman in the absence of the Speaker.

Rule 42. Enrollment Committee. The Committee on Committees shall appoint an Enrollment Committee of not more than seven members. The Enrollment Committee shall be responsible for the engrossment and enrollment of bills and resolutions under the Rules of this House.

Rule 43. Committee on Conference. When a House bill has been amended in the Senate and the House refuses to concur in said amendment, or when a Senate bill has been amended in the House and the Senate refuses to concur in said amendment and when neither will recede from such action, the Committee on Committees shall appoint a Committee on Conference to meet a like committee from the Senate. The Committee on Conference shall confer with the Senate Committee and report back to the House within a reasonable time, in the same manner as reports are made for House bills, provided that the amendment as agreed upon shall pertain to the same subject matter as the original bill referred to the Committee on Conference. The conference report shall be voted upon, and, if adopted the bill shall immediately be put upon its final passage.

Rule 44. Meetings of Committees. No committee except the Committee on Committees, the Committee on Enrollment and a Committee on Conference between the House and the Senate shall sit while the House is in session, unless by consent of the House. The Committee on Committees and Committee on Enrollment may report at any time except during roll call or while a vote is being taken.

The Committee on Committees, in conference with committee chairmen, shall schedule a definite time and place for the regular weekly meetings of each committee, such schedule to be posted in the House Chamber and published in the Legislative Record. A committee shall meet at the regular weekly scheduled time and place so long as business is pending before the committee. Nothing herein shall prevent the Chairman or a majority of any committee from calling a special meeting in addition to those regularly scheduled.

The Chairman shall keep a record of the attendance of members at meetings, which record shall be filed with the Clerk.

The Director of the Legislative Research Commission, under the direction of the Committee on Committees, shall assign a secretary to each committee and provide any professional, clerical or other employes required by any committee.

The Committee on Committees shall meet on call of the Speaker or on call of a majority of the members of the Committee on Committees.

Rule 45. Committee Reports. No bill or resolution shall be considered by the House except on report of committee. Upon the call of standing committees, the Clerk or the Chairman or ranking member of the committee may report the bill in the following manner:

"With the expression of opinion that the same should pass," or

"With the expression of opinion that the same should pass, with the committee amendment attached thereto," or

"With the expression of opinion that the same should pass, with the committee substitute attached thereto," or

"With the expression of opinion that the same should not pass."

Rule 46. Majority and Minority Reports. It shall require a majority of the committee membership to report a bill. Those members of the committee voting to report a bill must sign the committee report and the committee report shall only be signed in the committee room and while the committee is in session.

A committee report may be accompanied by a minority report, signed by those members who have dissented from the committee's report, and it shall be in order to move the adoption of the minority report as a substitute for the committee's report when the committee offers its report. It shall require a majority of the members elected to adopt the minority report. The Committee's report shall always be read before the minority report is read.

Rule 47. Failure to Report. Whenever a committee fails or refuses to report within a reasonable time a bill submitted to it, any member may by filing with the Clerk a written request signed by twenty-five or more members, call the same up for consideration on the next succeeding legislative day after the filing of said request. If a majority of the members elected to the House concur therein, the bill shall be considered as though it had been regularly reported.

Rule 48. Procedure in Committee. The rules of procedure in the House shall be observed in committee insofar as the same are applicable. The committee chairman, or the committee by majority vote in a regularly called meeting, shall post at least three calendar days prior to their consideration the bills and resolutions to be considered by the committee at its next meeting provided that no bill or resolution shall be posted by the chairman or the committee by a majority vote unless and until a request for posting form has been filed with the committee chairman or secretary and approved as containing satisfactory information by the committee chairman. No measures shall be considered except those posted. A list of the measures to be considered shall be filed with the Clerk at least three calendar days prior to the meeting.

BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

Rule 49. Form of Bills. All bills introduced shall be typewritten on the Automated Legal Text Entry and Revision System of the Legislative Research Commission, and none otherwise prepared shall be accepted for introduction. Bills shall be offered as one original and three distinctly legible copies. Identical bills for introduction in the other chamber may be exact reproductions of original bill provided one copy is authenticated by the Director of the Legislative Research Commission as the original to be introduced in the other chamber. The original shall be the official bill, and shall be retained by the Clerk for the use of the House until engrossed and sent to the Senate. One copy shall be used by committees; one copy shall be for the use of the press and shall be given to a person designated by the press club; and one copy shall be given to the Legislative Research Commission. Each copy shall be backed with a protective cover, as provided for this purpose by the Legislative Research Commission. The title of the bill, or a portion thereof, and the signature of the member introducing the bill shall be placed on each cover.

In all bills, as introduced and as printed, which seek to amend existing sections of the Kentucky Revised Statutes, any new matter contained therein shall be underscored; and when an amendment proposes the omission or elimination of matter in an existing law, such omission or elimination shall be indicated on the typewritten bill and on the printed bill by placing the material proposed to be eliminated in brackets. The Clerk shall refer to the Legislative Research Commission any bills offered for introduction not conforming with the Automated Legal Text Entry and Revision System method or preparation, or with this format for revision as to form. The Enrolling Clerk in enrolling a bill which contains deleted material appearing in brackets shall strike over such deleted matter.

Rule 50. Introduction of Bills. Bills and resolutions may be introduced by filing them in the Clerk's office at any time that her office is open. Bills and resolutions introduced by filing them in the Clerk's office after the House has concluded Item 4, in Rule 4, Order of Business, shall be considered as having been introduced the next succeeding legislative day. The Clerk shall number bills in the order received, record their introduction, and transmit a copy immediately to the Committee on Committees for reference to committee. No bill or resolution having the force of law, shall be introduced during the last ten (10) legislative days of the session. The last two legislative days shall be reserved by the House exclusively for the business of concurring in amended House bills.

Rule 51. Fiscal Note Required. A sponsor of a measure may at any time prior to the filing of a request for posting form require a fiscal analysis to be made by the Legislative Research Commission upon the same and a fiscal note attached thereto.

The chairman of the committee to which the measure has been referred may, at any time after a request for posting form is filed with the committee by the sponsor, determine that a fiscal analysis is required on any measure not carrying a fiscal note. The chairman upon such determination shall cause a fiscal analysis to be made by the Legislative Research Commission and a fiscal note attached prior to posting the measure for consideration.

After posting the measure a majority of the committee may determine that a fiscal analysis is required on any measure not already carrying a fiscal note and shall direct the same to be accomplished and fiscal note attached with all dispatch. A committee may consider any measure on the date for which it is posted even if it is determined by the committee on that date that a fiscal analysis is required, however, no final action shall be taken by the committee upon said measure until a fiscal note is presented to the committee and attached to the measure.

Any member proposing to amend from the floor a bill or resolution which carries a fiscal note or if the proposed amendment itself carries a fiscal implication, the member proposing the amendment shall cause a fiscal analysis of the amendment to be made and a fiscal note attached to the proposed amendment at the time of introduction. In the event an amendment is introduced without a fiscal note, any member may raise the question of fiscal implication to the amendment by a motion and by majority vote require a fiscal analysis to be made and a fiscal note attached to the amendment. If a fiscal analysis and note is required by the membership, action on the bill or resolution to be amended along with the proposed amendment shall be passed over in the Orders of the Day but retained in the Orders of the Day. A fiscal note required by the membership shall be filed and attached to the amendment prior to the convening of the session of the next legislative day. In the event it is impossible to complete the analysis and prepare a fiscal note before the convening of the session on the next legislative day, the Director of the Legislative Research Commission shall so advise the membership by letter and state a time in which the same can be completed and filed with the House.

If the Director of the Legislative Research Commission certifies that the fiscal note cannot be completed within the prescribed time, the amendment shall not be in order unless the members, by majority vote, determine either: (1) act on the amendment and the bill or resolution without the benefit of the fiscal note, or to (2) pass over the bill or resolution in the Orders of the Day and allow it to be retained in the Orders of the Day until the fiscal note is filed.

Rule 52. Reference of Bills. The Committee on Committees shall refer all bills to the proper standing committee not later than the second day in which the House is in session after the date of introduction. When a House bill has been amended in the Senate and has been returned to the House for concurrence in the amendment, it may be referred to a committee in the same manner as original bills are referred. Bills originating in and passed by the Senate when reported to the House shall be referred to the Committee on Committees and shall take the same course as other bills.

Rule 53. Printing of Bills. Upon receipt of a bill, the Legislative Research Commission shall examine the form of the bill to ensure that it is free from errors of form or typography and has been assigned the proper KRS section or chapter numbers. If a formal change is necessary the Commission shall request the sponsor of the bill to sign a form approving the specified changes. If a bill is found to be correct, or corrections have been approved, the Commission shall authorize its printing.

The Legislative Research Commission shall have printed at least two hundred copies of each bill or resolution carrying the force and effect of law introduced in the House and of each bill or resolution carrying the force and effect of law acted on by the Senate and reported to the House. Bills shall be printed in the order in which they are introduced and shall be distributed to members immediately upon receipt from the printer.

Rule 54. Readings of Bills. If a bill be reported with the expression of opinion that it should not pass a vote may then be taken on whether it shall be read at length and be placed on the Calendar, if a majority of the members elected to the House shall concur therein. When reported favorably by the committee, the bill shall then be given its first reading at length and shall be placed by the Clerk upon the Calendar to be kept by him, and shall then be entitled to its second reading the next succeeding legislative day.

Every bill shall be read at length on three different legislative days; but the second and third readings thereof at length may be dispensed with by a majority of all the members elected to the House and the bill read by its title.

Rule 55. Calendar; Consent Calendar. (1) In order to reduce the time required for final passage of bills posted in the Orders of the Day, a consent procedure for the consideration of uncontested bills shall be established and designated as follows:

(a) The Clerk shall keep a Regular Calendar and a Consent Calendar for each legislative day showing the bills receiving their second reading.

(b) The Clerk shall also keep a Regular Orders and a Consent Orders showing bills posted for final passage by the Rules Committee.

(2) Bills reported by a Standing Committee with a regular "should pass" or "should pass with committee amendment/substitute attached" recommendation shall be shown in the Regular Calendar on the day on which they are entitled to a second reading.

(3) A Standing Committee may at the time of favorably reporting any House or Senate Bill, recommend that it be placed in the Consent Calendar provided:

(a) The primary sponsor has so requested when it is a House Bill, and

(b) The bill receives a "should pass" or "should pass with committee amendment/substitute attached" recommendation from such committee by a unanimous vote of the members present.

Any House or Senate Bill thus reported shall be first placed in the Consent Calendar on the day on which it is entitled to a second reading and shall continue to be shown in said Calendar until taken therefrom by the Rules Committee and posted in the Consent Orders. Bills receiving a second reading should be so designated to distinguish them from bills which have already received their second reading.

(4) A certificate shall be attached to each bill recommended for the Consent Calendar showing the request of the sponsor of any House Bill, and the unanimous recommendation of the members present signed by the Chairman.

(5) After a sufficient number of bills have accumulated in the Consent Calendar, the Rules Committee may post any or all of said bills to the Consent Orders for a day certain. On that day certain the Consent Orders shall be called before the Regular Orders.

(6) Upon the call of the Consent Orders each bill in said Orders shall be given a third reading by title only. The Speaker shall then allow a reasonable time for questions from the floor and any explanation necessary by the sponsor or committee chairman. Consent Order bills may not be amended from the floor.

(7) The Clerk shall attach a roll call to each bill in the Consent Calendar and any member may at any time prior to passage of the Consent Orders record with the Clerk his "nay" or "pass" vote on any bill within the Consent Calendar or Consent Orders.

(8) The vote on the Consent Orders shall be taken by use of the Electrical Voting System.

(9) Upon the written petition of any five members objecting to the placement or retention of any bill in the Consent Calendar or Consent Orders, such bill shall cease to be so considered and shall be placed in the Regular Calendar or Regular Orders as provided in these rules.

Rule 56. Orders of the Day. When a bill has had its second reading it shall be placed in the Orders of the Day, or be recommitted, and when next reached in the House it shall be ready for recommitment, or to be read a third time and placed upon its passage, and the Speaker shall so announce to the House.

A bill may be recommitted or amended in accordance with these rules at any time before its passage. Bills shall be placed in the Orders of the Day in the order in which they have been given their second reading, and shall be taken therefrom in accordance with Rule 41. When a House bill is in the Orders of the Day, it shall be in order on motion of the author to substitute for it an identical Senate bill which is in the Calendar of the House.

No bill shall be taken from the Orders of the Day unless it shall have been printed and previously distributed to members.

Rule 57. Final Passage. When a House bill has been amended in the Senate and the House has concurred in the amendment, the bill as amended shall immediately be placed upon its passage.

Rule 58. Amendments to Bills. All amendments offered shall be on sheets with a proper heading printed in black, furnished by the Clerk, and shall bear the signature of the members offering the same. All amendments shall give the proper page and line of the printed bill. Three copies of each amendment shall be introduced and the Clerk shall forward one copy to the Legislative Research Commission. No amendment shall be in order that is not germane to the matter under consideration and unless it shall have been printed and previously distributed by the Clerk to members at least one legislative day prior to consideration of the bill or resolution and unless it complies with Rule 51 relative to Fiscal Analysis; and the Speaker, when the question is raised, shall rule as to the admissibility of the proposed amendment, subject to appear to the House.

Rule 59. Engrossment of Bills. Every House bill and joint resolution, together with the amendments thereto, which has been passed by the House and not subject to further amendment or motion, shall be engrossed by the Clerk and so certified by him endorsing thereon the day of passage or adoption. The bill shall be delivered to the Senate in open session by the Clerk or someone designated by him, and Senate concurrence asked therein. A like procedure shall be observed toward Senate bills.

When engrossing a bill, the Clerk may incorporate amendments by means of typing only. When an amendment strikes out any part of the original it shall be indicated in the engrossed copy by one parallel line over the part to be stricken out, in such a way as not to render illegible the original words.

Rule 60. Enrollment of Bills. All House bills and resolutions which have passed both the Senate and the House shall be delivered by the House Clerk to the Enrolling Clerk, taking a receipt therefor, in the order in which passed. The House Clerk shall keep the number and title of all bills and joint and concurrent resolutions carrying the force and effect of law, passed by the House of Representatives and the Senate in a suitable record book attesting the fact and date of passage.

In the event a bill which originates in the House is amended by the Senate and the House concurs in the amendments proposed and adopted by the Senate, the Clerk of the House shall engross said amendments in the original copy of the House bill, attesting the same, before delivering the bill to the Enrolling Clerk of the House. The Enrolling Clerk shall then cause the original bill as attested by the Chief Clerk and the safety copy of the bill as delivered from the Senate to conform to each other by typing in indelible typewriter ink or by writing in red ink the amendments engrossed in the original bill in the safety copy. In cases of extreme emergency and during the last three days prior to sine die adjournment, where no correct printed copy is available, the Enrolling Clerk may enroll such bill or resolution by typing the same on safety paper or by enrolling the same in long-hand.

The original bill or resolution and a printed copy upon safety paper in the exact form as finally passed shall be certified to by the Enrolling Clerk and delivered to the Committee on Enrollment. The Committee on Enrollment and the Enrolling Clerk shall jointly compare the original bill with the enrolled copy, and if the enrollment is ascertained to be correctly done, the Committee shall report the same to the House. If any bill or resolution is found not correctly enrolled, it shall be returned to the Enrolling Clerk to be properly enrolled and delivered to the Committee on Enrollment as is first provided herein.

Rule 61. Signing of Bills. The Enrolling Clerk of the House shall deliver the original and enrolled copies of House bills and resolutions signed by the Speaker to the Chairman of the Enrollment Committee of the Senate for presentation to the President of the Senate for his signature. When signed by the President of the Senate, the enrolled bill or resolution and the original copy thereof shall be returned by the Enrolling Clerk to the Clerk of the House who shall present the enrolled bill or resolution to the Governor for his approval and take his receipt for same.

Rule 62. Resolutions. Resolutions having the force and effect of law shall be treated and considered as bills in all respects under these rules. However, simple resolutions expressing the will of the House and all resolutions recommending a study by an interim committee may be considered for adoption after receiving a recommendation from a standing committee and being posted for passage by the Rules Committee. All resolutions recommending a study by an interim committee shall include an approximate cost of the proposed study.

Rule 63. Legislative Citations. For the purpose of extending the commendations, condolences or congratulations of the General Assembly to a particular person, or to recognize a particular event or occasion, there may be issued a "Legislative Citation." Citations may not be used for procedural matters, matters of a controversial or partisan political nature, nor in place of resolutions memorializing the U.S. Congress, but only when appropriate to express the feeling of the House or of the General Assembly with reference to a person or event.

Each such citation shall be prepared in single copy on an artistically designed form, suitable for framing, shall bear the signature of the sponsor and the name of the person or event cited, and upon adoption shall be spread at length upon the Journal. Citations shall be considered in the order of business "Motions, Petitions and Communications," and without objection shall be adopted en bloc after reading individually by title. Citations shall be offered for consideration through presentation to the Clerk.

A resolution shall not be accepted for introduction if offered in lieu of a Legislative Citation.

VOTING

Rule 64. Roll Call. Any member, with a second, may demand a roll call on any matter pending before the House. The names of members shall be arranged alphabetically when taking a yea and nay vote.

Any time these rules require a roll-call vote, or a yea and a nay vote of the members, such vote may be taken by either a voice roll call or the electrical voting system, as ordered by the Speaker.

The Speaker, before each roll-call vote is taken, shall instruct the Clerk to sound the warning chimes installed in that part of the Capitol assigned to the use of the House. No roll-call vote shall be started until two minutes after the warning chimes have been sounded.

Rule 65. Electrical Voting System. When the House is ready to vote upon any question requiring a roll call, and the vote is to be taken by the electrical roll call system, the Speaker shall announce:

"The question is on the passage of (designating the matter to be voted upon). All in favor of such question shall vote(yea,' and all opposed shall vote)nay.' The House roll is now open for voting."

The Speaker shall recognize any member who rises for the purpose of explaining his vote. No member shall be allowed to speak more than three minutes to explain his vote, and shall not speak at all if the question is not a debatable question.

When sufficient time has been allowed the members to vote and to explain their vote, the Speaker shall announce: "Have all voted?" "Does anyone desire to change his vote?" And after sufficient pause shall lock the roll call system and instruct the clerk to record the vote. It shall be the responsibility of each member to determine the accuracy of his individual vote as registered opposite his name on the electrical roll call board and advise the Speaker of any desired change before the roll call system is locked.

The clerk shall immediately start the recording equipment, and when completely recorded, shall present the result to the Speaker who shall announce same to the House. The Clerk shall enter upon the Journal the result in the manner provided by the rules of the House.

At the same time the vote is recorded by the electric recording equipment an original and five duplicate roll call sheets shall be made showing the vote, two of which duplicates shall be for use of the press, and one copy shall be furnished to the Legislative Research Commission.

Rule 66. Voting for Others Prohibited. No member shall vote for another member, nor shall any person not a member cast a vote for a member. In addition to such penalties as may be prescribed by law, any member who shall vote or attempt to vote for another member may be punished in such manner as the House may determine. If a person not a member shall vote or attempt to vote for any member he shall be barred from the floor of the House for the remainder of the session and may be further punished in such manner as the House may deem proper, in addition to such punishment as may be prescribed by law.

Rule 67. Pairing. All pairs announced in the House shall be entered on the Journal.

Rule 68. Adjournment Extended During Roll Call. When the roll is being called in taking a yea and nay vote, and the hour of an adjournment arrives, the same shall stand extended until after said yea and nay vote has been completed and the result announced.

Any authorized health insurer may issue such insurance.

(2) An individual hospital or medical expense insurance policy or hospital or medical service plan contract delivered or issued for delivery in this state more than 120 days after June 13, 1968, which provides that coverage of a dependent child shall terminate upon attainment of the limiting age for dependent children specified in the policy or contract shall also provide in substance that attainment of such limiting age shall not operate to terminate the coverage of such child while the child is and continues to be both (a) incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of mental retardation or physical handicap and (b) chiefly dependent upon the policyholder or subscriber for support and maintenance, provided proof of such incapacity and dependency is furnished to the insurer or corporation by the policyholder or subscriber within thirty-one (31) days of the child's attainment of the limiting age and subsequently as may be required by the insurer or corporation but not more frequently than annually after the two (2) year period following the child's attainment of the limiting age.

(2) If the commissioner of banking and securities determines that it is expedient and desirable to permit the proposed corporation to engage in business, he shall approve the articles of incorporation in writing, and the articles then may be filed and recorded as provided in the general corporation law.

The commencement of proceedings under this section does not, unless specifically ordered by the court, operate as a stay of the commissioner's order. An appeal may be taken from the judgment of the

(2) Any license fee or tax imposed by such a city upon any fire insurance company shall be based upon a percentage of the premiums received by the company within the preceding calendar year, for insurance on property located within the corporate limits of the city, less all premiums returned to policyholders. MADAME PRESIDENT
MR. SPEAKER
COLLEAGUES IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY
MY FELLOW KENTUCKIANS

We are indeed fortunate this afternoon to be able to convene in these historic chambers, commemorating the American Bicentennial and honoring the legislative heritage of Kentucky. In all our Commonwealth, there is no more appropriate place than this handsomely restored statehouse for the purpose for which we are met.

The authenticity of our surroundings reminds us that Kentuckians have long fostered a firm belief in a government of laws. As evidence, it can be truthfully claimed that the first laws governing Kentucky were enacted prior to America's Declaration of Independence.

On May 24, 1775, fourteen months prior to July 4, 1776 and only 35 days after the first shots of the revolutionary war at Lexington, Massachusetts, Kentucky's first law-making body met. Under a giant elm, near Ft. Boonesborough, eighteen men, representing Harrodstown, Boiling Spring, St. Asaph and Ft. Boonesborough enacted nine laws setting up a government for the colony. Daniel Boone was there, as was Squire Boone, James Harrod and Richard Calloway.

In 1792, nine years after the end of the Revolutionary War, Kentucky became the fifteenth state to join the union. Isaac Shelby was the overwhelming choice for governor. The first session of the General Assembly lasted twelve days. Its members received a dollar and a half per day. The Senate's first speaker was Alexander Scott Bullitt. Robert Breckinridge became the first speaker of the House.

As Kentucky's first General Assembly convened, the cornerstone of the new nation's capitol was being laid. Thomas Jefferson, the principal architect of the Declaration of Independence was organizing the Democratic Party.

In 1830, this magnificant capitol welcomed the nineteenth session of the Kentucky General Assembly. For more than three quarters of a century, legislators debated, appealed, compromised and enacted laws for the Commonwealth.

On January 30, 1900, as he came to contest the Governor's election, Senator Goebel was felled by an assassin. The tree which caught his bullet still stands on these grounds.

When the fifty-ninth session of the General Assembly met in 1910, the new state capitol was being completed. Governor Augustus Willson occupied the second floor of the capitol in an office not much larger than a closet.

In this Bicentennial year, you are the members of the ninety-first session of the Kentucky General Assembly. You carry forward a tradition that predates the Commonwealth itself. You share the same spirit which moved pioneers like Daniel Boone to enact laws for the common good.

Kentucky's splendid legislative history grants us a hold on our relationship to the past. It grants a sense of continuity to our present agenda. It confers a feeling of unity of spirit and of purpose on us.

The record of the General Assembly, as a part of Kentucky's history contributes more than mere guidance for our present, however. In truth, it is the creator of our future.

We are heirs to the ideals and principles held by our forebearers.

For me, one principle overshadows all others, on our present course, we could have no surer guide than that virtue which guided the pioneers and the patriots.

If we, in Kentucky, shall find who we are and where we shall go, it will be through a course of common sense.

It has been noted that three kinds of sense exist: physical, common and non. The first, physical sense, each of us uses every minute of every day. The third kind, nonsense, is something reserved for babies, comedians and young folks in spring. But the second kind, common sense is an all but forgotten link to our past.

Common sense was the main virtue of colonial America and frontier Kentucky. When patriot Tom Paine wanted to rally his fellow citizens, he appealed to their common sense. That original American, Ben Franklin, made quite a name for himself with his reading public through the common sense of Poor Richard's Almanack.

But somewhere along America's road to democracy, the one virtue which sustained a revolution and nurtured the republic—his one virtue was left behind. By the mid-point of the twentieth century, common sense was nowhere to be seen, and hardly common at all.

In Kentucky, we have renewed our acquaintance with common sense. Despite pressures to go on without it, we have reached back into the legacy of our past, bringing common sense into the daily operations of Kentucky government. Let us resolve never to let it fall by the wayside again.

Within forty-eight hours, I shall once again request the opportunity to personally appear before a joint session of this ninety-first General Assembly. I shall present to you on Wednesday evening the proposed executive budget for the biennium.

Common sense will be the trademark of my budget proposal. It will contain the specifics for wisely spending the people's monies as they expect and deserve. As I again solicit your full examination of and recommendations on this fiscal agenda, I counsel you to do so with the same common sense in which it has been drawn.

Let us resolve that "common sense for the common good" will become the environment in which we work and that it too will be the one virtue for which we shall be remembered by future generations.

Join with me in building a better future on the firm, yet visible foundations of our heritage.

In the unfinished story of mankind, we have the exciting challenge to write a new, brighter chapter.

The citizens of Kentucky honor you, their representatives. I salute you, my colleagues and my partner.

Our trust is surely justified. You have a just claim to our confidence and to our support. For we, like you believe that man is indeed the rational, moral creation of God, capable of self-control for the larger good, that Kentuckians in all ages have believed him to be.

Report of Committees

The Committee on Appropriations and Revenue reported HB 4, with Committee Amendment attached thereto, with the expression of opinion that the same should pass. Read at length for the first time and ordered placed in the Calendar.

HB 4, AN ACT relating to the funding of the public schools.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. A new section of KRS Chapter 157A is created to read as follows:

It is the intention of the General Assembly in adopting this Act to encourage local supplement of the funds distributed from the public common school foundation program fund by providing districts with substantially equal power to generate funds for this purpose through a program of district power equalization.

Section 2. A new section of KRS Chapter 157A is created to read as follows:

(1) There is hereby established a public common school district power equalization program fund consisting of appropriations for distribution to districts in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(2) The resources of the public common school district power equalization program fund shall be paid into the state treasury, and shall be drawn out or appropriated only in aid of public schools as provided by statute.

Section 3. A new section of KRS Chapter 157A is created to read as follows:

On or before January 1 of each year, the Department of Revenue shall determine the equalized fair cash value, as of the previous January 1, of all property subject to taxation for school purposes in each district, and shall certify such information to the superintendent of public instruction for use in determining the amount of state power equalization support for each district.

Section 4. A new section of KRS Chapter 157A is created to read as follows:

(1) The superintendent of public instruction shall calculate the amount of state power equalization support for each district in the following manner:

(a) Determine the equalized fair cash value of property per pupil in each district by dividing the district's equalized fair cash value of property by its average daily attendance.

(b) Determine the current maximum local discretionary revenue yield per pupil in each district by multiplying the district's equalized fair cash value of property per pupil by the district's total school tax rate, less the rate required by KRS 157A.100 for local effort, and less any special voted building fund tax rate and any sinking fund tax rate.

(c) Determine the guaranteed local discretionary revenue yield per pupil in each district by multiplying the equalized fair cash value of property per pupil of the county district with the highest fair cash value of property per pupil in the state by each district's total school tax rate, less the rate required by KRS 157A.100 for local effort, and less any special voted building fund tax rate and any sinking fund tax rate.

(d) Multiply the difference between each district's current maximum local discretionary revenue yield per pupil (as determined in subparagraph (b) of this section) and its guaranteed local discretionary revenue yield per pupil (as determined in subparagraph (c) of this section) by its average daily attendance. The result shall be the amount of state power equalization support for each district.

(2) Equalized fair cash value of property, school tax rates, and average daily attendance as used in this section shall be the prior year's equalized fair cash value of property, school tax rates and average daily attendance.

Section 5. A new section of KRS Chapter 157A is created to read as follows:

(1) If, when the amount of state power equalization support for each district has been calculated, it is found that the funds appropriated for the district power equalization program are insufficient to provide the amount of support, the superintendent of public instruction shall determine the maximum tax rate which the available fund will support, and the superintendent will fix that rate as the maximum rate to be supported by the district power equalization program. The rate to be supported by the district power equalization program shall always be an identical rate for all districts.

(2) The tax rate supported by the district power equalization program shall at no time exceed twenty cents (20¢).

Section 6. A new section of KRS Chapter 157A is created to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any statutory provisions to the contrary, the board of education of any district in any year in which the total school tax rate, less the rate required by KRS 157A.100 for local effort, and less any special voted building fund tax rate and any sinking fund tax rate, is less than the maximum rate supported by the district power equalization program as provided for in Sections 4 and 6 of this Act, may request the local tax levying authority to increase the rate in any amount not to exceed the maximum rate supported by the district power equalization program after compliance with the following:

(a) The district board of education shall give notice of the proposed request for a rate increase. Notwithstanding any statutory provisions to the contrary, notice shall be given by causing to be published at least one (1) time in a newspaper of general circulation in the district, or in any other good faith manner if there is no such newspaper, the fact that such request is being proposed. Such advertisement shall state that the district board of education will meet at a place and on a date fixed in the advertisement, not earlier than one (1) week and not later than two (2) weeks from the date of the advertisement, for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed increase and explaining the reasons for such proposal.

(b) The district board of education shall conduct a public hearing at the place and on the date advertised for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed tax rate increase and explaining the reasons for the proposal.

(2) The local tax levying authority shall levy the rate requested by the district board of education subject to the limitations imposed by this Act. All rate increases levied as a result of the provisions of this Act shall be effective July 1 following the action by the tax levying authority. The rate shall be levied from year to year until the district board of education requests a change in the rate. If the change requested is a reduction in the rate, the tax levying authority shall reduce the rate, and the advertisement and public hearing requirements of this Act shall not apply.

Section 7. A new section of KRS Chapter 157A is created to read as follows:

For each school year the Department of Finance, on the certification of the superintendent of public instruction, shall draw warrants as specified hereinafter on the state treasurer for the amount of the state power equalization support due each district. Checks shall be issued by the state treasurer and transmitted to the Department of Education for distribution to the proper officials of the several districts when the districts have fully complied with the school laws and rules and regulations of the state board of education. The superintendent of public instruction shall determine on or before April 1 of each year the tentative allotment of school funds to which each district is entitled under the provisions of this Act. Beginning August 1 of each year and on the first of each month thereafter for seven (7) successive months, one-twelfth (1/12) of each district's share of the state power equalization support shall be distributed. On or before March 1 of each year, the superintendent of public instruction shall determine the exact amount of the state power equalization support to which each district is entitled and the remainder of the amount due each district for the year shall be distributed in four (4) equal installments beginning March 15 and for three (3) successive months thereafter.

Section 8. A new section of KRS Chapter 157A is created to read as follows:

(1) No district shall be eligible for the state power equalization support provided for in this Act during any fiscal year in which the district board of education specifies in its budget for that fiscal year a total school tax rate, less the rate required by KRS 157A.100 for local effort, and less any special voted building fund tax rate and any sinking fund tax rate, which would produce less revenue than was produced by the application of that district's total school tax rate for fiscal year 1975-76, less the rate required by KRS 157.380 for local tax effort for fiscal year 1975-76, and less any special voted building fund tax rate and any sinking fund tax rate for fiscal year 1975-76, to that district's 1975 assessment specified under KRS 160.460(3).

(2) Not later than July 1 of each year, the superintendent of public instruction shall calculate for each district the amount of revenue that the district's proposed total school tax rate, less the rate required by KRS 157A.100 for local effort, and less any special voted building fund tax rate and any sinking fund tax rate, would produce when applied to the district's current assessment specified under KRS 160.460(3). The superintendent of public instruction shall compare the revenue so calculated, with the revenue produced by the application of each district's total school tax rate for fiscal year 1975-76, less the rate required by KRS 157.380 for local tax effort for fiscal year 1975-76, and less any special voted building fund tax rate and any sinking fund tax rate for fiscal year 1975-76, to the district's 1975 assessment specified under KRS 160.460(3).

(3) The superintendent of public instruction shall not certify to the Executive Department for Finance and Administration for payment of the state power equalization support for any fiscal year a school district which has become ineligible for such support as provided in subsection (1) above.

Section 9. KRS 132.020 is amended to read as follows:

(1) An annual ad valorem tax for state purposes of thirty-one and one-half cents (31-1/2¢) [one and one-half cents (1 1/2¢)] upon each one hundred dollars ($100) of value of all real property directed to be assessed for taxation, and one and one-half cents (1 1/2¢) upon each one hundred dollars ($100) of value of all tobacco directed to be assessed for taxation, and twenty-five cents (25¢) upon each one hundred dollars ($100) of value of all money in hand, shares of stock, notes, bonds, accounts and other credits, whether secured by mortgage, pledge or otherwise, or unsecured, except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) of this section, and one and one-half cents (1 1/2¢) upon each one hundred dollars ($100) of value of unmanufactured agricultural products, one-tenth of one cent ($.001) upon each one hundred dollars ($100) of value of all farm implements and farm machinery owned by a person actually engaged in farming and used in his farm operations, one-tenth of one cent ($.001) upon each one hundred dollars ($100) of value of all livestock and domestic fowls, fifteen cents (15¢) upon machinery and products in course of manufacture, of individuals or corporations actually engaged in manufacturing, and their raw material actually on hand at their plant for the purpose of manufacture, fifteen cents (15¢) upon commercial radio, television and telephonic equipment directly used or associated with electronic equipment which broadcasts electronic signals to an antenna, fifteen cents (15¢) upon property which has been certified as a pollution control facility as defined in KRS 224.850, and forty-five cents (45¢) [fifteen cents (15¢)] upon each one hundred dollars ($100) of value of all other property directed to be assessed for taxation shall be paid by the owner or person assessed except as provided in subsection (2) of this section and KRS 132.030, 132.050, 132.200, 136.270, 136.300, 136.320 and other sections providing a different tax rate for particular property.

(4) With respect to the intangible properties taxed pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, no other ad valorem tax shall be levied by the state or any county, city, school or other taxing district on such intangible properties, or directly or indirectly against the owner with respect thereto.

Section 10. KRS 136.270 is amended to read as follows:

Section 17. KRS 160.470 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Each district board of education shall prepare a general school budget on forms prescribed and furnished by the state board of education, showing the amount of money needed for current expenses, debt service, capital outlay, and other necessary expenses of the schools during the succeeding fiscal year, the estimated total amount that will be received from the common school fund and other sources, the assessed valuation of property subject to local taxation in the school district furnished as provided in subsection (3) of KRS 160.460, an estimate made by the department of revenue of public service company assessments and assessments of other property in the school district not furnished under the provisions of subsection (3) of KRS 160.460, and the amount that will be needed to be raised by local taxation, including the rate of levy necessary to raise such an amount.

(2) Notwithstanding any statutory provisions to the contrary, no district board of education shall submit a budget which would require more revenue from local ad valorem taxes than would be produced by application of the preceding year's rate, less that part of the preceding year's tax rate levied to satisfy the "required local tax effort" provisions of KRS 157A.050(4) and KRS 157A.100, to the preceding year's assessment, exclusive of voted levies and net assessment growth as defined in KRS 132.425, except as provided in Section 6 of this Act, [subsection (3) of KRS 157.380] and as provided in subsection (4) of this section. In the event of a merger of school districts, the limitations contained in this section shall be based upon the combined revenue of the merging districts, as computed under the provisions of this section.

(3) The superintendent of public instruction shall certify to each district board of education, by June 1 of each year, the maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue. This amount shall be computed as follows:

(a) The superintendent of public instruction shall determine the total amount of ad valorem tax revenue which would be produced by application of the preceding year's rate, less that part of the preceding year's rate levied to satisfy the "required local tax effort" provisions of KRS 157.050(4) and KRS 157A.100, to the preceding year's assessment.

(b) The superintendent of public instruction shall determine the total amount of ad valorem tax revenue which would be produced by application of the preceding year's effective tax rate, less that part of the preceding year's tax rate levied to satisfy the "required local tax effort" provisions of KRS 157A.050(4) and KRS 157A.100, to the net assessment growth in each school district. The net assessment growth as determined in accordance with KRS 132.425 shall be certified to the superintendent of public instruction by the department of revenue by May 20 of each year.

[(c) The superintendent of public instruction shall compile a list of those school districts in which the general fund ad valorem tax for the 1965-1966 school year was levied at a rate less than the $1.50 maximum then authorized by KRS 160.475. The superintendent of public instruction shall then calculate for each such district the revenue that would have been produced for the 1965-1966 school year if such tax had been levied at the $1.50 rate. He shall then re-calculate the maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue that would have been authorized for each such district for the 1966-1967, 1967-1968, 1968-1969 and 1969-1970 school years as though the 1965-1966 tax had been levied at the $1.50 rate, including in such re-calculation the revenue that would have been derived from taxation of net assessment growth under paragraph (b) of this subsection and the revenue that would have been derived from any percentage increases actually adopted by the district under subsection (4) of this section. The maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue so re-calculated for the 1969-1970 school year shall, for such districts, be deemed the total amount of ad valorem tax revenue to be determined by the superintendent for the 1970-1971 school year under paragraph (a) of this subsection.]

(c) [(d)] The sum of the amounts computed under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection shall be the maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue for purposes of subsection (2) of this section [, except as otherwise therein prescribed].

[(e) Any school district which is not contemplating capital construction and which is eligible for the increase allowed in paragraph (c) of this subsection may elect to take advantage of the increase in equal stages over a period of three years.]

[(4) Notwithstanding the limitations contained in subsection (2) of this section, any district board of education which in preparing its proposed budget deems that it will require an amount of revenue greater than that permitted in subsection (2) of this section may submit to the levying authority for the school years 1966-1967 and 1967-1968 a budget which could require an increase in such revenue of not more than 10 per cent after compliance with the following:]

[(a) The district board of education shall give notice of any proposed increase in revenue. Notwithstanding any statutory provisions to the contrary, notice shall be given by causing to be published, at least one (1) time in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or by posting at the courthouse door if there be no such newspaper, the fact that said increase of not exceeding 10 per cent is being proposed. Said advertisement shall state that the district board of education will meet at a place and on a day fixed in the advertisement, not earlier than one (1) week and not later than two (2) weeks from the date of the advertisement, for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed increase and explaining the reasons for such proposal.]

[(b) The district board of education shall conduct a public hearing at the place and on the date advertised for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed increase and explaining the reasons for such proposal.]

(4) [(5)] Three (3) copies of the budget shall be filed with the clerk of the tax-levying authority of the district within three (3) days after the district board of education has received its assessment data. The clerk shall present the budget to the proper tax-levying authority when the authority convenes to fix its school levy. The failure of the district board of education to furnish the budget within the time prescribed shall not invalidate any levy made thereafter.

(5) [(6)] Within three (3) days after the tax-levying authority has fixed the tax rate, the district board of education shall forward two (2) copies of the budget to the state board of education for its approval or disapproval. The budget shall be disapproved if it is financially unsound or fails to provide for: (a) Payment of maturing principal of and interest on any outstanding voted school improvement bonds of the school district authorized and issued pursuant to KRS 162.080 and 162.090, with the written approval of the state board of education, or (b) Payment of rentals in connection with any outstanding school building revenue bonds issued for the benefit of the independent school district or county school district, as the case may be, by the appropriate city or county as authorized and provided under the provisions of KRS 162.120 to 162.300, with the written approval of the state board of education, or fails to comply with the law; and the state board of education shall state its reason, or reasons, for such disapproval. In such event the district board of education shall amend its budget, within the limitations of this section, to obviate the reasons for disapproval.

(6) [(7)] If the budget as amended specifies a tax levy different from that levied under the disapproved budget, the tax-levying authority shall amend its levy in accordance therewith, so that the levy as amended shall comply with the provisions of subsection (1) of KRS 160.460. No general school budget shall become effective until approved by the state board of education.

(7) [(8)] Each district board of education shall, if required by the state board of education, prepare and submit to it not later than September 15, a close estimate or working budget which shall conform to the rules and regulations prescribed by the state board of education, and which shall be consistent in its major divisions with the general school budget previously prepared.

Section 18. KRS 160.475 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in KRS 160.470(2), 160.476(4) and 160.477(6) the ad valorem tax levy for school purposes, other than sinking fund purposes, in each school district, shall be not [less than twenty-five cents (25c) annually on each one hundred dollars ($100) of property subject to local taxation nor] more than one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) annually on each one hundred dollars ($100) of property subject to local taxation.

(2) All existing subdistrict school tax levies, except those required to retire voted bonds, are hereby abolished.

(3) In any school district which levied a poll tax in 1973, the superintendent of public instruction may include the revenue received from the poll tax in that year in computing the maximum permissible revenue for 1974 under the provisions of KRS 160.470(3).

Section 19. On July 1, 1976, the superintendent of public instruction shall make the calculations and fulfill the duties required by Sections 4, 5, 7 and 8 of this Act.

HR 13, A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION petitioning the United States Congress to implement statutory and Constitutional changes needed to reverse the Supreme Court's ban on prayer and Bible reading in the public schools.

WHEREAS, the formation of this great nation is rich indeed in religious reference, with the Declaration of Independence actually referring to the Supreme Being on four occasions; and

WHEREAS, the children of this country should have the right to learn and practice the patriotic religious heritage left to them by their forefathers; and

WHEREAS, the Supreme Court's ban on prayer and Bible reading in the public school has denied students the opportunity to exercise what is considered to be essential components of American tradition and education by the majority of American citizens; and

WHEREAS, because of the destructive forces that are tearing society apart, today's youth are particularly in need of the regenerative power of prayer and the inspiration provided by the reading of the Bible; and

WHEREAS, this Bicentennial Year is indeed the appropriate time to restore these voluntary expressions of religious principles on which this country was founded;

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, the Senate concurring therein:

(a) Who has committed a public offense, except a moving motor vehicle offense, involving a child sixteen (16) years of age or older. The court shall not have jurisdiction in any prosecution of a moving motor vehicle offense involving a child sixteen (16) years of age or older. Juvenile offenders sixteen (16) years of age or older accused of moving motor vehicle offenses shall be treated as any adult offender; provided, however, that the term "moving motor vehicle offense" shall not be deemed to include the offense of stealing or converting a motor vehicle nor operating the same without the owner's consent, nor any offense which constitutes a felony; or

(b) Who does not subject himself to the reasonable control of his parents, teacher, guardian or custodian, by reason of being wayward or habitually disobedient; or

(c) Who is an habitual truant from home or from school; or

(d) Who is found by the court to be dependent, neglected, needy or abandoned.

(2) The court of each county wherein a public offense, as defined in paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of this section, is committed by a child who is a resident of another county of this state, shall have concurrent jurisdiction over such child with the court of the county wherein the child resides, or the court of the county where the child is found. Whichever court first acquires jurisdiction of such child may proceed to final disposition of his case, or, in its discretion may make an order transferring the case to the court of the county of his residence, or the county wherein the offense was committed, as the case may be.

(3) The court of each county shall have exclusive jurisdiction of persons charged with violations of KRS 530.060 and 530.070.

(4) The court shall have exclusive jurisdiction of persons who and no person shall wilfully and unnecessarily expose to the inclemency of the weather, or in any other manner wilfully injure in health or limb any child actually or apparently under the age of sixteen (16) years.

(5) The court shall have exclusive jurisdiction of persons who and no person shall for gain or reward employ or cause to be employed, or exhibit, use, or have in his custody for the purpose of exhibiting, or employing, any child actually or apparently under the age of sixteen (16) years, nor shall any person having the care, custody, or control of such child, in any way procure, or consent for gain or reward, to the employment or exhibition of such child, either:

(b) In any indecent or immoral occupation or practice;

(c) In the exhibition of any such child when insane, or idiotic; or

(d) In any practice or exhibition of unusual danger to life, limb, health or morals of the child.

(6) Any person, over whom the court has jurisdiction under subsections (3), (4) or (5) of this section, shall be entitled to a trial by jury.

(7) [(6)] Nothing in this chapter shall deprive other courts of the jurisdiction to determine the custody or guardianship of children upon writs of habeas corpus, or to determine the custody or guardianship of children when such custody or guardianship is incidental to the determination of other causes pending in such other courts; nor shall anything in this chapter affect the jurisdiction of circuit courts over adoptions and proceedings for termination of parental rights. The juvenile court shall have no jurisdiction to make permanent awards of custody of a child, but if the court finds an emergency to exist affecting the welfare of a child, it may make temporary orders for its custody, pending the outcome of proceedings in circuit court to determine its permanent custody. Such orders shall be entirely without prejudice to the proceedings for permanent custody of the child, and shall remain in effect until modified or set aside by the court. Upon the entry of a temporary or final judgment in the circuit court, awarding custody of such child, all prior orders of the juvenile court in conflict therewith shall be deemed canceled.

Section 2. KRS 208.060 is amended to read as follows:

(1) All cases involving children brought before the court shall be granted a speedy hearing and shall be dealt with by the juvenile court at separate hearings and without a jury except that a trial by jury may be had in accordance with the provisions of KRS 208.020(3), (4) and (5). The hearings may be conducted in an informal manner. The general public shall be excluded and only the immediate families of the parties before the court, witnesses necessary for the prosecution and defense of the case, the probation worker with direct interest in the case, those persons enumerated under KRS 208.040, such persons admitted as the judge shall find have a direct interest in the case or in the work of the court, and such other persons as agreed to by the child and his attorney may be admitted to the hearing. Witnesses shall be admitted to the hearing only for the duration of their testimony.

(2) Juvenile proceedings shall consist of two distinct hearings, an adjudication and a disposition, which may, upon motion of the child, be held on separate days.

(a) The adjudication shall determine the truth or falsity of the allegations in the petition and shall be made on the basis of an admission or confession of the child to the court or by the taking of evidence.

(b) Upon motion by any child brought before the court on a petition under KRS 208.020 (1) (a), (b), or (c), the Rules of Criminal Procedure shall apply to all matters involved in the adjudication of the case. All adjudications shall be supported by evidence beyond a reasonable doubt.

(c) After adjudication, the court shall determine whether the circumstances surrounding the child are such as to endanger his safety or welfare or that of the community and warrant his detention pending the disposition.

(d) The disposition shall determine the action to be taken by the court on behalf of, and in the best interest of, the child. Unless the provisions of subsections (3) and (4) are observed by the court, the disposition shall be limited to an informal adjustment of the matter between the parties and the court. The provisions of subsections (3) and (4) shall be conditions precedent to any commitment, court-ordered probation, restitution, or other disposition enforceable by the authority of the court. No public or private agency or body, or party before the court, shall be required to participate in any order of the court unless it receives from the court a verified statement, signed by the juvenile judge, that the rights enumerated in subsections (3) and (4) were granted to the child during the proceedings in juvenile court.

(3) Before commencing a hearing and proceeding to determine the truth or falsity of the allegations in a petition filed with the court under KRS 208.020 (1) (a), (b), or (c), the court shall decide, on the basis of a preliminary inquiry made by the court, whether or not the best interest of the child indicates that the petition should be dismissed and the child's case adjusted informally among the parties. An informal adjustment may be made at any time during the proceedings. All petitions brought under KRS 208.020 (1) (a), (b), or (c) shall receive this consideration by the court. No petition shall be brought against the child as a result of information given to the court by the child as part of an informal adjustment. If the court finds it necessary to extend the discussion, during an informal adjustment, beyond the immediate subject matter of the complaint before it, the child and his parents, relative, guardian, or custodian shall be advised of all the rights under this subsection. If the court determines that a formal proceeding is required to determine the truth or falsity of the allegations against the child, a petition, sworn to by the complainant, shall be required pursuant to KRS 208.070 (1) and (2), and the court shall, when the child is brought before the court:

(a) Explain to the child and his parents, relative, guardian, or custodian their respective rights to counsel and, if the child and his parents, relative, guardian, or custodian are unable to obtain counsel, shall appoint counsel for the child and may appoint counsel for the parents, relative, guardian, or custodian;

(b) Explain the privilege against self-incrimination by saying that the child, parents, relative, guardian, or custodian may remain silent concerning the charges against the child, and that anything said may be used against the child and result in his commitment to an institution for juvenile delinquents;

(c) Explain the right to confront anyone who has accused the child and to cross-examine that person on the allegations made against the child;

(d) Advise the child and his parents, relative, guardian, or custodian of the right to appeal from a determination of the court;

(e) Advise the child that these rights belong to him and may not be waived by his parents, relative, guardian, or custodian.

(4) At the disposition of a child adjudicated on a petition brought pursuant to KRS 208.020 (1) (a), (b), or (c), all information helpful in making a proper disposition, including oral and written reports, may be received by the court and relied upon to the extent of their probative value, provided that the parties or their counsel shall be afforded an opportunity to examine and controvert the reports and cross-examine the individuals making the reports.

(5) In the case of any child brought before the court on a petition under KRS 208.020 (1) (d), the rules of evidence and procedure described in subsection (3) of this section shall apply.

Governor Carroll addressed the Joint Session of the General Assembly, as follows:

Lieutenant Governor Stovall, Speaker Kenton, Members of the General Assembly, Members of the Judiciary, Members of the Executive Cabinet, Ladies and Gentlemen.

We are gathered tonight for the second joint session of the 1976 General Assembly; this time to receive the Executive Budget recommendations required by our Constitution and Enactments of the Legislature.

Those recommendations I now present for your consideration are the result of many months of a substantive, exhaustive and time-consuming, decision-making process. Therefore, these recommendations reflect my personal philosophy of applying a common sense approach to the allocation of our taxpayers' hard-earned dollars which we hold in trust.

I have said to you before that it is an insult to our common sense to suggest that better government can come only from more spending, or that more spending necessarily brings better government.

The objective of this common sense approach for may administration is to keep my pledge to the people of Kentucky and prevent any tax increase on our consumers. Within the framework of a responsible and conservative fiscal policy, this ojective will be met. Furthermore, I sincerely believe that the recommendations contained in my Executive Budget reflect an equitable compromise between the demands for service from our state government in this decade and the fiscal constraints which must be observed if my pledge of no new taxes on our consumers is to be kept.

It is my consensus that you are willing to help me keep that pledge. Thus, I owe you the obligation of pointing out the "fiscal pitfalls" I have avoided in order to insure, as far as humanly possible, that our spending levels during this administration do not exceed our financial resources.

I have developed policies that hopefully will allow us to avoid each "fiscal pitfall." While you are aware of those policies, it is imperative to a full understanding of my budget that I now emphasize each such policy.

1. I have not recommended, and I do not intend to use, any revenue bonds for capital construction which will require future appropriations to retire principal and interest. As I have advised you, I am requesting appropriations for previously authorized but unsold revenue bond issues that will reduce the annual debt retirement enough to make the projects self-sustaining without additional appropriations in this or future Executive Budgets. We can fully appreciate the magnitude of this problem and the importance of this policy when we see the annual interest on the state debt that this budget contains is $85 million.

2. I do not intend to continue the practice of permitting the Federal Government to establish program priorities for Kentucky as we fall captive to the lure of the federal dollar. Our policy will allow acceptance of federal money only when that support is genuinely needed and when it defrays costs to the Kentucky taxpayers. Kentucky should not support now, from federal funds, what it will not support later from state funds. The only major exception to be considered is when the project is principally of a non-recurring nature. We can fully appreciate the mangitude of this problem and the importance of this policy when we see that our agency budgets contained requests for $30 million to replace lost federal funds.

3. The power of appropriating state money must be returned to the General Assembly. As I have said before, there is absolutely no incentive for state agencies to establish clear priorities, or manage their finances in a responsible manner, if they know that, when the money runs out, the Governor can give them more. Average citizens cannot arbitrarily increase their take-home pay when the cost-of-living goes up, and state government should be no different.

A recurring agency expense in this present fiscal year must be appropriated in each year of our biennial budget. We can fully understand the magnitude of this problem and the importance of this policy when we see that the agency budgets included requests in the amount of $64.7 million. And we have recommended the appropriation of $55.3 million for current-year expenditures which are also repeated in each year of the biennial budget.

4. State government cannot continue to grow like a snowball rolling down a hill. The number of employes must be controlled. My policy will be to improve the productivity of present employes, rather than continually adding more employes in hopes of improving service. Quality rather than quantity will be our guide. Toward this end, I have already established a personnel audit unit in the office of the Secretary of the Cabinet to monitor personnel complements and insure quality control in the whole area of personnel management. In addition, we must recognize that the productivity of present employes is directly related to the manner in which they are compensated. Therefore, I propose to restructure our state pay plan which should improve the incentive for productivity.

We can fully appreciate the magnitude of this problem and the importance of this policy when we realize that state government permanent full-time employment has grown 65 percent in the last 10 years, and the payroll has risen from some $9 million to $28 million monthly during that same period.

5. Even when appropriated funds are available, we should not commit ourselves to a particular capital expenditure for a project until we know two things: Does the structure fulfill state program and policy needs, and what will it cost to build it? Presently, there appears to be little consideration given to the minimum needs of a structure. In many instances, it appears that a particular building was designed to spend a certain sum of money thought to be available for its construction. The time of splendor and monuments of glass and marble is gone.

We must build now only what we can clearly justify and then we must not over-design the structure and incur needless spending of our taxpayer's money. Additionally, design standards should take into account public accessibility and energy and environmental considerations. The magnitude of this problem and the importance of this policy can be fully grasped when we realize that in this budget, we have been forced to ask you to support the expenditure of $55 million to complete the construction of buildings previously authorized. I think you should be made aware of one additional fact in this regard: We have included in this biennial budget a yearly request for $15 million to pay the operating expenses of buildings now under construction.

6. There is one further policy which I might denote as the most important of all these policies as far as this particular budget recommendation is concerned. As I have said before, Kentucky was extremely fortunate last fiscal year in its collection of general fund revenues. A recent report showed that 37 states were suffering serious financial difficulty because of inflation. However, Kentucky's coal-related economy helped us reap unprecedented profits and as a result contributed higher revenues than estimated to Kentucky's tax coffers, thus building a one-time surplus.

Sound fiscal management dictates that these non-recurring dollars be put to work in areas that will not create a continuing cost to the state. that is why I have recommended putting these dollars to work in such areas as debt reduction grant matching programs, local development programs, and major maintenance and replacement of buildings and equipment. We can fully appreciate the magnitude of this problem and the significance of this policy when we realize that should we spend this one-time money in each year of the biennium as a recurring expense, we would probably consume 100 percent of our new growth money for the last biennium of this administration. This could well necessitate a tax increase in the next biennium in the amount of $250 million. Since I cannot support and have no intention of recommending such a tax increase, I must caution you to leave this one-time money in non-recurring appropriations.

Thus, if this budget could be characterized, I would contend that it is fiscally responsible while recognizing the real needs of our people with concern and compassion. It does not reflect massive new programs, but rather a strengthening and restructuring of existing programs. It is based upon my strong conviction that this is a time for realism, a time to ride ourselves of financial drains on our limited resources, a time for rethinking our goals, a time to reform our stragegy and at last time to correct some chronic and persistent ills.

It is my belief that the process of appropriating and expending our financial resources is the key to responsible management of state government. We are determined to strengthen the program budget concept that seeks accountability for the proper expenditure of appropriated funds. And, I might add that I look forward to cooperating with the standing and interim committees in this important endeavor.

I can tell you I have already substantially implemented the internal financial audit system and, as previously mentioned, I have recently begun a new procedure called Internal Personnel Auditing.

As you know, early in the budget process I established guidelines for our agencies to follow in preparing their requests for continued funding. It was my belief that rigorous scrutiny backed by an austere approach would result in recommendations for continued essential services. This would allow us to free up additional funds for greatly needed expansion in elementary and secondary education, as well as in other areas. For example, my recommendation for the expenditure of state funds in the general administration program of the Department of Justice is 6.4 percent below the current figure. Likewise, I am recommending a 3.6 percent decrease in state funds for administration and support services in the Department for Human Resources.

This tough fiscal posture regarding the continuation costs can also be illustrated in two important programmatic areas:

My continuation recommendation for health services is 1.2% less than the current year budgeted figure, while the state police continuation budget increases but 2.6%. It is important to note, however, that in both these areas, better management of our existing resources will still allow us to provide additional needed services to our citizens. This budget, thus, can also be described as a "needs budget."

This overall policy of fiscal restraint has permitted my administration to concentrate on a series of top priority expanded programs. These programs reward local initiatives, enhance economic and energy development, respond to health needs of our citizens—articularly our senior citizens—nd of course, provide a long-awaited shot in the arm to Kentucky's elementary and secondary school system. Foremost among my priorities for the Commonwealth of Kentucky has been the need to significantly upgrade the quality of the public elementary and secondary schools. That goal is reflected as the top priority in the Executive Budget.

In this budget I am presenting tonight, state support for elementary and secondary education and related functions will exceed one-half billion dollars each year of the biennium for the first time in our history. I am recommending to you a $147 million increase in expanded and new general fund support for our elementary and secondary schools for the upcoming biennium. This amounts to a 23.2% general fund increase in fiscal year 1977 and another 12.5% in fiscal year 1978 for a total biennial increase of 38.6%. Substantial increased benefits are recommended for our students, our teachers, local district employes and retired teachers.

I have included in the Executive Budget $7.6 million to provide free textbooks for all students in all grades by the end of this administration. Funding in the present biennium will allow high school seniors the opportunity to sell some of their social studies books prior to leaving school this spring. Additional subject areas will be purchased by the state each year thereafter until all high school texts are free to students by the end of this administration. I had hoped we could implement our free textbook program this next school year, but the Department of Education advised me our present contract replacement schedule for textbooks will require up to four years.

As I have said before, our students should not be charged fees for required courses vital to their education. Thus, I have included a $9 million biennial appropriation in this budget to replace these fees with state dollars. This onerous student and parental burden can be lifted if you concur in this recommendation in my executive budget. Of course, it will be necessary for students to continue paying for the costs of items which become their personal property.

This budget rapidly escalates our support for exceptional children, kindergartens, and vocatinal rehabilitation. Funds have been provided in the Executive Budget for increasing the number of exceptional classes by 800 next year and by another 600 in 1977-78. This is a 57% increase over the last biennium. The number of kindergartens has been increased by 150 aditional units for each year of the biennium. The number of vocational units has been increased by 228 in 1976-77 and by 274 in the 1977-78 for a total of 502 new units over the two year period.

This is a 150 percent increase in the number of kindergarten units over the last biennium.

Hopefully, the addition of kindergartens will reduce the number of children repeating the first grade. Over $6.2 million is spent in Kentucky each year for children to repeat the first grade. Increased vocational rehabilitation funding in the amount of $376,000 for 1976-77 and $465,000 in 1977-78 will be used to finance training and medical treatment for individuals who are unemployable due to a handicap.

While I do so with some reservation, I have included in the Executive Budget the innovative concept referred to as power equalization. I support this concept which is designed to equalize the financial burden involved in financing quality public schools from widely different property tax revenues generated at the local level. $10.5 million in new state general fund support has been included in may recommendation for fiscal year 1978 to equalize 5 cents of the property tax above the 30 cent level currently required for participation in the foundation program. The version of the power equalization plan funded in the 1976-78 Executive Budget mandates no local tax increases, but leaves such decisions to local communities through a vote of the people. I sincerely believe that we should not further fund this program until we use this partial funding to initiate the concept and confirm its validity.

I am convinced that this $10.5 million in additional funds will upgrade the quality of education in those school districts least able to afford it on their own.

Kentucky's elementary and secondary school teachers can look forward to a substantial pay raise if the General Assembly will join me in the $67 million salary increase I have recommended. Under this proposal, the average increase for teachers funded through the state foundation program will be $2,000 over the next biennium. This $2,000 increase has been funded in the amount of $1,200 for 1976-77 and another $800 for 1977-78. This will represent a 22% increase to the average teacher over the next two years. Should the salaries in the seven surrounding states increase by 6% each year, Kentucky would be within $616 of their average by the end of fiscal 1978.

Excluding Illinois from the calculations, Kentucky would be within approximately $122 of the average teachers' salaries in the six surrounding states. Thus, you can see that my goal of increasing Kentucky's teachers' salaries to a parity with our seven surrounding states can become a reality during my administration.

The new comprehensive medical insurance that will cover certified and non-certified personnel in Kentucky's school districts has been fully funded in each year of the biennium at a total cost of $33 million. The value of this benefit in gross income per teacher is approximately another $300 annually.

Retired teachers will benefit from increased state funding of over $18 million into their retirement system. New benefits include replacement of the temporary cost-of-living bonuses by providing increases of 3% for each year of retirement from from July 1, 1971, to July 1, 1976. Further, beginning in fiscal year 1977 retired teachers will receive an additional $2.00 each month for every year of prior service and another $2.00 per month beginning in fiscal year 1978.

My retired teachers package also includes increased benefits of $25 a month for former teachers who retired for disability reasons prior to July 1, 1964.

We have not ignored the great impact of increased prices from inflation upon our school districts. I have included an additional $6.4 million this current fiscal year for operating expenses. I have further recommended increases in the local operating expenses of 8% for each year which we are told should equal or maybe exceed the cost of inflation.

If surrounding states increase funding during the biennium at the same pace they averaged from 1973-74 to 1974-75, Kentucky will exceed the average state revenue per pupil of the seven surrounding states by about $190. In 1974-75 Kentucky ranked approximately 23rd among the states in state support per pupil in average daily attendance. If other states increase their support by 8.3% annually, which is the average increase per pupil funding between 1973-74 and 1974-75, Kentucky could increase its ranking to 14th in 1977-78. Kentucky's per pupil expenditures based on federal, state and local funds will probably remain relatively low when compared with our sister states because of minimal local support. However, it is possible that by the end of 1977-78 Kentucky will have risen from 49th among the states to 39th, due primarily to substantial increases in state support in this budget.

This is based on the assumption that other states increase per pupil expenditures at an annual 9% rate, which according to the national education association, denotes past trends. I know you share the hope with me that we can achieve and retain that kind of support for elementary and secondary education in Kentucky.

My budget clearly establishes my firm support for vocational education. Existing programs will be expanded by the infusion of over $2,000,000 into the direct operation of our vocational education schools over the next two years. The adult education program will receive $458,000 over the next two years to provide additional classes in instruction leading to a high school diploma or a general equivalency certificate. A new concept, competency based vocational education, will be implemented statewide over the next two years at a cost in excess of $1 million for the 1976-78 biennium.

A state capital construction budget in the amount of $10 million will bring an equal amount in federal and local matching funds enabling us to build a number of badly needed vocational schools.

Kentucky has one of the finest programs of education for blind and deaf children in the nation. I not only intend to see that this excellence continues, but is increased. That is why I have recommended the operating budgets for the schools for the deaf and the blind to increase by some 28% and 26% respectively.

Higher education is an area that has long been considered "sacred" in the budgetary process. While I have funded the critical needs of our institutions, my recommended budget removes any such notion concerning higher education programs. We are no longer in the golden age of higher education growth and my budget does not contemplate a return to that golden age. Rather, I perceive that we have moved into a new era of critical choices for our statewide system of higher learning.

The funding level recommended for our institutions preserves our great accomplishments and corrects the deficiencies which have caused our accreditation to be questioned in some areas. Additionally, I have replaced some loss in federal funds and have recommended expansion of programs where it appeared to be fully justified. However, I found it necessary to trim the council on public higher education recommendations for institutional budgets by 40%.

My recommendations in this area mean smaller percentage increases for our colleges and universities when compared to recent higher education budgets—ut we must learn to make do with what we have, and achieve our expectations with available resources. The era of budgetary sacrifice is here.

This budget provides for full funding for the University of Louisville and recommends the funding necessary to support University status for Northern Kentucky College. Thus, we have brought the University of Louisville and Northern Kentucky College into the state system as full partners and have at the same time preserved the excellence of our other institutions of higher learning in Kentucky.

We have long recognized that the prosperity of our state is directly linked to the health of our citizens. Our program, reflected in this budget, is designed to fulfill two important objectives. These are:

1. To improve the delivery of health services while trimming administrative expense, and
2. To reward local initiative in the delivery of health services.

The budget continues to provide for existing services and requests over $5.5 million in new revenue for expansion.

My program priorities in the health services area relate primarily to child services, the needs of those who suffer from mental illness, and the delivery of health services on the local level.

Through program modifications in the Department for Human Resources, we have reduced 12 major program areas to six, and reduced the number of sub-programs from 66 to 39.

These changes will assure that a greater amount of money spent in the health services area will go directly to the delivery of service to the public.

It is our belief that local health departments constitute the backbone of the state's system of public health care delivery. Consistent with this philosophy, we are recommending $2 million to establish a state and local matching program designed to upgrade district and county health department buildings. This program, to be implemented on a 50-50 state and local basis, will allow for much-needed repairs renovations, additions and expansion.

We are also recommending $2 million in program grants for local health departments. Our recommendation will increase the state share in the local health department grant program by 29 percent.

We are requesting $1.8 million to provide for elimination of the surgical waiting list for children who require corrective surgery and supported services. It is my belief, and a keystone of our health care program, that disabilities in children which can be corrected early should receive high priority. In human terms, this will enable children to lead normal, happy and health lives. Fiscally, this philosophy will prevent continued expenditure of public funds to treat chronic problems that could have and should have been corrected early.

We have also requested $877,000 for expansion programs for inpatient and outpatient treatment of mental illness.

I have requested $660,000 for programs which will provide full-scale diagnosis and evaluation for the mentally retarded, as well as provide day care treatment, training and partial hospitalization services.

Establishment of clinical programs at Harlan, Prestonsburg and Ashland will make health services available to children who would otherwise be denied them because of transportation difficulties.

I have asked for money to continue the medicaid program without reducing current payment levels, despite the rapidly increasing case loads in the benefit programs.

This budget recommends $3.5 million in capital construction funds for the renovation and repair of Western State Hospital in Hopkinsville, Eastern State Hospital in Lexington, Hazelwood Hospital in Louisville and River Region Hospital in Eastern Jefferson County.

I will have more to say later on my program for our senior citizens. Recommended appropriations in this budget will support vital services for our senior citizens such as home delivered meals, day care, homemaker services, foster care, home health care, adult abuse and transportation services.

There are three major areas covered by this budget which have yet to be fully delineated, drafted, and ready for introduction for consideration by the General Assembly. First, is my major tax reform relief package, second is my crime package, and third is my economic development package.

The questions on economic development yet to be resolved include the issue of severance tax on coal refund to coal producing counties. I have since 1970 supported the concept of coal counties receiving a portion of the coal severance tax. I have done so because the presence of their coal reserves effectively excludes that land from economic development and thus higher assessment for increased ad valorem property taxes.

I still support that concept. Like most of the members of the General Assembly from the coal county area, I am concerned over the present guidelines setting the priorities under which these funds are spent. I am also concerned that the allocations bear little resemblance to the needs of all of these counties.

Thus, I hope that together we can develop a program that will continue to effectively meet the critical needs of our coal-producing counties. At the same time I want us to concern ourselves with the critical needs of our other counties in the area of economic development.

There is one other major funding question I would like to again mention—hat is the question of forced busing in Jefferson County. As you know, I have sued the Federal Government in hopes that the Federal Court would require the U. S. Congress to fund forced busing. In order to effectively maintain that position, I must exclude funding from this budget. Therefore, the following provision is included in my budget bill:

> "Notwithstanding the provisions of KRS 157.370, no funds shall be expended for the purpose of providing transportation beyond the nearest school in which the child can be placed within a local school district to students enrolled in the public schools."

The Kentucky electorate ratified a complete overhaul of our nineteenth century court system in the November elections. My recommendations reflect a complete endorsement of the Court of Justice request submitted by Supreme Court Chief Justice Scott Reed.

Prompt implementation of the top three tiers of the new system, the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and Circuit Courts will be effected through an additional $587,000 recommended for a current year appropriation, while full implementation and funding of the District Court apparatus, commencing in January, 1978, is being deferred for a special session of the General Assembly.

The recommended courts budget provides for $15.7 million in general fund support for the biennium, and provides for an additional $4.5 million in federal support for the new system. These recommended expenditures permit significant upgrading and reorganization of each component of the new court in keeping with the spirit of the constitutional amendment.

There are numerous other programs in this budget that I would like to mention if time permitted. However, one of those programs deserves special comment tonight.

I am recommending to you that you create an uninsured investors claim fund and appropriate $8 million to pay up to 95 percent of the amount 11,425 investors lost when prudential savings and loan went bankrupt. Nearly four years ago, these 11,425 investors, most of whom are Kentuckians, lost their savings when this firm went under through mismanagement.

This recommendation represents this administration's compassion for individuals who relied upon their state government to protect their lifesavings. I want to prove that government is not cold but rather does have a heart and can respond to a moral obligation in the public interest.

Finally, one word about the revenue estimates on which this budget recommendation is based. The estimates are honest. They represent the best forecast of anticipated income that Department of Revenue experts have been able to provide.

I invite you to question them, to inquire closely about the adequacy of the estimates.

In the event future receipts require adjustment of the estimates, we will work with you in revising our appropriations.

In this matter you will have our fullest cooperation.

Common sense, compassion, and fiscal responsibility—hose are the words I wish to leave you with tonight—or those are the principles which guided me to the recommendations I now present for your collective judgment.

Working together, we can resolve the budgetary issues which confront us; we can consolidate the gains of our predecessors; we can lend substance to those goals we determine to be in the public interest.

If we approach our responsibilities humbly; if our motives are high while our feet are planted firmly on the ground; and if we join in a resolve to reflect in our decisions the common good—hen we can look back on this day with pride and with dignity.

Thank you and good night.

Provided, however, that if such an operator is involved in a collision with a vehicle in the intersection or junction of roadways after driving past a yield sign without stopping, such collision shall be deemed prima facie evidence of his failure to yield right of way.

Section 6. A new section of KRS Chapter 189 is created to read as follows:

The operator of a vehicle about to enter or cross a roadway from any place other than another roadway shall yield the right of way to all vehicles approaching on the roadway to be entered or crossed.

Section 7. A new section of KRS Chapter 189 is created to read as follows:

Section 9& A new section of KRS Chapter 189 is created to read as follows:

(1) When traffic control signals are not in place or not in operation the operator of a vehicle shall yield the right of way, slowing down or stopping if need be to so yield, to a pedestrain crossing the roadway upon which the vehicle is traveling, or when the pedestrian is approaching so closely from the opposite half of the roadway as to be in danger.

(2) Subsection (1) shall not apply under the conditions stated in Section 10 of this Chapter.

(3) Whenever any vehicle is stopped at a marked crosswalk or at any unmarked crosswalk at an intersection to permit a pedestrian to cross the roadway, the operator of any other vehicle approaching from the rear shall not overtake and pass such stopped vehicle.

(4) Notwithstanding other provisions of this Chapter or the provisions of any local ordinance, every operator of a vehicle shall exercise due care to avoid colliding with any pedestrian and shall give warning by sounding the horn when necessary and shall exercise proper precaution upon observing any child or any obviously confused, incapacitated, or intoxicated person.

(5) No vehicle shall at any time be driven through or within a safety zone.

(6) The operator of a vehicle shall yield the right of way to any pedestrian on a sidewalk.

(2) Any pedestrian crossing a roadway at a point where a pedestrian tunnel or overhead pedestrian crossing has been provided shall yield the right of way to all vehicles upon the roadway.

(3) Between adjacent intersections within the city limits of every city at which traffic control signals are in operation pedestrians shall not cross at any place except in a marked crosswalk.

(4) No pedestrian shall suddenly leave a curb or other place of safety and walk or run into the path of a vehicle which is so close as to constitute an immediate hazard.

(5) No pedestrian shall cross a roadway intersection diagonally unless authorized by official traffic control devices; and, when authorized to cross diagonally, pedestrians shall cross only in accordance with the official traffic control devices pertaining to such crossing movements.

(6) Pedestrians shall move, whenever practicable, upon the right half of the crosswalks.

(7) Where a sidewalk is provided and its use is practicable, it shall be unlawful for any pedestrian to walk along and upon an adjacent roadway.

(8) Where a sidewalk is not available, any pedestrian walking along and upon a highway shall walk only on a shoulder, as far as practicable from the edge of the roadway.

(9) Where neither a sidewalk nor a shoulder is available, any pedestrian walking along and upon a highway shall walk as near as practicable to an outside edge of the roadway, and, if on a two-way roadway, shall walk only on the left side of the roadway.

(10) Except as otherwise provided in this Chapter, any pedestrian upon a roadway shall yield the right of way to all vehicles upon the roadway.

(11) A pedestrian who is under the influence of alcohol or any kind of drug to a degree which renders himself a hazard shall not walk or be upon a highway except on a sidewalk.

(12) No pedestrian shall enter or remain upon any bridge or approach thereto beyond the bridge signal, gate, or barrier, after a bridge operation signal indication has been given.

(13) No pedestrian shall pass through, around, over, or under any crossing gate or barrier at a railroad grade crossing or bridge while such gate or barrier is closed or is being opened or closed.

(14) No pedestrian shall stand in a roadway for the purpose of soliciting a ride.

(15) No pedestrian shall stand on a highway for the purpose of soliciting employment or business from the occupant of any vehicle.

(16) No pedestrian shall stand on a highway for the purpose of soliciting contributions unless such soliciting is designated by the presence of any emergency or public safety vehicle as defined in KRS 189.910 making use of the flashing, rotating or oscillating red, blue or yellow lights on such vehicle.

(17) No pedestrian shall stand on or in proximity to a street or highway for the purpose of soliciting the watching or guarding of any vehicle while parked or about to be parked on a street or highway.

Section 11. A new section of KRS Chapter 189 is created to read as follows:

(1) Upon the immediate approach of an emergency vehicle equipped with, and operating, one or more flashing, rotating, or oscillating red or blue lights, visible under normal conditions from a distance of 500 feet to the front of such vehicle; and the operator is given audible signal by siren, exhaust whistle, or bell, every pedestrian shall yield the right of way to the emergency vehicle.

(2) This section shall not relieve the operator of an emergency vehicle from the duty to drive with due regard for the safety of all persons using the highway nor from the duty to exercise due care to avoid colliding with any pedestrian.

Section 12. KRS 189.338 is amended to read as follows:

Whenever traffic is controlled by traffic control signals exhibiting different colored lights, or colored lighted arrows, successively one at a time or in combination, only the colors green, red and yellow shall be used, except for special pedestrian signals carrying a word legend, and said lights shall indicate and apply to drivers of vehicles and pedestrians as follows:

(1) Green indication.

(a) Vehicular traffic facing a circular green signal may proceed straight through or turn right or left unless a sign at such place prohibits either such turn. But vehicular traffic, including vehicles turning right or left, shall yield the right of way to other vehicles and to pedestrians lawfully within the intersection or an adjacent crosswalk at the time such signal is exhibited.

(b) Vehicular traffic facing a green arrow signal, shown alone or in combination with another indication, may cautiously enter the intersection only to make the movement indicated by such arrow, or such other movement as is permitted by other indications shown at the same time. Such vehicular traffic shall yield the right of way to pedestrians lawfully within an adjacent crosswalk and to other traffic lawfully using the intersection.

(c) Unless otherwise directed by a pedestrian[-]control signal, pedestrians facing any green signal, except when the sole green signal is a turn arrow, may proceed across the roadway within any marked or unmarked crosswalk.

(2) Steady yellow indication.

(a) Vehicular traffic facing a steady yellow signal is thereby warned that the related green movement is being terminated or that a red indication will be exhibited immediately thereafter when vehicular traffic shall not enter the intersection.

(b) Pedestrians facing a steady yellow signal, unless otherwise directed by a pedestrian [-]control signal, are thereby advised that there is insufficient time to cross the roadway before a red indication is shown and no pedestrian shall then start to cross the roadway.

(3) Steady red indication.

(a) Vehicular traffic facing a circular red signal alone shall stop at a clearly marked stop line, but if none, then before entering the crosswalk on the near side of the intersection, or if none, then before entering the intersection and shall remain standing until a green indication is shown, except as follows: the driver of a vehicle which is stopped as close as practicable at the entrance to the crosswalk on the near side of the intersection or, if none, then at the entrance to the intersection in obedience to a red or stop signal, and with the intention of making a right turn, may make such right turn, after stopping, unless an official sign has been erected prohibiting such movement, but shall yield the right of way to pedestrians and other traffic lawfully proceeding through the intersection. Cities and counties may, by ordinance, and the bureau of highways may, by regulation, prohibit any such right turn against a steady red signal at any intersection, which prohibition shall be effective when an official sign prohibiting such movement is erected at the intersection.

(b) Unless otherwise directed by a pedestrian [-]control signal, pedestrians facing a steady red signal alone shall not enter the roadway.

(4) In the event an official traffic control signal is erected and maintained at a place other than an intersection, the provisions of this section shall be applicable except as to those provisions which by their nature can have no application. Any stop required shall be made at a sign or marking on the pavement indicating where the stop shall be made, but in the absence of any such sign or marking the stop shall be made at the signal.

(5) Whenever an illuminated flashing red or yellow light is used in a traffic signal or with a traffic sign it shall require obedience by vehicular traffic as follows:

(a) Flashing red (stop signal)—When a red lens is illuminated with rapid intermittent flashes, operators of vehicles shall stop at a clearly marked stop line, but if none, before entering the crosswalk on the near side of the intersection, or if none, then at the point nearest the intersecting roadway where the operator has a view of approaching traffic on the intersecting roadway before entering it, and the right to proceed shall be subject to the rules applicable after making a stop at a stop sign.

(b) Flashing yellow (caution signal)—When a yellow lens is illuminated with rapid intermittent flashes, operators of vehicles may proceed through the intersection or past such signal only with caution.

Section 13. KRS 189.340 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Vehicles overtaking other vehicles proceeding in the same direction shall pass to the left of them and shall not again drive to the right until reasonably clear of those vehicles. The person operating or in charge of the overtaking vehicle shall sound his horn or other sound device before passing. Vehicles overtaking street cars may pass either to the right or left when so directed by a police officer, when on a one-way street or where the location of the tracks prevents compliance with this section, with regard for other traffic.

(2) The operator of a vehicle may overtake and pass upon the right of another vehicle only under the following conditions:

(a) When the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn;

(b) Upon a roadway with unobstructed pavement of sufficient width for two or more lines of vehicles moving lawfully in the direction being traveled by the overtaking vehicle.

(3) The operator of a vehicle may overtake and pass another vehicle upon the right only under conditions permitting such movements in safety. Such movement shall not be made by driving off the roadway unless passing vehicle comes to a complete stop and such movement may be made safely.

[(2) The operator of a vehicle may overtake and pass upon the right of another vehicle which is making or is about to make a left turn. The operator of a vehicle may overtake, and, allowing sufficient clearance, pass another vehicle proceeding in the same direction upon the left or upon the right on a roadway with unobstructed pavement or sufficient width for four (4) or more lines of traffic when the movement can be made in safety. No person shall drive off the pavement or upon the shoulder of the roadway in overtaking or passing on the right.]

(4) [(3)] No vehicle shall be driven to the left side of the center of the roadway in overtaking and passing another vehicle proceeding in the same direction unless the left side is clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic for a sufficient distance ahead to permit overtaking and passing to be completely made without interfering with the safe operation of any vehicle approaching from the opposite direction or any vehicle overtaken. In every event the overtaking vehicle must return to the right-hand side of the roadway before coming within one hundred feet (100') of any vehicle approaching from the opposite direction.

(5) [(4)] The commissioner of highways is hereby authorized to determine those portions of any highway where overtaking and passing or driving to the left of the roadway would be especially hazardous and may by appropriate signs or markings on the roadway indicate the beginning and end of such zones, and when such signs or markings are in place and clearly visible to an ordinary observant person, every driver of a vehicle shall obey the directions thereof.

(6) [(5)] Whenever any roadway has been divided into three (3) clearly marked lanes for travel the following additional rules shall apply:

(a) A vehicle shall be driven as nearly as may be practical entirely within a single lane and shall not be moved from that lane until the driver has first ascertained that the movement can be made with safety;

(b) A vehicle shall not be driven in the center lane except when overtaking and passing another vehicle where the roadway is clearly visible and the center lane is clear of traffic within a safe distance, or in preparation for a left turn or where a center lane is at the time allocated exclusively to traffic moving in the direction in which the vehicle is proceeding and is signposted to give notice of the allocation;

(c) Official signs may be erected directing a slow-moving traffic to use a designated lane or allocating specified lanes to traffic moving in the same direction and operators of vehicles shall obey the directors of such signs.

(7) (6) The operator of a motor vehicle shall not follow another vehicle more closely than is reasonable and prudent, having regard for the speed of the vehicle and the traffic upon and condition of the highway.

(b) The operator of any motor truck, semitrailer truck, bus or heavy construction equipment unit when traveling upon a highway outside of a business or residential district shall not follow within 250 feet of another such vehicle or equipment unit. This subsection shall not prevent overtaking and passing, nor shall it apply to any lane specially designated for use of motor trucks or semitrailer trucks, buses or heavy construction equipment units.

Section 14. A new section of KRS Chapter 189 is created to read as follows:

The operator of a vehicle intending to turn shall do so as follows:

(1) Right turns—both the approach for a right turn and a right turn shall be made as close as practicable to the right-hand curb or edge of the roadway.

(3) The Department of Transportation and local authorities in their respective jurisdictions may cause official traffic control devices to be placed and thereby require and direct that a different course from that specified in this section be traveled by turning vehicles and when such devices are so placed no operator shall turn a vehicle other than as directed and required by such devices.

(4) The operator of any vehicle shall not turn such vehicle so as to proceed in the opposite direction unless such movement can be made in safety without interfering with other traffic.

Section 15. A new section of KRS Chapter 189 is created to read as follows:

No person shall start a vehicle which is stopped, standing, or parked unless and until such movement can be made with reasonable safety.

Section 16. KRS 189.380 is amended to read as follows:

(1) No person shall turn a vehicle or move right or left upon a roadway unless and until such movement can be made with reasonable safety nor without giving an appropriate signal in the manner hereinafter provided.

[(1) No person shall turn a vehicle from a direct course upon a highway unless and until such movement can be made with reasonable safety, and only after a clearly audible signal has been given by sounding the horn if any pedestrian shall be affected by the movement. No person shall so turn any vehicle without giving an appropriate signal in the manner hereinafter provided in the event any other vehicle may be affected by such movement.]

(2) A signal of the intention to turn right or left shall be given continuously for not less than the last one hundred (100) feet traveled by the vehicle before turning.

(3) No person shall stop or suddenly decrease the speed of a vehicle without first giving an appropriate signal in the manner provided herein to the operator of any vehicle immediately in the rear when there is opportunity to give such signal.

(4) All signals required herein shall be given either by means of the hand and arm or by a signal lamp or lamps or a mechanical signal device, except that the operator of a motor vehicle used for the transportation of persons for hire with taxicabs excluded, the operator of a school or church bus, and the operator of any vehicle so constructed or loaded that a hand and arm signal would not be visible both to the front and rear of such vehicle shall indicate an intention to turn by use of a signal lamp or lamps or mechanical signal device and must indicate an intention to stop or suddenly decrease speed by illuminating at least one (1) red or yellow light with the word "Stop" on it on the rear of the vehicle.

(5) All signals herein required given by hand and arm shall be given from the left side of the vehicle in the following manner, and such signals shall indicate as follows:

(a) Left turn—hand and arm extended horizontally;

(b) Right turn—hand and arm extended upward;

(c) Stop or decrease speed—hand and arm extended downward.

Section 17. A new section of KRS Chapter 189 is created to read as follows:

(1) No vehicle shall be driven on the left side of the roadway under the following conditions:

(a) When approaching or upon the crest of a grade or a curve in the highway where the operator's view is obstructed within such distance as to create a hazard in the event another vehicle might approach from the opposite direction;

(b) When approaching within one hundred (100) feet of or traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing;

(c) When the view is obstructed upon approaching within one hundred (100) feet of any bridge, viaduct or tunnel.

(2) The foregoing limitations shall not apply upon a one way roadway, nor when an obstruction exists making it necessary to drive to the left of the center of the highway; provided, any person so doing shall yield the right of way to all vehicles traveling in the proper direction upon the unobstructed portion of the highway within such distance as to constitute an immediate hazard, nor to the operator of a vehicle turning left into or from an alley, private road or driveway.

The Committee on Judiciary-Statutes reported HB 254, with Committee Amendment and Committee Substitute attached thereto, with the expression of opinion that the same should pass. Read at length for the first time and ordered placed in the Calendar.

HB 254, AN ACT relating to bail.

WHEREAS, the people of the Commonwealth of Kentucky by ratification of the Judicial Article mandated a reform in the administration of justice including the pretrial release of citizens charged with bailable offenses; and

WHEREAS, the present system providing for the pretrial release of persons charged with criminal offenses, including traffic offenses and other misdemeanors, was designed to fulfill the constitutional mandates that bail shall be allowed in all cases, other than capital offenses, in an amount to insure the presence of the defendants as ordered by the court; and

WHEREAS, bail bondsmen have, in large part, pre-empted those constitutional mandates and have reaped huge profits from the bail bonding business to the detriment of the rights of many citizens and have been a major cause of corruption in the administration of justice; and

WHEREAS, the present system has become so dominated by the bail bondsmen that pretrial release of defendants on their own recognizances in cases involving minor offenses has been discouraged without regard to the likelihood that most defendants will appear as ordered by the court if released on their own recognizances, all for the purpose of creating profits for the bail bondsmen; and

WHEREAS, in many instances the present system financially burdens lower income persons charged with minor offenses by virtually requiring them to pay for the services of a bail bondsman without regard to the likelihood that they will appear as ordered by the court if released on their own recognizances; and

WHEREAS, the present system has otherwise fostered wide-spread abuse of the laws and of the rights of the citizens of this Commonwealth through the corruptive influences of the bail bondsman in violation of the spirit of the Kentucky Constitution guaranteeing the equal administration of justice; and

WHEREAS, it is the intent of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky to provide for a uniform workable system for affording persons charged with bailable offenses their constitutional rights to pretrial release that will insure appearances as ordered by the courts without imposing undue hardships upon those persons;

NOW, THEREFORE,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. A new section of KRS Chapter 431 is created to read as follows:

(1) It shall be unlawful for any person to engage in the business of bail bondsman as defined in KRS 304.34-010(1), or to otherwise for compensation or other consideration:

(a) furnish bail or funds or property to serve as bail; or

(b) make bonds or enter into undertakings as surety;

for the appearance of persons charged with any criminal offense or violation of law or ordinance punishable by fine, imprisonment or death, before any of the courts of this state, including city courts, or to secure the payment of fines imposed and of costs assessed by such courts upon a final disposition.

(2) Nothing contained herein shall serve to release any bail bondsman heretofore licensed by this state from the obligation of undischarged bail bond liability existing on the effective date of this Act.

(3) Within thirty (30) days from the effective date of this Act, every bail bondsman heretofore licensed under Chapter 304, Subtitle 34, shall furnish to the Commissioner of the Department of Insurance a certified copy of his daily bond register required by KRS 304.34-070, and the Commissioner shall retain the securities of each bail bondsman deposited with the custodian of insurance securities until all undertakings shall have been paid and satisfied in full.

(4) This Act shall not be construed to prevent licensed insurers providing security required by Subtitle 39 of KRS Chapter 304 and non-profit associations from posting security for their insureds or members for an offense arising from the operation of a motor vehicle, provided that such posting of security is merely incidental to the terms and conditions of an insurance contract or a membership agreement and provided further that no separate premium or charge therefor is required from the insureds or members.

When such a determination is made, the court shall, either in lieu of or in addition to the above methods of release, impose the first of the following conditions of release which will reasonably assure the appearance of the person for trial or, if no single condition gives that assurance, any combination of the following conditions:

Unless the conditions of release are amended and the person is thereupon released, the court shall set forth in writing the reasons for requiring the conditions imposed. A person who is ordered released on a condition which requires that he return to custody after specified hours shall, upon application, be entitled to a review by the court who imposed the condition. Unless the requirement is removed and the person is thereupon released on another condition, the court shall set forth in writing the reasons for continuing the requirement.

Amend printed copy of House Bill 254 on page 1, in the title line, by deleting the word "bail" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "the release of persons in criminal proceedings and prohibiting certain practices in relation thereto".

The Committee Substitute for HB 254 is as follows:

HB 254, AN ACT relating to bail.

WHEREAS, the people of the Commonwealth of Kentucky by ratification of the Judicial Article mandated a reform in the administration of justice including the pretrial release of citizens charged with bailable offenses; and

WHEREAS, the present system providing for the pretrial release of persons charged with criminal offenses, including traffic offenses and other misdemeanors, was designed to fulfill the constitutional mandates that bail shall be allowed in all cases, other than capital offenses, in an amount to insure the presence of the defendants as ordered by the court; and

WHEREAS, bail bondsmen have, in large part, pre-empted those constitutional mandates and have reaped huge profits from the bail bonding business to the detriment of the rights of many citizens and have been a major cause of corruption in the administration of justice; and

WHEREAS, the present system has become so dominated by the bail bondsmen that pretrial release of defendants on their own recognizances in cases involving minor offenses has been discouraged without regard to the likelihood that most defendants will appear as ordered by the court if released on their own recognizances, all for the purpose of creating profits for the bail bondsmen; and

WHEREAS, in many instances the present system financially burdens lower income persons charged with minor offenses by virtually requiring them to pay for the services of a bail bondsman without regard to the likelihood that they will appear as ordered by the court if released on their own recognizances; and

WHEREAS, the present system has otherwise fostered wide-spread abuse of the laws and of the rights of the citizens of this Commonwealth through the corruptive influences of the bail bondsman in violation of the spirit of the Kentucky Constitution guaranteeing the equal administration of justice; and

WHEREAS, it is the intent of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky to provide for a uniform workable system for affording persons charged with bailable offenses their constitutional rights to pretrial release that will insure appearances as ordered by the courts without imposing undue hardships upon those persons;

NOW, THEREFORE,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

SECTION 1. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 431 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) It shall be unlawful for any person to engage in the business of bail bondsman as defined in KRS 304.34-010(1), or to otherwise for compensation or other consideration:

(b) make bonds or enter into undertakings as surety;

(2) Nothing contained herein shall serve to release any bail bondsman heretofore licensed by this state from the obligation of undischarged bail bond liability existing on the effective date of this Act.

(3) Within thirty (30) days from the effective date of this Act, every bail bondsman heretofore licensed under Chapter 304, Subtitle 34, shall furnish to the Commissioner of the Department of Insurance a certified copy of his daily bond register required by KRS 304.34-070, and the Commissioner shall retain the securities of each bail bondsman deposited with the custodian of insurance securities until all undertakings shall have been paid and satisfied in full.

(4) This Act shall not be construed to limit or repeal KRS 431.021 or to prevent licensed insurers providing security required by Subtitle 39 of KRS Chapter 304 and non-profit associations from posting security or acting as surety for their insureds or members for an offense arising from the operation of a motor vehicle, provided that such posting of security or acting as surety is merely incidental to the terms and conditions of an insurance contract or a membership agreement and provided further that no separate premium or charge therefor is required from the insureds or members.

SECTION 2. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 431 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) All trial courts in this Commonwealth having jurisdiction of criminal causes shall provide such pretrial release investigation and services as necessary to effectuate the purposes of this Act.

(2) The Supreme Court may by appropriate rule or order establish and provide for such pre-trial investigation and release services and the costs thereof shall be deemed a necessary governmental expense payable from the state treasury.

SECTION 3. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 431 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

Any person charged with an offense shall be ordered released by a court of competent jurisdiction pending trial on his personal recognizance or upon the execution of an unsecured bail bond in an amount set by the court or as fixed by the Supreme Court as provided by Section 7 of this Act, unless the court determines, in the exercise of its discretion that such a release will not reasonably assure the appearance of the person as required. When such a determination is made, the court shall, either in lieu of or in addition to the above methods of release, impose any of the following conditions of release:

(1) place the person in the custody of a designated person or organization agreeing to supervise him;

(2) place restrictions on the travel, association, or place of abode of the person during the period of release;

(b) with the 10% deposit as provided in Section 5; or

(c) with the deposit of cash equal to the amount of the bond or in lieu thereof acceptable security as provided in Section 6;

A person who is ordered released on a condition which requires that he return to custody after specified hours shall, upon written application or upon the court's own motion, be entitled to a review by the court which imposed the condition;

A copy of said order shall be served upon the defendant, his surety or sureties. If the defendant fails to appear before the court as ordered or if, after hearing, the court finds the conditions of release have not been complied with, the court may change the conditions imposed or forfeit the bail bond or any portion thereof and enter a judgment for the Commonwealth against the defendant and his surety or sureties for the amount of the bail bond or any portion thereof and cost of the proceedings.

(2) Upon depositing said sum the defendant shall be released from custody subject to all conditions of release imposed by the court.

At the request of the defendant the court may order the amount repayable to defendant from such deposit to be paid to defendant's attorney of record.

(4) If a final judgment for a fine and court costs or either is entered in the prosecution of an action in which a deposit has been made in accordance with subsection (1) of this Section, the balance of such deposit, after deduction of bail costs as provided for in subsection (3) of this Section, shall be applied to the satisfaction of the judgment.

(3) Be represented by an employe organization, and

(4) Bargain collectively with their public employers to determine wages, hours and terms and conditions of employment and enter into collective bargaining agreements which shall provide, among other things, fair procedures to settle grievances which shall include final and binding arbitration.

Section 4. A new section of KRS Chapter 336 is created to read as follows:

(1) Public employers shall extend to an employe organization, certified or recognized as the exclusive representative pursuant to this Act, the right to represent exclusively the employes in the appropriate bargaining unit and the right to unchallenged and exclusive representation status.

(2) A public employer shall bargain collectively with an employe organization certified pursuant to the provisions of this Act.

Whenever a public employer is notified by the board that an employe organization has been certified as exclusive representative for a unit of its employes, such public employer shall designate an employer representative, and shall promptly notify the board and the employe organization of his identity and address. All communications concerned with collective relationships under this Act, from the employe organization or from the board, shall be addressed to the employer representative. The designated employer representative is hereby empowered to sign agreements resulting from collective bargaining on behalf of the public employer, but such agreements shall be subject to the procedures set forth in this Act.

(3) This Act does not abridge the recognition of or agreement with any employe organization which is in effect at the effective date of this Act, provided the agreement is for a term not exceeding three (3) years.

Section 5. A new section of KRS Chapter 336 is created to read as follows:

(1) Representatives designated or selected for the purposes of collective bargaining by the majority of the employes in a unit appropriate for such purposes or by the majority of the employes voting in an election conducted pursuant to Section 7 of this Act, shall be the exclusive representatives of all employes in the appropriated unit for the purposes of collective bargaining. Any individual employe shall have the right at any time to present grievances for adjustment without the intervention of the bargaining representative, as long as the adjustment is not inconsistent with the terms of the collective bargaining then in effect; provided that the bargaining representatives have been given opportunity to be present at such adjustment. Such adjustment or determination shall not be a precedent in other grievances, whether similar or dissimilar.

(2) The board, in accordance with the procedures established herein, shall decide in each case the unit appropriate for the purposes of collective bargaining.

Section 6. A new section of KRS Chapter 336 is created to read as follows:

(1) The board, in determining whether a unit of employes is an appropriate unit, shall consider among other relevant factors, such factors as the effects of over-fragmentization, community of interest, wages, hours and other working conditions of the employes involved, the history of collective bargaining, and the desires of the employes; provided, that a unit may be found to be the appropriate unit in a particular case, even though some other unit might also be appropriate, or might be more appropriate.

(2) In determining the appropriate bargaining unit, the board shall also:

(a) Not decide that any unit is appropriate if such unit includes both professional and non-professional employes, unless a majority of such professional employes vote for inclusion in such unit and unless a majority of such non-professional employes vote for inclusion in such unit.

(b) Not permit correction officers or guards at prisons or other institutions, or any individual employed as a guard to enforce against other employes rules to protect property of the employer or to protect the safety of persons on the employer's premises to be included in a unit with other public employes.

(c) Not permit supervisors as defined in this Act to be included in a unit with the employes they supervise.

Section 7. A new section of KRS Chapter 336 is created to read as follows:

(1) When a petition has been filed, in accordance with such regulation as is prescribed by the board:

(a) By any employe or group of employes or any individual or employe organization acting in their behalf alleging that thirty (30) percent of the employes in an appropriate unit (i) wish to be represented for collective bargaining by an exclusive representative, or (ii) assert that the designated exclusive representative is no longer the representative of the majority of employes in the unit;

(b) By the employer alleging that one or more employes organizations have presented to it a claim to be recognized as the exclusive representative of an appropriate unit. The board shall investigate such petition, and if it has reasonable cause to believe that question of representation exists, it shall provide for an appropriate hearing upon due notice to the parties. Notice of the hearing shall be posted in conspicuous places about the premises of the employer and served upon the existing exclusive representative, if any, at least ten (10) days prior to the date of the hearing. If the board finds upon the record of such hearing that such a question of representation exists, it shall direct an election and shall certify the results thereof. No one shall be permitted to vote by mail or proxy. The board may also certify an employe organization as an exclusive representative if it determines that a free and untrammelled election cannot be conducted because of the employer's unfair labor practices and that at one time the employe organization had the support of the majority of the employes in the unit.

(2) Only those employes organizations which have been designated by more than ten (10) percent of the employes in the unit found to be appropriate shall be placed on the ballot. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the waiving of hearings by stipulation for the purpose: of a consent election, in conformity with the rules and regulations of the board; of recognizing an employe organization as the exclusive employe organization when there is no dispute as to its majority status, in which event the board shall, upon request by the employe organization, certify such employe organization as the exclusive employe organization of the employes in the unit.

(3) Representation elections shall be conducted by secret ballot at such times and places selected by the board subject to the following:

(a) The board shall give no less than ten days' notice of the time and place of such election.

(b) The board shall establish rules and regulations concerning the conduct of any election including but not limited to regulations which would guarantee the secrecy of the ballot.

(c) A representative may not be certified unless it receives a majority of the valid ballots cast.

(d) Except as provided herein, the board shall include on the ballot a choice of "no representative."

(e) In an election where none of the choices on the ballot receives a majority, a run-off election shall be conducted within a maximum of thirty days, the ballot providing for a selection between the two choices or parties receiving the highest and the second highest number of ballots cast in the election.

(f) No election shall be conducted pursuant to this section in any appropriate bargaining unit within which in the preceding twelve-month period a board-conducted election shall have been held nor during the term of any lawful collective bargaining agreement between a public employer and an exclusive representative. This restriction shall not apply to that period of time covered by any collective bargaining agreement which exceeds three years. For the purposes of this section, extensions of agreements shall not affect the expiration date of the original agreement.

(2) Petitions for elections may be filed with the board: (a) not sooner than one hundred twenty (120) days nor later than ninety (90) days before the expiration date of any collective bargaining agreement; or (b) after six (6) months after the expiration date until such time as a new written agreement has been executed. For the purposes of this section, mere extensions of the expiration dates of agreements shall not affect the expiration date of the original agreement.

Section 8. A new section of KRS Chapter 336 is created to read as follows:

(1) All matters pertaining to wages, salaries, employe benefits, and other terms and conditions of employment shall be subject to collective bargaining between the public employer and the exclusive representative.

(2) Nothing in this section shall interfere with the right of the public employer: (a) to direct and supervise employes; (b) to discipline employes for just cause; (c) subject to contract seniority and tenure rights, to determine the adequacy of the work force and to lay off employes for lack of work or funds; (d) to maintain the efficiency of governmental operations. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as preventing an employe from raising a legitimate complaint or filing a grievance based on the effects of such management decisions.

Section 9. A new section of KRS Chapter 336 is created to read as follows:

(1) Any collective bargaining agreement reached by the employer and the exclusive representative shall be immediately reduced to writing and executed by both parties.

(2) Said agreement, which shall contain a grievance procedure culminating with final and binding arbitration of unresolved grievances and disputed interpretations of agreements, shall be valid and enforced under its terms when entered into in accordance with the provisions of this Act. No publication thereof shall be required to make it effective. Suits for violation of agreements or the enforcement of an award by an arbitrator may be brought by the parties to such agreement in the circuit court for any county wherein a party resides or transacts business, or the Franklin circuit court.

(3) Said agreement shall contain a provision which requires the public employer to deduct the periodic dues, initiation fees and assessments or service fees uniformly required of members or employes represented by the exclusive representative upon presentation of a written deduction authorization; provided such authorization may be revocable by written notice to the public employer and the employe organization upon the will of the employe, at any anniversary date of the authorization. The deduction shall be made periodically as directed by the employe organization and remitted by the employer to the employe organization within thirty (30) days of the deduction.

(4) Until such time as a public employe organization has been certified as the exclusive representative, each public employer shall adopt policies or regulations which will provide for deductions from salaries of its employes or groups of employes, periodic dues or initiation fees and assessments of employe organization(s) upon written authorization by the member or group of employes, provided such authorization may be revocable by written notice to the public employer and the employe organization upon the will of the member.

Section 10. A new section of KRS Chapter 336 is created to read as follows:

In the event of a conflict in "an agreement between an employe organization and a public employer" and "the provisions of any law or ordinance pertaining to wages, hours, terms and conditions of employment, the provisions of the agreement shall prevail, provided that laws pertaining to workmen's compensation and the retirement of public employes shall prevail over conflicting provisions of agreements between employe organizations and public employers. The provisions of this Act shall prevail over any other conflicting statute or ordinance and further provide that nothing herein prohibits agreements establishing supplemental workmen's compensation and supplemental pension benefits.

Section 11. A new section of KRS Chapter 336 is created to read as follows:

(1) It shall be an unfair labor practice for a public employer to:

(a) Interfere with, restrain, or coerce employes in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in this Act;

(b) Initiate, create, dominate, interfere with the formation of administration of any employe organization, or contribute financial or other support to it; provided, that a public employer shall not be prohibited from permitting employes to confer with it during working hours or perform activities related to this Act without loss of time or pay;

(c) Discriminate in regard to hire or tenure of employment, or any term or conditions of employment on the basis of the exercise of rights guaranteed by this Act; provided that nothing in this Act or any other statute of this state shall preclude any employer from making and enforcing an agreement requiring as a condition of employment membership in an employe organization on or after the 30th day following the beginning of such employment or on the effective date of such agreement, whichever is the later;

(d) Discharge or otherwise discriminate against an employe because he has filed charges or given testimony under this Act;

(e) Refuse to bargain collectively with the exclusive representative of his employes or fail to submit to any required legislative body of the public employer for approval any provision of the agreement requiring legislative approval within fourteen (14) days after agreement is reached.

(2) It shall be an unfair labor practice for an employe organization, its agents, or representatives, or public employes to:

(a) Restrain or coerce (i) employes in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in this Act; provided, that this paragraph shall not impair the right of an employe organization to prescribe its own rules with respect to the acquisition or retention of membership therein; or (ii) an employer in the selection of his representative for the purpose of collective bargaining or the adjustment of grievances;

(b) Cause or attempt to cause an employer to violate Section 11(1) of this Act;

(c) Refuse to bargain collectively with a public employer, provided the employe organization has been certified as the exclusive representative of public employes in a bargaining unit;

(d) Fail to fairly represent all public employes in a bargaining unit.

(3) The determination by the board or any court that a public official or employe has committed any unfair labor practice prohibited by this section shall not in and of itself form the basis of any charge for the removal from office or recall of such public official or employe, but such determination may be introduced as evidence in support of such charge.

Section 12. A new section of KRS Chapter 336 is created to read as follows:

(1) Violation of Section 11 of this Act shall be deemed to be an unfair labor practice remediable by the board as provided in this section.

(2) If a charge is filed alleging that any person has engaged in or is engaging in any unfair labor practice, as defined in Section 11 of this Act, and it appears to the agent designated by the board for such purposes that formal proceedings in respect thereto should be instituted, he shall issue and cause to be served upon the charged party a formal complaint and a notice of hearing before the board or a member thereof, or before a designated agent or agency, at a place therein fixed, not less than ten days after the service of said complaint:

(a) Any such complaint may be amended by the board at any time prior to the issuance of an order based thereon; provided, that the charged party is not unfairly prejudiced thereby. The person so complained of shall be allowed to file an answer to the original or amended complaint. The board, the person making the charge, and the person charged shall be parties and shall have the right to appear or otherwise give testimony and subpoena witnesses at the place and time fixed in the notice of hearing. Any other interested person may be allowed upon motion to intervene in the said proceedings and to present testimony.

(b) The testimony taken by such member, agent, or agency or the board shall be reduced to writing and filed with the board; thereafter in discretion, the board, upon notice, may take further testimony or hear argument. If upon the preponderance of the testimony taken the board shall be of the opinion that any person named in the complaint has engaged in or is engaging in any such unfair labor practice, then the board shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on such person an order requiring that he cease and desist from these unfair labor practices, and take such affirmative action, including reinstatement of employes with or without back pay, as will effectuate the policies of this Act, provided, that where an order directs reinstatement of an employe, back pay may be required of the public employer or employe organizations, as the case may be, responsible for the discrimination suffered by him. Such order may further require such person to make reports from time to time showing the extent to which he has complied with the order.

(c) If upon the preponderance of the testimony taken the board shall not be of the opinion that the person named in the complaint has engaged in or is engaging in any such unfair labor practice, then it shall state it findings of fact and shall issue an order dismissing the said complaint. No notice of hearing shall be issued based upon any unfair labor practice occurring more than six (6) months prior to the filing of the charge with the board, unless the person aggrieved thereby was prevented from filing the charge by reason of service in the armed forces, in which event the six (6) months period shall be computed from the day of his discharge. No order of the board shall require the reinstatement of any individual as an employe or the payment to him of any back pay, if such individual was suspended or discharged for just cause. In case the evidence is presented before a member of the board, or before an examiner or examiners thereof, such member, or such examiner or examiners, as the case may be, shall issue and cause to be served on the parties to the proceeding a proposed decision, together with a recommended order, which shall be filed with the board, and if no exceptions are filed within twenty (20) days after service thereof, such recommended order shall become the order of the board and become effective as therein prescribed.

(d) If exceptions are filed to the proposed report, the board shall determine whether such exceptions raise substantial issues of fact or law, it may refuse to grant review, and the recommended order shall become effective as therein prescribed.

(3) Whenever a complaint alleges that a person has engaged in an unfair labor practice and that it will suffer substantial injury if it is not granted temporary relief, the board may petition the Franklin circuit court for appropriate injunctive relief, pending the final adjudication by the board with respect to such matter. Upon the filing of any such petition, the court shall cause notice thereof together with the time and place of hearing to be served upon the parties, and thereupon shall have jurisdiction to immediately conduct a hearing and grant such temporary relief or restraining order as it considers just and proper.

(4) Until the record in a case has been filed in a court, as hereinafter provided, the board may at any time upon reasonable notice and in such manner as it considers proper, modify or set aside, in whole or in part, any finding or order made or issued by it.

Section 13. A new section of KRS Chapter 336 is created to read as follows:

(1) The board or the complaining party shall have the power to petition the Franklin circuit court for the enforcement of such order and for appropriate temporary relief or restraining order, and the board shall certify and file in the court a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, including the pleadings and testimony upon which said order was entered and the findings and order of the board. When the board petitions the court, the complaining party shall be permitted to intervene in the case as a matter of right. Upon such filing, the court shall cause notice thereof to be served upon such person and thereupon shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding and the question determined therein, and shall have power to grant such temporary relief or restraining order as it deems just and proper, and to immediately make and enter upon the pleadings, testimony, and proceedings set forth in such transcript a decree enforcing, modifying, and enforcing as so modified, or setting aside in whole or in part the order of the board.

(2) The findings of the board as to the facts, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive. If either party shall apply to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence and show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence in the hearing before the board, its member, agent, or agency, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken immediately before the board, its member, agent, or agency, and to be made a part of the transcript. The board may modify its findings as to the facts, or make new findings, by reason of additional evidence so taken and filed, and it shall file such modified or new findings, which, if supported by such evidence, shall be conclusive and shall file its recommendations if any, for the modification or setting aside of its original order.

(3) The jurisdiction of the Franklin circuit court shall be exclusive and its judgment and decree shall be final, except that the same shall be subject to review on questions of law as in civil cases.

(4) Any person aggrieved by any final order of the board granting or denying, in whole or in part, the relief sought may obtain a review of such order in the Franklin circuit court by filing in such court a written petition praying that the order of the board be modified or set aside. A copy of such petition shall be forthwith served upon the board, and thereupon the board shall file in the court a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, certified by the board, including the pleadings and testimony upon which the order complained of was entered and the order of the board. Upon such filing, the court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to grant to the board such temporary relief or restraining order as it deems just and proper, and to immediately make and enter a decree enforcing, modifying and enforcing as so modified, or setting aside in whole or in part the order of the board, and the findings of the board as to the facts shall be conclusive.

(5) The commencement of proceedings under subsections (1) or (4) of this section shall not, unless specifically ordered by the court, operate as a stay of the board's order.

(6) Petitions filed under this Act shall be heard expeditiously by the circuit court to which presented and shall take precedent over all other civil matters except earlier matters of the same character.

Section 14. A new section of KRS Chapter 336 is created to read as follows:

The following procedures shall be followed in the resolution of disputes or negotiations between an employe organization and a public employer:

(a) Where a settlement procedure is provided in a collective bargaining agreement, such procedure shall prevail, or if such procedure does not terminate in voluntary, final and binding arbitration or does not otherwise result in a settlement, then the following procedure shall prevail:

(a) In the event that the parties are unable to reach agreement, any party may serve notice upon the board and the other parties to the dispute setting forth the names and addresses of the parties, the issues involved and the expiration date of the agreement if an agreement exists. Where an agreement exists the notice may be served not later than sixty (60) days before the expiration date, and the board shall be served with a copy of the agreement;

(b) The board shall intervene and investigate such disputes to determine whether the parties have engaged in collective bargaining;

(c) If an impasse exists, the board shall appoint a mediator to assist the parties;

(d) If the mediator advises the board that the parties are unable to reach agreement, or upon the expiration date of the agreement, if one exists, whichever occurs sooner, the board may in its discretion appoint a fact-finding panel of not more than three (3) members who have been selected by the parties in accordance with rules established by the board, from a list of qualified persons maintained by the board. The fact-finding panel shall in accordance with rules and procedures established by the board which shall include the regulation of costs and expenses of fact-finding, gather facts and make recommendations for the resolution of the matter;

(e) The fact-finding panel acting by a majority of its members, shall transmit its findings of fact and recommendations to the public employer and employe organization involved and to the board. Such findings of fact and recommendations shall be transmitted no later than thirty (30) days after the appointment of the fact-finding panel. The state shall pay one-half the costs of the fact-finding panel; the remaining one-half of the cost shall be divided equally between the parties.

(f) Not more than ten (10) days after the findings and recommendations shall have been sent, the parties shall notify the board and each other whether or not they accept the recommendations of the fact-finding panel and if they do not, the panel shall publicize its findings of fact and recommendations.

(g) If the parties are unable to reach agreement: within ten (10) days after the publication of the findings and recommendations from the fact-finding panel or if, where fact-finding has not been requested or ordered, mediation has failed to bring the parties into agreement or the collective bargaining agreement, if one exists, has expired, or thirty (30) days have elapsed since the board was notified that the parties cannot reach an agreement, then the matter shall be submitted to final and binding arbitration by an arbitrator selected by the parties. If the parties cannot agree upon an arbitrator within five (5) days, the board shall immediately appoint an arbitrator from a list of qualified persons maintained by the board.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the parties from voluntarily agreeing to submit any or all of the issues in dispute to final and binding arbitration. If such agreement is reached said arbitration shall supersede the settlement procedures set forth in this section. An agreement shall be enforceable in the same manner as is provided in Section 9(2).

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a party from seeking enforcement of a collective bargaining agreement or an arbitrator's award as provided in Section 9(2).

Nothing in this Act shall be construed as precluding subordinate governmental units from further extension of their rights. Such procedures shall be discussed before enactment within interested organizations involved, and the procedures shall be approved by the board as complying with this Act before being put into effect. Charges of departure from approved procedures may be brought before the board for remedy.

HB 86, AN ACT relating to highway construction and financing.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 175.500 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The authority is hereby authorized to provide, at one (1) time or from time to time, for the issuance of its turnpike revenue bonds for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of any one or more turnpike projects undertaken pursuant to an agreement and lease. The principal of and the interest on such bonds shall be payable solely from the funds provided for such payment. The bonds of any issue may be in one or more series and any one or more such series may enjoy equal or subordinate status with respect to the pledge of funds from which they are payable, shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rate or rates not exceeding six and one-half per cent (6 1/2%) per annum, shall mature at such time or times not exceeding forty (40) years from their date or dates, all as may be provided by the authority, and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the authority, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the authority prior to the issuance of the bonds. The authority shall determine the form of the bonds, including any interest coupons to be attached thereto, and shall fix the denomination or denominations of the bonds and the place or places for payment of principal and interest, which may be at any bank or trust company within or without the commonwealth. The bonds shall be signed by the facsimile signature of the chairman of the authority, and the seal of the authority or a facsimile thereof shall be affixed thereto and attested by the manual signature of the secretary of the authority, and any coupons attached thereto shall bear the facsimile signature of the chairman of the authority. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if he had remained in office until such delivery. All bonds issued under the provisions of this chapter shall have and are hereby declared to have all the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments under the negotiable instruments law of the commonwealth. The bonds may be issued in coupon or in registered form, or both, as the authority may determine, and provision may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal alone and also as to both principal and interest, and for the reconversion into coupon bonds of any bonds registered as to both principal and interest. The authority may sell such bonds in such manner, either at public or private sale, and for such price as it may determine will best effect the purposes of this chapter, but no such sale shall be made at a price so low as to require the payment of interest on the money received therefor at more than six and one-half per cent (6 1/2%) per annum computed with relation to the absolute maturity of the bonds in accordance with standard tables of bond values, excluding, however, from such computations the amount of any premium to be paid on redemption of any bonds prior to maturity.

(2) The proceeds of the bonds of each issue shall be used solely for the payment of the cost of the turnpike project or projects for which such bonds shall have been issued, and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, as the authority may provide in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of such bonds or in the trust indenture securing the same. If the proceeds of the bonds of any issue, by error of estimates or otherwise, shall be less than such cost, additional bonds may in like manner be issued to provide the amount of such deficit, and, unless otherwise provided in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of such bonds or in the trust indenture securing the same, shall be deemed to be of the same issue and shall be entitled to payment from the same fund without preference or priority of the bonds first issued. If the proceeds of the bonds of any issue shall exceed such cost, the surplus shall be deposited to the credit of the sinking fund or funds for such bonds or any account or accounts therein as the authority shall have provided in the proceedings or trust indenture authorizing and securing such bonds.

(3) Prior to the preparation of definitive bonds, the authority may, under like restrictions, issue interim receipts or temporary bonds, with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds when such bonds shall have been executed and are available for delivery. The authority may also provide for the replacement of any bonds which shall become mutilated or shall be destroyed or lost. Bonds may be issued under the provisions of this chapter without obtaining the consent of any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth, and without any other proceedings or the happening of any other conditions or things, except as specifically required by this chapter.

(4) Prior to the issuance of definitive bonds or temporary bonds, or the securing of interim financing through bond anticipation notes or by any other means, the authority shall first obtain approval of the General Assembly sitting in regular or special session.

(5) This approval shall be by a joint resolution, which shall identify the project to be funded, as well as the source and amount of funds, and by appropriation of the first year's debt service. This shall not be construed as precluding feasibility studies conducted by the department with other available funds.

Section 2. KRS 177.450 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The bureau is hereby authorized to provide, at one time or from time to time, for the issuance of turnpike revenue bonds of the commonwealth for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of any one or more turnpike projects. The principal of and the interest on such bonds shall be payable solely from the funds provided in KRS 177.390 to 177.570 for such payment. The bonds of any issue may be in one (1) or more series and any one (1) or more of such series may enjoy equal or subordinate status with respect to the pledge of funds from which they are payable, shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rate or rates not exceeding six per cent (6%) per annum, shall mature at such time or times not exceeding forty (40) years from their date or dates, all as may be determined by the bureau, and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the bureau, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the bureau prior to the issuance of the bonds. The bureau shall determine the form of the bonds, including any interest coupons to be attached thereto, and shall fix the denomination or denominations of the bonds and the place or places for payment of principal and interest, which may be at any bank or trust company within or without the commonwealth. The bonds shall be signed by the commissioner of highways, and the great seal of the commonwealth or a facsimile thereof shall be affixed thereto and attested by the secretary of state by his facsimile signature, and any coupons attached thereto shall bear the facsimile signature of said commissioner of highways. In case any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds, such signature or such facsimile shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if he had remained in office until such delivery. All bonds issued under the provisions of KRS 177.390 to 177.570 shall have and are hereby declared to have all the qualities and incidents of negotiable instruments under the negotiable instruments law of the commonwealth. The bonds may be issued in coupon or in registered form, or both, as the bureau may determine, and provision may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal alone and also as to both principal and interest, and for the reconversion into coupon bonds of any bonds registered as to both principal and interest. The bureau may sell such bonds in such manner, either at public or private sale, and for such price as it may determine will best effect the purposes of KRS 177.390 to 177.570, but no such sale shall be made at a price so low as to require the payment of interest on the money received therefor at more than six per cent (6%) per annum computed with relation to the absolute maturity of the bonds in accordance with standard tables of bond values, excluding, however, from such computations the amount of any premium to be paid on redemption of any bonds prior to maturity.

(2) The proceeds of the bonds of each issue shall be used solely for the payment of the cost of the turnpike project or projects for which such bonds shall have been issued, and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, as the bureau may provide in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of such bonds or in the trust agreement mentioned in KRS 177.460 securing the same. If the proceeds of the bonds of any issue, by error of estimates or otherwise, shall be less than such cost, additional bonds may in like manner be issued to provide the amount of such deficit, and, unless otherwise provided in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of such bonds or in the trust agreement securing the same, shall be deemed to be of the same issue and shall be entitled to payment from the same fund without preference or priority of the bonds first issued. If the proceeds of the bonds of any issue shall exceed such cost, the surplus shall be deposited to the credit of the sinking fund or funds for such bonds or any account or accounts therein as the bureau shall have provided in the proceedings or trust agreement authorizing and securing such bonds.

(3) Prior to the preparation of definitive bonds, the bureau may, under like restrictions, issue interim receipts or temporary bonds, with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds when such bonds shall have been executed and are available for delivery. The bureau may also provide for the replacement of any bonds which shall become mutilated or shall be destroyed or lost. Bonds may be issued under the provisions of KRS 177.390 to 177.570 without obtaining the consent of any department, division, commission, board, bureau or agency of the commonwealth, and without any other proceedings or the happening of any other conditions or things than those proceedings, conditions or things which are specifically required by KRS 177.390 to 177.570.

(4) Prior to the issuance of definitive bonds or temporary bonds, or the securing of interim financing through bond anticipation notes or by any other means, the bureau shall first obtain approval of the General Assembly sitting in regular or special session.

(5) This approval shall be a joint resolution, which shall identify the project to be funded, as well as the source and amount of funds, and by appropriation of the first year's debt service. This shall not be construed as precluding feasibility studies conducted by the department with other available funds.

Section 3. KRS 180.070 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The bureau may issue negotiable bonds in order to raise funds to:

(a) [(1)] Acquire rights of way or other real or personal property necessary for constructing a bridge or bridge approach;

(b) [(2)] Pay for the purchase or condemnation of a bridge or bridge approach;

(c) [(3)] Build or cause to be built any bridge including approaches;

(2) Prior to the issuance of definitive bonds or temporary bonds, or the securing of interim financing through bond anticipation notes or by any other means, the bureau shall first obtain approval of the General Assembly sitting in regular or special session.

(3) This approval shall be by a joint resolution, which shall identify the project to be funded, as well as the source and amount of funds, and by appropriation of the first year's debt service. This shall not be construed as precluding feasibility studies conducted by the department with other available funds.

In a tort action for damages on the basis of negligence, recklessness or strict liability, including statutory actions unless otherwise expressed or construed, contributory fault of the plaintiff, or, in a derivative action the person injured or killed, whether previously constituting a defense or not, does not necessarily bar recovery, but the damages are diminished in proportion to the amount of fault attributable to the plaintiff, the injured person or the decedent.

Section 2. A new section of KRS Chapter 411 is created to read as follows:

In a tort action involving contributory fault, the court shall instruct the jury to give answers to special interrogatories, or make findings itself if there is no jury, which indicate:

(1) The amount of damages which would have been recoverable if there had been no contributory fault,

(2) The percentage of the contributory fault for each plaintiff as compared with the total fault of all of the parties to the action, and

(3) The percentage of the fault of each defendant as compared with the total fault of all of the parties to the action.

Section 3. A new section of KRS Chapter 411 is created to read as follows:

This Act does not change common law principles of joint and several liability of joint tortfeasors. Contribution rights among multiple defendants are determined in accordance with the percentage of fault of each defendant, as found by the trier of fact. The court enters judgments on the basis of these principles and the findings made under Section 2.

Section 4. A new section of KRS Chapter 411 is created to read as follows:

To the extent that liability insurance is available to pay a judgment entered under this Act the principle of setoff is not applied.

SECTION 2. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) "Condemn" means to take private property for a public purpose under the right of eminent domain;

(2) "Condemnor" shall mean and include any person, corporation or entity, including the commonwealth of Kentucky, its agencies and departments, county, municipality and taxing district authorized and empowered by law to exercise the right of eminent domain;

(3) "Condemnee" means the owner of the property interest being taken;

(4) "Court" means the circuit court;

(5) "Property" means real or personal property, or both, of any nature or kind that is subject to condemnation;

(6) "Eminent domain" means the right of the commonwealth to take for a public purpose and shall include the right of private persons, corporations or business entities to do so under authority of law.

SECTION 3. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

Whenever any condemnor cannot, by agreement with the owner thereof, acquire the property right, privileges or easements needed for any of the uses or purposes for which the condemnor is authorized by law, to exercise its right of eminent domain, the condemnor may condemn such property, property rights, privileges or easements pursuant to the provisions of this Act. It is not a prerequisite to an action to attempt to agree with an owner who is unknown or who, after reasonable effort, cannot be found within the state or with an owner who is under a disability.

SECTION 4. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

Prior to the filing of the petition to condemn, the condemnor or its employes or agents shall have the right to enter upon any land or improvement which it has the power to condemn, in order to make studies, surveys, tests, sounding and appraisals, provided that the owner of the land or the party in whose name the property is assessed has been notified ten days prior to entry on the property. Any actual damages sustained by the owner of a property interest in the property entered upon by the condemnor shall be paid by the condemnor and shall be assessed by the court or the court may refer the matter to commissioners to ascertain and assess the damages sustained by the condemnee, which award shall be subject to appeal.

SECTION 5. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

A condemnor seeking to condemn property or the use and occupation thereof, shall file a verified petition in the circuit court of the county in which all or the greater portion of the property sought to be condemned is located, which petition shall state that it is filed under the provisions of this Act and shall contain, in substance:

(1) Allegations sufficient to show that the petitioner is entitled, under the provisions of applicable law, to exercise the right of eminent domain and to condemn the property, or the use and occupation thereof, sought to be taken in such proceedings;

(2) A particular description of the property and the use and occupation thereof sought to be condemned; and

(3) An application to the court to appoint commissioners to award the amount of compensation the owner of the property sought to be condemned is entitled to receive therefor.

SECTION 6. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) The circuit court, or in the absence of the circuit judge from the county, the circuit court clerk, shall appoint as commissioners three impartial housekeepers of the county who are owners of land. They shall be sworn to faithfully and impartially discharge their duties under this section. The commissioners shall view the land or material sought to be condemned and award to the owner or owners such a sum as will fairly represent the reduction in the market value of the entire property, all of or a portion of which is sought to be condemned, said sum being the difference between the market value of the entire property immediately before the taking and the market value of the remainder of the property immediately after the taking thereof, together with the fair rental value of any temporary easements sought to be condemned. Within fifteen days from the date of their appointment, they shall return a written report to the office of the circuit court, stating the above values in their award and shall describe in their report the property sought to be condemned. They shall be allowed a reasonable fee which shall be taxed as costs.

(2) In the event any person appointed to serve as commissioner fails, refuses or becomes incapable of acting, the court, or judge thereof, shall forthwith appoint a qualified person to fill the vacancy. A majority of the commissioners appointed and qualified have the power to act and to make and sign the award and report. If a majority of the commissioners do not agree on a decision, three new commissioners shall be appointed by the court on application by any of the parties to the action.

SECTION 7. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

Upon the application of the petitioner, and the filing of any necessary affidavits, the clerk of the court shall issue process against the owner to show cause why the petitioner does not have the right to condemn the lands, or the use and occupation thereof sought to be condemned. The summons shall contain a statement of the amount of the award and shall state that an answer or other pleading, if any, must be filed within twenty days from date of service. The clerk shall make such orders as to nonresidents and persons under disability as are required by the statutes and Rules of Civil Procedure in actions against them in circuit courts.

SECTION 8. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

Any answer or other pleading filed by the owner in response to the summons shall be filed on or before the twenty (20) days after date of service and shall be confined solely to the question of the right of the petitioner to condemn the property sought to be condemned, but without prejudice to the owner's right to except from the amount of the compensation awarded in the manner provided in this Act.

SECTION 9. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) After the owner has been summoned twenty (20) days, the court shall examine the report of the commissioners to determine whether it conforms to the provisions of Section 6 of this Act. If the report of the commissioners is not in the proper form the court shall require the commissioners to make such corrections as are necessary.

(2) If no answer or other pleading is filed by the owner or owners putting in issue the right of the petitioner to condemn the property or the use and occupation thereof sought to be condemned, the court shall enter an interlocutory judgment which shall contain, in substance:

(a) A finding that the petitioner has the right, under the provisions of this Act and other applicable law to condemn the property or the use and occupation thereof;

(b) A finding that the report of the commissioners conforms to the provisions of Section 6 of this Act;

(c) An authorization to take possession of the property for the purposes and under the conditions and limitations, if any, set forth in the petition upon payment to the owner or to the clerk of the court the amount of the compensation awarded by the commissioners;

(d) Proper provision for the conveyance of the title to the land and material, to the extent condemned, as adjudged therein in the event no exception is taken as provided in subsection (1) of Section 10 of this Act.

(3) Any exception from such interlocutory judgment by either party or both parties shall be confined solely to exceptions to the amount of compensation awarded by the commissioners.

(4) If the owner has filed answer or pleading putting in issue the right of the petitioner to condemn the property or use and occupation thereof sought to be condemned, the court shall, without intervention of jury, proceed forthwith to hear and determine whether or not the petitioner has such right. If the court determines that petitioner has such rights, an interlocutory judgment, as provided for in subsection (2) of this Section, shall be entered. If the court determines that petitioner does not have such right, it shall enter a final judgment which shall contain, in substance:

(a) A finding that the report of the commissioners conforms to the provisions of Section 6 of this Act;

(b) A finding that the petitioner is not authorized to condemn the property or the use and occupation thereof for the purposes and under the conditions and limitations set forth in the petition, stating the particular ground or grounds on which the petitioner is not so authorized;

(c) An order dismissing the petition and directing the petitioner to pay all costs.

SECTION 10. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) Within thirty (30) days from the date of entry of an interlocutory judgment authorizing the petitioner to take possession of the property, exceptions may be filed by either party or both parties by filing with the clerk of the circuit court and serving upon the other party or parties a statement of exceptions, which statement shall contain any exceptions the party has to the award made by the commissioners. The statement of exceptions shall be tried, but shall be limited to the questions which are raised in the original statements of the exceptions, or as amended, but the owner shall not be permitted to raise any question, nor shall the court reconsider any question so raised, concerning the right of the petitioner to condemn the property. All questions of fact pertaining to the amount of compensation to the owner, or owners, shall be determined by a jury, which jury on the motion of either party shall be sent by the court, in the charge of the sheriff, to view the land and material. After a jury trial, and if possession previously has not been taken by the condemnor of the land and material condemned, it may do so upon the payment to the owner or to the clerk of the circuit court the amount of the compensation adjudged by the circuit court to be due the owner.

(2) Appeals may be taken to the Court of Appeals from the final judgment of the circuit court as in other cases except that an appeal by the owner shall not operate as a supersedeas.

(3) The payment by the condemnor of the amount of compensation awarded and the taking possession of the lands and material condemned shall not prejudice its right to except from the award of the commissioners or the judgment of any court, nor shall the acceptance by the owner of the amount of the compensation awarded prejudice his right to except from the award of the commissioners or the judgment of any court.

(4) All costs in the circuit court shall be adjudged against the condemnor.

(5) If the condemnor takes possession of the property condemned and the amount of compensation is thereafter increased over that awarded by the commissioners, the condemnor shall pay interest to the owner at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum upon the amount of such increase from the date the condemnor took possession of the property. If the condemnor takes possession of the property condemned and the amount of compensation is thereafter decreased below that awarded by the commissioners, the condemnor shall be entitled to a personal judgment against the owner for the amount of the decrease plus interest at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum from the date the owner accepted the amount of compensation the condemnor paid into court or to the owner. If the owner at all times refuses to accept the payment tendered by the condemnor, no interest shall be allowed in the judgment against the owner for the amount of the decrease.

(6) Upon the final determination of exceptions, or upon expiration of thirty (30) days from entry of the interlocutory judgment if no exceptions are filed, the circuit court shall make such orders as may be proper for the conveyance of the title to the extent condemned, to the property, and shall enter such final judgment as may be appropriate.

SECTION 11. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

All money paid into court or paid or transferred to the clerk of a court under the provisions of this Act shall be received by the clerk of the court and held subject to the order of the court, for which the clerk and his sureties on his official bond shall be responsible to the persons entitled thereto.

SECTION 12. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

Where there are conflicting claimants to the land sought to be condemned and all such parties are before the court, each claimant, for the purposes of the condemnation proceeding only, shall be deemed to be an owner, and the procedure for the condemnation of the land shall be as provided in this Act except that, before the condemnor shall be entitled to take possession of the land, it shall be required to pay the compensation awarded therein to the circuit court clerk to be held for the benefit of, and paid over to such persons as may thereafter be determined to be entitled to receive it. In such cases, the claimants may have their rights determined in a separate action, but the filing of such action or its pendency shall in no wise stay or delay said condemnation proceedings.

SECTION 13. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

All proceedings under this Act shall be governed by the provisions of the Rules of Civil Procedure except where the provisions of this Act specifically or by necessary implication provide otherwise.

SECTION 14. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) In all actions for the condemnation of lands under the provisions of this Act, except temporary easements, there shall be awarded to the landowners as compensation such a sum as will fairly represent the difference between the fair market value of the entire tract, all or a portion of which is sought to be condemned, immediately before the taking and the fair market value of the remainder thereof immediately after the taking, including in the remainder all rights which the landowner may retain in the lands sought to be condemned where less than the fee simple interest therein is taken, together with the fair rental value of any temporary easements sought to be condemned.

(2) Any change in the fair market value prior to the date of condemnation which the condemnor or condemnee establishes was substantially due to the general knowledge of the imminence of condemnation shall be disregarded in determining fair market value. The taking date for valuation purposes shall be either the date the condemnor takes the land, or the date of the trial of the issue of just compensation, whichever occurs first.

(1) Any property which has been acquired through condemnation shall be developed within a period of five years for the purpose for which it was condemned. The failure of the condemnor to so develop shall entitle the condemnee landowner to repurchase the property at the price the condemnor paid to the landowner for the property. The person from whom the land is taken by condemnation may reacquire the land as aforementioned by application to a court of competent jurisdiction, if such procedure is necessary and may recover his costs and reasonable attorneys' fees necessary to reacquire the land.

(2) If the property is not developed within a period of five years pursuant to the provisions of this Section, the condemnor may apply to a court of competent jurisdiction to extend the period of time before which the condemnee landowner shall be entitled to reacquire the property condemned. The court shall determine as a matter of law whether to grant such extension and the period of time for which the extension shall be granted.

Section 16. KRS 36.070 is amended to read as follows:

The facilities division shall be headed by a director experienced in the administration of real property. The division may make contracts, acquire real and personal property by gift, purchase, or by condemnation in the manner prescribed in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.120], and may do all things necessary to perform its duties under KRS 36.070 to 36.090.

Section 17. KRS 36.080 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The facilities division shall provide adequate armories, buildings and grounds for the Kentucky army and air national guard for its purposes of drill, instruction and administration and for the safekeeping of public property of the state and the United States issued to or for the use of the Kentucky national guard.

(2) The facilities division may, either alone or in cooperation with the United States government, counties, cities, private corporations, voluntary unincorporated associations or individuals, construct, or acquire by purchase, contract, lease, gift, donations, or by condemnation in the manner prescribed in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.120], armories, buildings or grounds suitable for drill, instruction and administration and the safekeeping of public property, and make additions and improvements in or to such armories and facilities. The division may, either alone or with the like cooperation of others, provide heat, light, water, telephone service and other costs of operation and maintenance, including insurance.

(3) The amounts to be spent for the construction, acquisition, maintenance and rental of armories shall be wholly within the discretion of the adjutant general.

Section 18. KRS 36.090 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The fiscal court of any county and the governing body of any city wherein a unit of the Kentucky national guard is established may, either severally or acting jointly with each other or with the facilities division, construct, or acquire by purchase, contract, lease, gift, donation, or by condemnation in the manner prescribed in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.120], grounds, buildings, and facilities suitable for national guard and community purposes. The buildings or the plans and specifications therefor must first be approved by the facilities division as suitable for use as armories by the national guard units in the county or city, and the fiscal court or governing body of the city must have first contracted with the facilities division for the use of the building as an armory by the national guard units upon terms consistent with KRS 36.070 to KRS 36.090.

(2) For the purpose of providing necessary funds for the acquisition or construction of the buildings and grounds, and the cost of maintenance and operation thereof, the fiscal court or governing body of the city may annually levy and collect a tax not exceeding ten cents (10¢) on each one hundred dollars ($100) worth of taxable property in the county or city, as determined by the last regular assessment for county or city taxes. If funds received from donations or from earnings from the building, together with rentals received from the facilities division, are adequate to provide for all expenses of operation and maintenance, the tax levies may be withheld and appropriated to the general expense fund of the county or city. If any county has, under pre-existing laws, acquired or constructed buildings and grounds suitable for public assemblages, conventions, exhibitions and entertainments, and also for armory purposes, and shall contract with the facilities division for the use thereof by national guard units upon terms consistent with KRS 36.070 to KRS 36.090, the fiscal court of the county may levy and collect necessary taxes, not exceeding ten cents (10¢) on each one hundred dollars ($100) worth of taxable property, for the payment of expenses of operation and maintenance.

The permanent housing program shall include provisions for housing the general assembly and its related agencies, including the legislative research commission, and its subcommittees, the executive offices, the Court of Appeals and the clerk of the Court of Appeals, the department of law and the law library, in the new state capitol, provided the general assembly and the legislative research commission shall have complete control and exclusive use of the third and fourth floors of the new state capitol. (13) Do all acts necessary and proper to carry out the powers expressly granted in KRS 58.210 to 58.315.

Section 22. KRS 65.530 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The purposes of the authority shall be to establish, maintain, operate and expand necessary and proper riverport and river navigation facilities, and to acquire and develop property, or rights therein within the economic environs of the riverport or proposed riverport to attract directly or indirectly river-oriented industry. It shall have the duty and such powers as may be necessary or desirable to promote and develop navigation, river transportation, riverports, and riverport facilities, and to attract industrial or commercial operations to the property held as industrial parks.

(2) The authority shall establish and fix reasonable rates, charges and fees for the use of the riverport facilities which shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the riverport is located. In fixing such rates, charges or fees the authority may take into consideration, among other factors, the total capital investment of the authority, the revenue needed properly to maintain such facilities, the revenue needed properly to expand the riverport and its facilities, the portion of the facilities utilized by the licensee or contracting party and its customers and the volume and type of business conducted. Any party aggrieved by the rates, charges or fees may appeal from the action of the authority to the circuit court of the county within which the authority operates, within ninety (90) days from the date that the authority finally publishes such rates, charges or fees and gives notice of same to the contracting party or licensee. The circuit court may hear evidence and determine whether or not the rates, charges or fees are, or are not, reasonable in amount. Appeal from the judgment of the circuit court may be prosecuted as any other civil appeal.

(3) The authority shall also have power, from time to time, to fix rates, charges or fees by contract, or by publishing general rates, charges or fees for commercial vendors, concessionaires or other persons for the use or occupancy of riverport facilities under such terms and conditions as it may deem to be in the best interest of maintaining, operating or expanding necessary riverport facilities, and the public use thereof.

(4) The authority may acquire by contract, lease, purchase, option, gift, condemnation or otherwise any real or personal property, or rights therein, necessary or suitable for establishing, developing, operating or expanding riverports, riverport facilities, water navigation facilities, including spoilage areas for the disposal of materials dredged from river bottoms in an effort to improve the navigability of rivers, and industrial parks or sites within the economic environs of the riverport or proposed riverport. The authority may erect, equip, operate and maintain on such property buildings and equipment necessary and proper for riverport and water navigation facilities. The authority may dispose of any real or personal property, or rights therein, which in the opinion of the authority is not needed for use as riverport or water navigation facilities, or use as industrial parks or sites. The authority may lease, sell, convey, or assign its interest in land owned, optioned, or otherwise held by it to any person for the purpose of constructing and/or operating any industrial or commercial facility or for the purpose of acting as the authority's agent or licensee in effectively carrying out any of its powers and duties.

(5) With the consent of the legislative body of the governmental unit in which the property to be condemned is located, the authority may by resolution, reciting that the property cannot be acquired by purchase or agreement and is needed for riverport, water navigation, or industrial purposes in accordance with the powers set forth in subsection (4) of this section, direct the condemnation of any property. The procedure for condemnation shall conform to the procedure set out in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 58.140]

(6) The authority may apply for, receive authorization for, establish and operate a foreign trade zone, as permitted by 19 U. S. C. section 81, provided approval is obtained from the Kentucky port and river development commission.

Section 23. KRS 67.085 is amended to read as follows:

Whenever the fiscal court of any county deems it to be in the best interest of the county to acquire the fee simple title to any real property within such county for any administrative or governmental purpose in addition to those now provided for by law and the fiscal court is unable to contract with the owner of the land, required for such purpose, for its purchase or to acquire the same by gift, the land may be condemned under the procedure set forth in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.110], and said fiscal court may appropriate funds to pay for said real property.

Section 24. KRS 74.090 is amended to read as follows:

If it becomes necessary to acquire a right of way or land, and it cannot be acquired by purchase, the commission may condemn the needed property in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080]. The owners of land sought to be condemned shall be made parties to the proceeding. Any damage awarded shall be paid by the commission out of the first funds available.

Section 25. KRS 76.080 is amended to read as follows:

The district created under the provisions of KRS 76.010 to 76.210 is empowered:

(1) To have jurisdiction, control, possession, and supervision of the existing sewer and drainage system of the city of the first or second class; to maintain, operate, reconstruct, and improve the same as a comprehensive sewer and drainage system; to make additions, betterments, and extensions thereto within the district area; and to have all the rights, privileges, and jurisdiction necessary or proper for carrying such powers into execution. No enumeration of powers in KRS 76.010 to 76.210 shall operate to restrict the meaning of this general grant of power or to exclude other powers comprehended within this general grant.

(2) To prepare or cause to be prepared and to be thereafter revised and adopted, plans, designs, and estimates of costs, of a system of trunk, intercepting, connecting, lateral, and outlet sewers, storm water drains, pumping and ventilating stations, disposal and treatment plants and works, and all other appliances and structures which in the judgment of the board will provide an effective and advantageous means for relieving the district area from inadequate sanitary and storm water drainage and from inadequate sanitary disposal and treatment of the sewage thereof, or such sections or parts of such system of the district area as the board may from time to time deem proper or convenient to construct, consistent with the plans and purposes of KRS 76.010 to 76.210, and may take all steps the board deems proper and necessary to effect the purposes of KRS 76.010 to 76.210.

(3) To construct any additions, betterments and extensions to the facilities of the district, within or without the district area, and to construct any construction subdistrict facilities or additions, betterments and extensions thereto, within or without the district area, by contract or under, through, or by means of its own officers, agents and employes. No construction or extensions shall be started within the city of the first or second class until, firstly, the city's director of works, and secondly, its board of aldermen have approved the plans. No construction or extensions shall be started in any city of the second, third, or fourth class until the governing authorities of such city or cities have approved the plans. No construction or extensions shall be started in any other part of the county until the plans have been approved, firstly, by the county engineer and, secondly, by the fiscal court.

(4) To establish, construct, operate, and maintain, as a part of the sewer and drainage system of the district, sewage treatment and disposal plants and systems and all the appurtenances and appliances thereunto belonging. The sewage treatment and disposal plants may be located in the city, or beyond the limits of the city in the county in which the city is located, as the board deems expedient.

An authority shall not condemn any real and personal property, franchises, bus certificates, easements and other rights of a private bus company the majority of whose passengers move between termini without the transit area. Any exercise of such power shall be initiated by resolution of the board of the authority identifying the properties or rights to be acquired, reciting the board's determination that acquisition by such means is necessary, and authorizing initiation of proceedings as required by law; and such resolution of the board of the authority shall not be conclusive of such determination but shall be subject to the approval of the fiscal court or courts of the county or counties in which the property sought to be condemned is located.

(4) Proceedings in the exercise of the power of eminent domain herein vested in an authority shall, except where inconsistent with this chapter, be such as are prescribed for the State Bureau of Highways by the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 177.082 to 177.089], inclusive, and as the same may be amended and supplemented from time to time. All such proceedings shall be governed by the provisions of the Rules of Civil Procedure except where the provisions of this chapter or of the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 177.082 to 177.089], inclusive, specifically or by necessary implication provide otherwise. If a privately owned mass transportation system, or other property sought to be acquired by an authority, shall have been acquired or improved in whole or in part at the expense of the authority, the cost and value of such acquisitions and improvements shall be excluded in any proceedings to establish the fair value thereof.

(5) During any period when negotiations for the purchase of a mass transit system are in progress, and/or during any period when proceedings for acquisition of a mass transportation system through exercise of the power of eminent domain may be pending, an authority may make reasonable subsidy payments to the owner or owners of such mass transit system if, in the judgment of the board of the authority, such subsidy payments are necessary in order to give reasonable assurance that there will be no substantial reduction of transportation service to the public. Such subsidy payments may be made by an authority from any resources available to it, or from appropriations made or agreed to be made to it by any public body having an interest in the preservation of mass transit service to the public; and if bonds are ultimately issued for the purchase or other acquisition of such mass transit system, the aggregate amount of such subsidy payments may be included as a part of the cost of acquisition and made payable from the proceeds of such bonds. In no event, however, shall any action on the part of a board of an authority in this connection create an indebtedness of the authority beyond its available resources or such appropriations or the proceeds of such bonds, if and when bonds are issued.

Section 50. KRS 97.257 is amended to read as follows:

Whenever property shall be needed by any city of the first class for any park, playground, or community center purpose contemplated in KRS 97.250 to 97.257, either within or beyond the boundaries of such city, in the county in which such city is located, the director of parks and recreation may, with the consent of the legislative body of such city, order the condemnation of such property in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.120].

Section 51. KRS 97.540 is amended to read as follows:

Whenever, in the opinion of the legislative body of any city of the third class, land or other property located either within or without the boundaries of the city and within the county in which the city is located is needed for cemetery or park purposes and the legislative body is not able to contract with the owner of the property for its purchase, the legislative body may, by resolution reciting such need, order the condemnation of such property. The proceedings shall be conducted in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

Section 52. KRS 97.680 is amended to read as follows:

The commission may acquire, by gift, purchase, lease or condemnation, any real or personal property situated wholly within the city or county, or any interest, franchise, easement, right or privilege in the city or county, of any buildings, tools, machinery, materials or supplies that may be required for the purpose of furnishing, maintaining or operating the memorial. The proceedings for condemnation shall be conducted in the name of the commission in the method prescribed by the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.120]. All property acquired by the commission shall be held, used and controlled by it for the purposes named in KRS 97.630 to 97.780.

Section 53. KRS 98.090 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The commission may:

(a) Make such preliminary investigations and do such preliminary work as should, in its judgment, precede the actual construction of the building or improvement.

(b) Determine upon a proper site for the building or improvement. If the city owns a public building, that site, as it exists or as enlarged by the acquisition of adjacent property recommended by the commission, shall be used unless the commission determines that it is unsuitable for the purpose and recommends to the mayor the acquisition of another site. The mayor shall submit the recommendation to the legislative body for approval. The new site shall be adopted only upon the approval of the change by legislative resolution approved by the mayor. In the event the existing building on the old site is to be abandoned, the old site may be sold and the proceeds applied to the purchase of the new site.

(c) Provide accommodations for patients or inmates of the existing public building while the new building is in course of erection and furnishing. The legislative body may, out of its levy for the department having supervision of such buildings, assume the whole or part of the expense of providing such temporary accommodations.

(d) Establish and enforce reasonable rules and regulations for its own government and for the supervision, protection, management and conduct of its work and the payment therefor as it deems expedient.

(e) Purchase, hire or otherwise obtain the use of such lands, buildings, machinery, supplies, materials and working agencies as it needs for its purposes.

(f) Acquire by gift, purchase, lease or condemnation, any property situated within the city or county where the city is located, or any interest or privilege in the property, required for the building or improvement. The method of condemnation shall be the same as in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.120].

(2) The enumeration of special powers in this section does not restrict the general powers of the commission to carry out the purposes of KRS 98.040 to 98.170.

Section 54. KRS 99.420 is amended to read as follows:

Whenever in the opinion of the agency, land or other property, right of way or easement over or through any property is needed by the agency in order to accomplish the purposes of KRS 99.330 to 99.510, it may by resolution authorize the purchase or condemnation in the name of the agency, of the land or other property, or right of way or easement necessary for the purpose, and may proceed to condemn and acquire the property pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [in the following manner:

(1) The proceedings for condemnation shall be in the circuit court in the county in which the property sought to be condemned, or the greater part thereof, lies. The proceeding shall be in the name of the agency. Proceedings shall be commenced by filing a complaint against all persons having an interest in the property, describing the property, right of way (if any) or easement (if any) sought to be condemned, and the complaint shall include a request for the court, or a judge thereof if the court is in vacation, to appoint commissioners to assess the value which the owners thereof are entitled to receive. The owners of two (2) or more different properties sought to be condemned for the same purpose may be joined and proceeded against in a single action, but the lands and properties of each shall be separately described.

(2) Upon the filing of the complaint, the circuit court, or a judge thereof, shall, in writing, forthwith appoint three (3) disinterested, impartial citizens and residents of the county, who shall be sworn by the court, a judge thereof, or by any person authorized to administer oaths, to faithfully, fairly and impartially discharge their duties. The order appointing the commissioners shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court immediately upon its signing, and shall become part of the proceedings as of the date filed. In the event any person so appointed fails, refuses or becomes incapable of acting, the court, or judge thereof, shall forthwith appoint a qualified person to fill the vacancy. A majority of the commissioners appointed and qualified have the power to act and to make and sign the award and report.

(3) The commissioners shall immediately upon their appointment take the oath of office, and shall enter in and upon the property, right of way (if any) or easement (if any) sought to be condemned, and shall view same. They may hear evidence or make any inquiry they desire touching the value thereof. They shall award to the owner of each parcel of land and property the fair market value thereof. Property owned by the same owner, which is contiguous and adjacent may be considered as one (1) parcel and may be included by the commissioners under a single award. If less than an entire parcel of contiguous property belonging to the same owner is sought to be condemned, the commissioners shall also award to the owner the difference between the fair market value of the entire parcel of property before and after the taking. The award of the commissioners shall be filed by them, in writing, in the office of the circuit clerk, within fifteen (15) days after the day the order appointing the commissioners is filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court, and shall be styled "Report and Award of Commissioners."

(4) Immediately upon the filing of the complaint, the clerk of the circuit court shall cause summons and process to issue against the defendants. The summons shall be issued in the same form and in the same manner as provided for upon the filing of a complaint under the Rules of Civil Procedure, except that the summons shall also contain the notification that the defendant shall serve his answer or other pleading within twenty (20) days after the filing of the report and award of the commissioners and notification that exceptions to the report and award of the commissioners must be filed within the same period of time. The action and proceedings shall be carried on as nearly as may be as ordinary civil actions at law are conducted. Nonresidents and persons under disability shall be proceeded against as provided by the Rules of Civil Procedure. Defenses and exceptions for nonresidents and persons under disability may be made and filed by any person authorized to make defense for such persons under the Rules of Civil Procedure.

(5) Any answer or other pleading filed by any defendant in response to the summons shall be confined solely to the question of the right of the agency to condemn the property sought to be condemned, but without prejudice to the right of the defendant, then and thereafter, within proper time, to file exceptions to the amount of compensation awarded in the report and award of the commissioners. Any issue raised in the answer or other pleading filed, putting in issue the right of the agency to condemn the property shall be promptly heard and decided by the court, without a jury. If the court finds the agency has no right to take the property in condemnation for the purpose of uses sought, it shall dismiss the complaint at the costs of the agency.

(6) If answer or other pleading is timely filed putting in issue the right of the agency to condemn the property, the time for filing exceptions to the report and award of commissioners shall automatically be extended to a time not later than ten (10) days after the decision by the court of the issue, and if the court decides that the agency does have the right to take the property in condemnation for the purposes or uses sought, the defendants shall file exceptions, should they desire so to do, to the report and award of commissioners within ten (10) days, if same has not theretofore been filed. If the defendants do not file an answer or pleading putting in issue the right of the agency to condemn the property, or having filed same is not sustained by the court, and, in either event, if the agency and the defendants do not file exceptions to the report and award of commissioners within the time provided, then the amount of the award set forth in the report and award of commissioners shall become final and not subject to exception or review and shall become and be entered as the judgment of the court setting and fixing the value of the land to be taken, and incidental damages to the remainder, if any. The agency has twenty (20) days from the filing of the report and award of commissioners to file its exceptions, should it desire so to do, unless answer or other pleading is filed by defendants, in which event the agency has ten (10) days after the decision by the court on the issue raised by the answer or pleading to file its exceptions. If exceptions are based on the ground that the award of the commissioners is too small or too great, the exceptions must be accompanied by an affidavit of the party excepting, his agent or attorney, stating the amount of the award and damages, if any, the party believes is just and reasonable. For the purpose of appeal, the difference between the amount awarded by the commissioners and the amount the excepting party claims would be just and reasonable shall be the amount in controversy.

(7) If timely exceptions to the report and award of commissioners are filed by any of the parties, the matter of the value of the property sought to be condemned shall forthwith be submitted to a jury to determine and assess value and damages, if any, and the case shall be advanced and have preference over other common law cases on the docket. In assessing value and damages, if any, the report and award of the commissioners shall not be permitted to be introduced or become substantive evidence in the case for the consideration of the jury, but nothing shall prevent the commissioners from testifying, subject to the same rules as apply to other witnesses, in which event either party may question the commissioners concerning their report and award. Upon request of any of the parties, the court may, in its discretion, send the jury to view the premises, except that if the property is taken under interlocutory judgment, as hereinafter provided, the jury's right to view shall be limited and restricted to the land only, if the buildings and appurtenances thereon and thereto have been removed or substantially altered and changed, and the court shall so instruct the jury. Jurors shall have the same qualifications as jurors in civil cases. They may or may not be residents of the city or governmental division in which the land, or the greater portion thereof, lies, but shall be residents of the county wherein same, or the greater portion thereof, lies. A unanimous verdict of all jurors is required, but only the foreman of the jury need sign the verdict.

(8) Upon final determination of all issues raised either by answer or other pleading, or by exceptions to the report and award of commissioners, or if no answer, pleadings or exceptions be filed by any of the parties, the court shall forthwith enter a judgment, which shall be a final judgment, and shall make such orders as are necessary and proper for the conveyance of the land, property and rights, if any, to the agency, upon the payment into court through the clerk of the circuit court by the agency of the amount set forth in the judgment of the court, vesting in the agency absolute fee simple title to the land, property and rights, if any, as described in the complaint, or any supplement or amendment thereof. In the event the owners fail, refuse or are unable to convey to the agency full and complete fee simple title to the land, property and rights, free, clear and unencumbered, the court shall thereupon cause the commissioner of its court, or a special commissioner appointed by the court for that purpose, to execute and deliver to the agency a deed of conveyance therefor, which deed of conveyance shall be executed as nearly as practicable in accordance with the rules governing the conveyance of property by commissioners when sold under order of court, including all the right, title and interest which the defendants and each of them had, or may have had therein. If, however, the agency has not taken same under interlocutory judgment, it may abandon its rights to take the land, property and rights, if any, and same shall be deemed abandoned by it in the event it does not pay into court within sixty (60) days from the date of the entering of the final judgment, the amount set forth therein as the amount to be paid by the agency for the taking thereof. The bond provided for by CR 4.11 of the Rules of Civil Procedure shall not apply and be required of the agency in any action for condemnation brought hereunder.

(9) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the agency may, prior to the entering of a final judgment, and at any time after the report and award of commissioners is filed in the circuit court, and notwithstanding exceptions have been or may be filed, file a demand for an interlocutory judgment. Copy of the demand shall be served upon defendants or their attorney or the person authorized to make defense for any nonresident or person under disability, at least ten (10) days prior to presentation to the court, or a judge thereof, in the manner provided by Rule 5 of the Rules of Civil Procedure. The court, or judge thereof, shall thereupon enter an interlocutory judgment granting and awarding to the agency immediate possession and full and complete use and control of the land and property sought to be condemned, and the agency shall thereupon be entitled to take possession thereof and to use and control same, including the right to remove, demolish, raze and do away with all buildings, structures and appurtenances thereon or thereto belonging, without let, hindrance, interruption or interference by the defendants, or anyone claiming under them, as fully as if title had been conveyed to it, and the court, or judge thereof, shall enforce same by appropriate order and proceedings; Provided, however, That before any interlocutory judgment is entered, the agency shall pay into the court, by depositing with the clerk of the circuit court, the amount contained and set forth in the report and award of commissioners, and shall at the same time file with the clerk a bond, with surety approved by the court, a judge thereof, or the clerk of the circuit court, conditioned upon the agency paying to the defendants the difference between the sum paid into court, and that which may thereafter be finally determined to be the value of the property or property rights, if any, or incidental damages, if any, unless the agency shall have sufficient sums duly appropriated, properly allocated to that purpose and on deposit to pay for any money judgments, including costs adjudged against the agency, that may thereafter be rendered against it, and if such facts are alleged in its complaint or in any supplement or amendment thereto, a bond shall not be required of it. If an interlocutory judgment is entered, and no answer, pleading or exceptions have been or are thereafter filed within time by any of the parties, final judgment shall be entered as provided for in subsection (8) of this section. If answer, pleading or exceptions are filed, the case shall proceed as provided for in cases where no interlocutory judgment has been demanded and entered, and wherein answer, pleading or exceptions are filed, and the interlocutory judgment shall remain in full force and effect. If the final judgment is greater than the amount paid into court by the agency under the report and award of the commissioners, the agency shall thereupon pay into court by depositing with the clerk of the circuit court the difference between the amount paid by the agency under the interlocutory judgment and the amount finally determined by the final judgment to be the value. If the difference be less, then the court shall direct the clerk to return and refund the difference to the agency out of the amount paid into court under the interlocutory judgment, if said sum has not been withdrawn by the defendants, or if withdrawn by the defendants, the court shall enter judgment in favor of the agency against the defendants and their surety for said difference, together with interest at six per cent (6%) per annum on the amount of the decrease from the date of withdrawal. The defendants, upon the payment by the agency into court of the amount set forth in the report and award of the commissioners, may, upon written demand, a copy of which shall be served upon the agency or its attorney at least ten (10) days prior to withdrawal of the funds, subject to approval by the court, withdraw from the clerk of the circuit court the amount, provided defendants execute a bond, with surety approved by the court, or a judge thereof, conditioned upon the payment to the agency by the defendants of any amount which may be determined to be the difference between the amount paid into court by the agency and the final judgment in the case, should it be finally determined that the amount paid into the court by the agency was greater than the amount set forth in the final judgment, or that the defendants receiving the funds were not the proper persons to receive same. The withdrawal of the amount by the defendants shall not prejudice or prevent defendants from filing answer, pleading or exceptions in the case, or from pursuing same if already filed, or taking any appeal, the same as if no withdrawal had been made. If defendants withdraw the amount paid into court by the agency, they shall be entitled to interest at six per cent (6%) per annum from the date of the taking of possession by the agency only on the amount by which said sum may thereafter be increased. If defendants do not withdraw the amount paid into court by the agency, they shall be entitled to interest at six per cent (6%) per annum from the date of the taking of possession by the agency only on the amount determined by the final judgment to be the value and amount defendants are entitled to receive for the land and property taken. The demand for an interlocutory judgment and the entering thereof is an additional remedy and right granted the agency, and the case shall continue and be disposed of in the same manner as if no interlocutory judgment had been demanded or entered.

(10) All money paid into court, or to the clerk of the circuit court, whether under an interlocutory judgment or a final judgment shall be received and held by the clerk subject to the order of the court, and the clerk and his sureties on his official bond shall be responsible to the persons entitled thereto.

(11) Where there are conflicting interests and claims in land and property sought to be condemned and all such parties are before the court, the claims and equities of any claimant and owner shall be decided by the court or jury, as the case may be, and the funds paid into court under an interlocutory judgment or final judgment shall be subject thereto. Such claims or determination of rights shall in no wise stay or delay said condemnation proceedings.

(12) If more than one (1) piece of property is involved, owned by different persons, the jury shall render a separate verdict as to the property of each person, or the court may direct a separate trial for each piece of property owned by different persons.

(13) An appeal may be taken by either party in interest from the circuit court to the Court of Appeals in the manner, for any of the causes and subject to the rules provided by general laws regarding appeals from circuit court to the Court of Appeals, but no appeal or supersedeas shall suspend the right of the agency to have possession of the property, easement or right of way condemned. Such appeals shall be advanced on the docket of the Court of Appeals.

(14) A slum area or blighted area acquired for a housing project by the housing authority of the community may be included in a redevelopment area and the use of such area for redevelopment shall be a public use as though such area were originally acquired for a redevelopment project.]

Section 55. KRS 103.245 is amended to read as follows:

An industrial building within the meaning of KRS 103.200 may be acquired by a city or a county by purchase, gift, or condemnation. Whenever a city or a county shall determine that land or other property, right of way, or easement over or through any property is needed by such city or county, as the case may be, to accomplish the purposes of KRS 103.200 to 103.285, inclusive, it may by ordinance or resolution authorize the purchase or condemnation, in the name of such city or county, of said land or other property, or right of way or easement necessary for such purposes, and may proceed to condemn and acquire such property in the [same] manner set forth in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [by which an urban renewal and community development agency is permitted and authorized to acquire property under the provisions of KRS 99.420, and in accordance with the procedures therein set out, except that all] All property, rights of way and easements already held by its owner or lessee for industrial development shall be exempt from condemnation under this section.

(1) Whenever in the opinion of the fiscal court of any county the title to or any interest in real property within the county is needed for the purposes of flood control and the fiscal court cannot acquire such property by agreement with the owners thereof, whether by reason of disagreement as to the price or by reason of any other cause, the fiscal court shall adopt a resolution setting forth the foregoing facts and ordering the condemnation of the required property, giving a general description thereof, together with the names of the owners thereof where they are known to the fiscal court, and directing the county attorney to institute the proceedings. The condemnation proceedings shall [may] be had in the county court under the procedure prescribed in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.110, or may be had in the circuit court under the procedure prescribed in KRS 416.120, the selection as to which procedure to be followed being made by the fiscal court in the resolution ordering the condemnation].

(2) The legislative body of any city shall have the same power to condemn real property, lying within or without the corporate limits of the city, for flood control purposes, as is given to the fiscal court of a county by subsection (1) of this section. The condemnation proceedings shall be instituted and prosecuted by the city attorney.

(3) This section is intended to constitute an alternate method of acquiring property for flood control purposes, in addition to, and not as a substitute for, any other method authorized by law.

Section 57. KRS 104.070 is amended to read as follows:

If it becomes necessary to acquire rights of way, land, easements or borrow-pits, or other property, and it cannot be acquired by purchase, the governing authority may condemn and obtain the needed property in the manner provided by the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080, or, alternatively, in the manner provided by the statutes for the condemnation of property for public purposes by the particular class of city exercising the authority of KRS 104.020 to 104.160].

Whenever in the opinion of the governing body of any city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district any land or other property or right of way or easement over or through any property, is needed by the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district to perform work or construct structures or improvements for flood control, flood protection or drainage purposes, or to permit others, including the United States of America or any governmental department, branch or agency thereof, to perform work or construct structures or improvements for flood control, flood protection or drainage purposes, either within or beyond the boundaries of the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district, the governing body may, by resolution reciting the need, order the condemnation of the land or other property, or right of way or easement, needed for such purpose or project, and may proceed to condemn and acquire title to any such land or other property, or right of way or easement, as provided by and pursuant to the provisions of the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 94.680 to 94.720], and as further provided by and pursuant to the provisions hereinafter set out:

(1) The judge of the county [circuit] court shall, upon the filing of a petition by the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district, seeking condemnation of any of such land or other property, or right of way or easement for such purpose or project, grant and award immediate possession and full and complete use and control of said land or other property, or right of way or easement to the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district by an interlocutory judgment which shall be rendered immediately after the filing of the report by the commissioners duly appointed pursuant to the provisions of the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 94.690], and the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district shall thereupon be entitled to take possession thereof and to use and control the same for the purpose for which it is being condemned as fully as if the title had been conveyed to it; however, prior to the rendering of the interlocutory judgment, the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district shall be required to pay into court the sum awarded by the commissioners in their report for such land or other property, or right of way or easement. The court shall, after having rendered said interlocutory judgment, upon motion by the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district, make such orders as may be necessary and proper for the conveyance of title to such land or other property or property rights to the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district, by a deed of conveyance therefor, to be executed by the regular court commissioner or a special commissioner appointed by the court for this purpose, which deed shall be executed as nearly as practicable in accordance with the rules governing the conveyance of property by commissioners when sold under order of court.

(2) The commissioners appointed pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 94.690] may report at any time after summons has been duly issued or warning order attorney appointed. Thereafter, either party may, before answer day, file written exceptions to said report, as provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 94.700], except that the city's, county's, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district's exceptions, if any, shall be made and filed prior to the entry of said interlocutory judgment. The sum not in controversy shall be paid or tendered to the parties defendant by the court prior to the entry of said interlocutory judgment.

(3) It is further provided that before rendering the interlocutory judgment, the court shall require the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district to execute a bond, with surety to be approved by the court, conditioned upon the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district paying to the parties defendant the difference between the sum paid into court and that which may thereafter be finally determined to be the value of the property or property rights and incidental damages, if any, if the parties defendant except to the report of the commissioners, unless the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district shall have sufficient funds duly appropriated, properly allocated to that purpose, and on deposit to pay any money judgments, including all costs adjudged against the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district, that may thereafter be rendered against it, and such fact or facts shall be alleged in its petition for condemnation.

(4) The city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district shall not be permitted to abandon the condemnation proceeding after having obtained possession and title to said land or other property or property rights unless none of the parties defendant will be materially prejudiced thereby.

(5) The proceedings for condemnation under the provisions of this section shall be conducted in the name of the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district by its regular attorney or by special counsel employed and designated by it to conduct such condemnation proceedings for such purpose, which power to employ and designate special counsel for such purpose is granted the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district [notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) of KRS 94.680, requiring condemnation proceedings by second-class cities to be conducted in the name of the city solicitor].

Cities of the fourth class in this commonwealth are hereby authorized and empowered to acquire land by purchase or condemnation for the purpose of straightening or widening any creek or creeks running through the corporate limits of the city to prevent or lessen the overflow thereof and consequent damage to any street or alley or parts of any street or alley therein or the health of its inhabitants; and, if any land for this purpose cannot be acquired by the city by purchase, the legislative body of such city may adopt an ordinance declaring the necessity for the acquisition of such land for any of the above stated purposes and authorizing and directing the institution of proceedings to condemn the property. Such condemnation proceedings shall be in accordance with the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

Section 60. KRS 104.350 is amended to read as follows:

If it becomes necessary to acquire rights of way, land, easements or borrow-pits, or other property, the governing authority may condemn and obtain the needed property in the manner provided by the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080, or, alternatively, in the manner provided by the statutes for the condemnation of property for public purposes by such city].

Section 61. KRS 106.230 is amended to read as follows:

(1) When the board of any water district or municipality authorized to acquire, construct, own or operate a waterworks or water distribution system and appurtenances thereto, under the provisions of this chapter shall be unable to contract with the owner of any land, easements, rights of way, waterworks, water distribution systems and appurtenances thereto, or any facilities or property needed by such board for its use for the purposes thereof and desires to exercise the right of eminent domain, the board shall proceed pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [file in the office of the clerk of the circuit court a particular description of the property sought to be condemned, and may apply to the circuit court to appoint commissioners to assess the damages the owner or owners thereof may be entitled to receive, and thereupon said court shall appoint three (3) impartial housekeepers of the county who are landowners, and who shall be sworn to faithfully and impartially discharge their duties under this law.

(2) It shall be the duty of said commissioners to ascertain and determine the value of the property taken, the value of real estate, tangible personal property, intangible property and franchises if any such value is found to exist shall be determined and stated separately in their report; and they shall also award damages, if any, resulting to the remainder of the waterworks, water distribution system and appurtenances thereto of the owner, considering the purposes for which the property is taken, and the amount of said damages, if any, shall be stated separately in their report. They shall return a report, in writing, to the office of the clerk of said court, stating their award, and shall describe in their report the property condemned, give the name or names of the owners, and whether nonresidents of the state, infants, or incompetent persons.

(3) Upon the application of the said water district commissioners or the legislative body of the municipality herein referred to as the board, and upon filing such affidavits as may be necessary, the clerk of said court shall issue process against the owner or owners to show cause why the said report should not be confirmed, and shall make such orders as to nonresidents and persons under disability as are required by the Rules of Civil Procedure in actions against them in the circuit court.

(4) At the first regular term of the circuit court, after the owners shall have been summoned the length of time prescribed by the Rules of Civil Procedure before an answer is required in circuit court, it shall be the duty of the court to examine said report, and if it shall appear to be in conformity to this law, and to the extent that no exceptions have been filed thereto by either party, it shall confirm said report as against the owners not excepting.]

To serve the public interest and provide a means of meeting problems of local government in urban areas, there may be established and operated under the provisions of this chapter an urban services district. The board may also cut and remove trees, timbers and other materials that may, by falling or otherwise, encumber or endanger any levee. In case the owners cannot agree with the board as to the value of any property taken under authority of this section, the board may condemn the property in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

The owner of any land that has been assessed for the cost of any improvement may use the improvement as an outlet for lateral drains from his land. If the land is separated from the improvement by the land of another, and the owners are unable to agree as to the terms on which the one may enter the land of the other and construct the drain or ditch, he may file his ancillary petition in the pending proceeding, and have the same condemned in the same manner as provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080]. When the ditch is constructed it shall become a part of the drainage system and be under the control of, and kept in repair by, the board.

Section 103. KRS 268.280 is amended to read as follows:

(1) When the report of the appraisers is filed in the office of the clerk of the court, if it shows that any property is going to be taken, damaged or affected, the owner of which has not been brought into court by notice on the organization of the district, the clerk shall embrace the name of such owner and a description of the property in the notice to them given by him and in the public notice, that the report of the appraisers has been filed, and set a hearing on a day certain during the next succeeding term of court, which does not convene within less than ten (10) days from the day on which the report was filed in his office.

(2) The public notice given by the clerk shall be substantially as follows:

"Commonwealth of Kentucky.

"In re drainage district No. .... court of .... County (or of .... Counties), Kentucky.

"Notice is hereby given to all owners of property in (drainage), (levee), (reclamation) district known as (insert name of district), the boundaries of which district are as follows: (here insert boundary description and also a separate description of any property added by the appraisers, together with the name of the owner), and to all persons whose property may be affected, that the board of appraisers has filed in the office of the clerk of this court its report in which it states and shows the benefits, damages and the assessments of benefits made upon all property in the district, the classification thereof and an appraisal of the value of the property necessary to be taken or used, or which will be affected by the making of the improvement. This proceeding is set for hearing on the .... day of ...., 19.., being the .... day of the next .... term of court. The report is on file in my office and subject to inspection by any person. Any person desiring to file exceptions thereto, must do so on or before the .... day of ...., 19.., being the first day of the .... term of court. Your failure to file exceptions to the report by that date will be construed by the court that you have no reasons to offer why it should not be confirmed.

"Done by me as clerk of the .... court on this the .... day of ...., 19...

.... Clerk."

(3) The clerk shall post a copy of the above notice at the front door of the courthouse of the county where the proceeding is pending, within five (5) days after the report is filed in his office, and shall cause it to be published pursuant to KRS chapter 424. One (1) copy of each issue of each newspaper containing the notice shall be filed by the clerk as a part of the record in the proceeding. On the first day of the term of court at which the report stands for hearing and trial, the clerk shall file in open court his certificate showing that he has published the notice as required. He shall sign the certificate officially and make it a part of the files of the proceedings. He shall make and attach a copy of his certificate to each duplicate copy of the report of the appraisers on file in his office.

(4) Owners shall have until and including the first day of the term of court at which the report is set for a hearing to file exceptions to it. All exceptions shall be heard and tried by the court on the day the proceeding is set for hearing pursuant to the preceding notice, unless further time be required. The trial of exceptions shall be by the court, except in cases where land is to be condemned, in which case it shall be by a jury as provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

(1) If any exceptions are filed to the report of the appraisers, the board may effect an agreement with the person filing exceptions but no agreement shall become binding until approved by the court. If no agreement is effected, a trial shall be had upon the exceptions.

(2) A trial shall first be had on the exceptions to the assessment of damages, which shall, if demanded, be by jury, as provided by the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080], and shall be governed in all respects by the same rules as therein provided. This shall apply to the damages assessed to the owners of land taken for rights of way, whether the lands or other property be within or without the (drainage), (levee), (reclamation) district. If it is necessary to acquire any right of way or outlet through any land not embraced in the district, it may be acquired in the same proceeding, and the value of the land to be taken and the damage to the adjacent lands used shall be determined in the same proceeding. All damages awarded either for land inside or outside of the district, or for lands actually taken, shall be paid by the board out of the first funds available for that purpose, and the board shall either pay in cash or make provisions for the payment thereof and secure the payment to the owner before the land is taken or damaged, unless the owner waives payment in advance. The trial of the exceptions to the damages assessed shall be completed before any hearing or trial is had upon any of the exceptions to the assessment of benefits or classification of property in the district.

(3) When the hearing is completed on the exceptions to the assessment of damages, the court shall hear and determine all exceptions to the assessment of benefits and classification of lands, which shall be heard by the court in a summary manner. The courts shall determine the correctness of the classification and assessment of benefits to each piece of property involved, when any exceptions have been filed to the report of the appraisers. The report of the appraisers shall be prima facie evidence of the fact that their findings are correct in all respects.

(4) If it appears to the court, after having heard and determined all exceptions, that the estimated cost of the construction of the proposed improvement contemplated in the plan of reclamation is less than the benefits properly assessed against the property, the court shall then approve and confirm the report of the appraisers as to the classification and assessment of benefits as amended or modified by the court. The order of the court approving and confirming the report of the appraisers shall also contain the judgment of the court relating to the condemnation of property to be taken or damaged.

(5) If a majority of the owners at this time desire to abandon the proposed improvement, they may do so by showing that its cost exceeds the benefit accruing to the property in the district. If this is shown, the court shall dismiss the proceeding. After the report of the appraisers has been filed, if the owners of seventy-five per cent (75%) of the land in the district, or any part of it which is practically separated from the rest, file a petition in the court in which the proceeding is pending stating that they desire to abandon the proposed improvement, the court shall dismiss the proceeding at the cost of the landowners.

(6) Any person may appeal from the judgment of the court, either upon the question of classification or the assessment of benefits or damages. The appeal shall be prosecuted in the same manner and within the time provided for in KRS 268.020. No person shall be allowed to raise any question he did not raise in his exceptions to the report of the appraisers in the trial court. The appeal shall not in any way stay the proceedings or affect the classification or the assessment of benefits or damages to any property not directly involved in the appeal, or prevent the execution of the judgment, except that particular part from which the appeal is prosecuted. The judgment shall be construed as a several judgment as to each piece of property.

(1) In order to effect the drainage, protection and reclamation of the land and other property in any district organized under this chapter subject to assessment, to protect cities from overflow, and to promote the public health or general welfare of the community, the board acting for the district may clean out, alter, construct or maintain any drain in or out of the district, and construct and maintain any levees, dikes, dams, revetments, reservoirs, holding basins, floodways, pumping stations, syphons and any other work and improvements deemed necessary to preserve and maintain the works or prevent overflow of land or protect

any city or parts thereof in or out of the district. The board may construct or enlarge any bridge needed in or out of the district across any drain or other improvement or any public highway, railroad right of way, track, grade, fill or cut, subject to the provisions of KRS 268.530; construct roadways upon, along and over levees and embankments; remove any fence, building or improvement in or out of the district.

(3) The board may control all water power created by the construction of improvements in the district, and construct and maintain any hydroelectric power plants to develop such power for the use of the district and use any funds in the treasury of the district not otherwise appropriated for the construction and maintenance of such plants. The board may lease any power in excess of that required for the use of the district. The proceeds of such lease shall be turned into the treasury of the district.

(4) However, the construction or maintenance of any improvement shall not impair navigation upon any navigable stream in this state.

Section 106. KRS 268.570 is amended to read as follows:

Any owner may use the drain as an outlet for lateral ditches from his land. If his land is separated from the drain by the land of another and they are unable to agree as to the conditions on which one may enter another's land and construct the ditch, he may file his ancillary petition in the pending proceeding to the court, and secure condemnation as provided for in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080]. When the ditch is constructed, it shall become a part of the drainage system and shall be under the control of the board and kept in repair by it.

The cost shall be paid for out of the county levy or by taxation of the property in the county subject to taxation for state purposes. When the fiscal court undertakes such a project it may acquire for the county by contract or condemnation any land necessary to carry out the project. If condemnation proceedings are necessary, they shall be conducted in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

The corporation may extend its ditches, make other ditches, connect with any creek or stream and straighten or cut across any curve to facilitate drainage, and, when necessary, take the lands of private persons. The corporation is vested with the right and power of eminent domain for the condemnation of land that may be necessary, which remedy shall be pursued as provided by the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.100 or 416.110], the proceedings to be brought by the corporation in the county court, providing due compensation to the owners of land.

(1) The county court in each county of this commonwealth, wherein the fiscal court has requested it, is hereby authorized to establish a county-wide surface water drainage district for the entire county including all municipalities. The cost of procuring the necessary rights of way and the construction and maintenance of such county-wide drainage district shall be paid by the fiscal court out of the annual levy for county taxes. When the fiscal court undertakes such a project it may acquire for the county by contract or condemnation any land necessary to carry out the project. If condemnation proceedings are necessary they shall be conducted in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

(2) The administration of this district shall be exclusively by or within the fiscal court of said county, and the fiscal court is hereby authorized and empowered to employ such assistants, including commissioners or superintendent, and other employes as may be necessary for the construction, maintenance and continued operation of said system, and shall fix the salaries of all employes to be paid as other county employes are paid.

(3) In the construction and maintenance of such drainage system the fiscal court is authorized and empowered, as a part of the cost of construction and maintenance of said system, to build or construct such bridges and culverts over and across the ditches or canals of this system as in the opinion of the fiscal court are necessary.

[The owner of the land on the opposite side must first be given reasonable notice of the intended application for the writ. If the court does not approve the assessment when returned, it shall issue a new writ. If the court approves the assessment, it shall, upon payment of the amount assessed into court for the benefit of the owner, condemn the right of way for the public use as a highway. If the land over which the right of way is sought is in another county, the writ of ad quod damnum shall be directed to the sheriff of that county.]

The writ shall be directed to the sheriff of the county, who shall proceed to execute it in the manner provided by subsection (1) of this section. When it is necessary to the proper exercise of the privilege by such grantee, the court may cause to be condemned permanently, or for not more than twenty (20) years, at the option of the owner of the privilege, not more than two (2) acres of ground adjoining the landing, together with the use, for ferry purposes, of any adjacent uninclosed bank of the stream. Condemnation shall be pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [Before the final grant of the property and the use of the bank, the damage to the owner of the land shall be ascertained under a writ of ad quod damnum, and the amount thereof paid into court for the use of the owner.]

(3) The department of environmental protection shall attempt to purchase any land which it has determined should be acquired for the purpose of restoration and which the owners have not agreed to restore as provided in subsection (2) above. In any case where the department and the owners of the land are unable to agree upon the amount to be paid for the land, the department may exercise the power of eminent domain against such land by filing a condemnation suit under the [any] procedure of the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [as provided in KRS chapter 416].

(4) The purchase price, in the case of a negotiated acquisition, or the damages as finally determined, in the case of acquisition by condemnation, and the necessary expenses incidental thereto, shall be paid from appropriations made by the general assembly for such purposes and appropriations to which federal funds made available for such purposes have been credited.

Section 119. KRS 381.660 is amended to read as follows:

(1) When any county court desires to condemn land under the authority of KRS 178.110, the county court shall proceed pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [appoint three impartial housekeepers of the county as commissioners to assess the damages the owner or tenant may be entitled to receive. The commissioners shall be sworn to faithfully and impartially discharge their duties according to law.

(2) Either the county or any tenant or owner may file exceptions to the report of the commissioners. If exceptions are filed by either party, the court shall, unless the parties waive a jury, forthwith cause a jury to be impaneled to try the issues and to assess compensation and damages.]

(a) The "value of the land," as used in KRS 416.020, shall be the market value thereof, including the value of any trees or shrubbery taken and the market replacement value of fencing similar to any taken, and in the commissioners' report each of these items shall be stated separately, in addition to stating separately the incidental damages to adjacent land.

(b) The trial on exceptions shall be held on a day fixed by the court, rather than forthwith.

(c) The jury shall not be sent to view the land until after all testimony has been submitted to it.

(d) If the county appeals to the circuit court, it need not file a supersedeas bond.

(e) On appeal to the circuit court, a certified copy of the judgment of the county court shall be filed in lieu of a transcript of the orders of the county court.

(f) If, an appeal by the owner, the award of damages is not increased, or if, an appeal by the county, the award of damages is reduced, the owner shall, in addition to paying the costs of the appeal, repay to the county any sum he has received in excess of the amount awarded to him by the circuit court, plus interest at six percent on the difference between the awards from the date of the county court judgment, whether or not he has received the same. If, on appeal by the owner, the award of damages is increased, or if, on appeal by the county, the award is not reduced, the county shall, in addition to the costs of the appeal, pay interest at the rate of six percent on the difference between the awards.

(g) The county shall be entitled to take possession of the land condemned and to use and control the land for the purpose for which it was condemned, as fully as if title had been conveyed to the county, upon paying to the owner the damages awarded by the commissioners' report, where the report is confirmed, or paying into court the damages awarded by the jury, together with all costs adjudged to the owner.

(3) This section and KRS 178.120 constitute an additional and alternative method for the institution and prosecution of condemnation proceedings to acquire right of ways for county roads, streets, alleys, ditches and bridges.]

In any such actions the owners of distinct parts of any one general tract sought to be condemned may be included in one proceeding, or any one or more of such owners holding contiguous properties may be proceeded against in a separate action. Trial of such actions shall be by a jury summoned under order of court and consisting of twelve freeholders of such city or county, who shall be sworn to ascertain and determine fairly and impartially by their verdict the amount of compensation each and every owner shall be entitled to receive for his or her land or property described in the petition and sought to be condemned. The city shall have the burden of proving the value of the property to be condemned; and in assessing damages to the owner of the property it shall be competent for the jury to consider the benefits and advantages, if any, that to such owner will result from the proposed improvements, and to set off the same against such damages as the owner may have other than the value of the property actually condemned and taken by the city. Nonresidents, absent defendants, or unknown owners of property shall be proceeded against by warning order as in other civil actions. Any condemnation proceeding shall have precedence on the docket of the court and may be assigned for trial as soon as the parties are before the court. Upon return of the verdict of the jury, the court shall enter judgment vesting in such city the title to the property described and condemned, the said judgment to take effect upon the payment into the court by said city of the amount of money named in the verdict, and all taxed costs of the proceedings, and said city shall have sixty days within which to make said compensation and payment; provided, however, if payment be not made within such time, the said condemnation shall be deemed and treated as abandoned, and the verdict and judgment set aside, and the proceedings dismissed at the cost of said city, but without prejudice to any subsequent proceedings.]

Before entering upon any land for such purposes, the corporation shall deposit with the clerk of the county in which the property is located, a bond to the Commonwealth in a penal sum fixed by the county court at not more than double the last assessed valuation of the property to be surveyed or examined, conditioned to indemnify all persons for actual damages sustained on account of making any examination or survey. When the location of the dam or other structure, and the land that may be overflowed by the erection of the dam, is determined, the corporation shall cause a survey and map to be made of the land to be taken and entered upon, which map shall be signed by the president and secretary and filed in the office of the clerk of the county court of the county in which the land shown on the map is situated.

(2) When any such corporation cannot, by agreement with the owner, acquire the property rights, privileges or easements needed for any of the uses or purposes referred to in subsection (1) of this section, the corporation may condemn such property, property rights, privileges or easements [either] in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080, or in the manner provided by KRS 416.230 to 416.310. A corporation may elect to proceed under either of the aforesaid acts]. Any corporation constructing or maintaining such dam shall be liable for any damages resulting from overflowing any property, public or private.

Section 125. KRS 416.150 is amended to read as follows:

Any telephone company desiring to condemn a right of way under the authority of subsection (2) of KRS 278.540 shall proceed pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [may file its petition for condemnation, verified by its agent, in the office of the clerk of the county court of the county in which the right of way sought to be condemned is located. The petition shall designate the owner of the land and the particular right of way sought to be condemned, and shall state the name of the petitioner, where and how incorporated, in what manner and with what kind of material it proposes to construct its telephone line, and that it has complied with the Constitution and laws of this state in regard to such corporations seeking to exercise the right of eminent domain. An application in writing by an authorized agent of the telephone company, proposing to agree with the owner of the land upon the compensation to be paid and offering a sum certain for such right of way, not accepted in writing by the owner or someone duly authorized by him within ten days after delivery of the offer to him, may be treated as a failure to agree authorizing condemnation.]

Any burial association or corporation may condemn land by first recording, in the county clerk's office of the county where the land lies, a resolution that it needs the land to furnish a burial site for the public. It may also condemn enough land, not exceeding five acres, adjacent to any land used for a cemetery for a chapel site. The said property owner may condemn a right-of-way for an electric power line over the most direct course to the pumping station site. In the event the owner of such real estate finds it more desirable to make connections with the water system of a municipality or a water supply line leading from a navigable stream to the municipality or other source of supply, then said real estate owner may, at his option, condemn a right-of-way for a pipe line from said city water system or water supply line or other source of supply to the point on the owner's real estate where the water is desired for use, including such area as may be required to install and maintain pumps and meters for said water system and an electric line to conduct power to said pump with necessary electric control lines or apparatus. The owner of property condemning right-of-way for a water line under this section, may agree to supply the subject owner a quantity of water in lieu of cash compensation for the easement, and such agreement to supply water to the subject property owner shall not be construed to place a burden on the condemning party to supply water service to others or meet the obligation of a public utility to render water service.

(2) The provisions of KRS 381.660, 381.670, and 381.680 shall be complied with except that when the pumping station site and pipe line are located on cliff land and do not cross any tillable land the pumps and pipe may be located above ground.

The petition shall state that it is filed under the provisions of KRS 278.502 and shall be conducted pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.230 to 416.310 and shall contain, in substance:

(1) Allegations sufficient to show that petitioner is entitled, under the provisions of KRS 278.502, to condemn the lands and material or the use and occupation of the lands in question;

(2) A particular description of the land, the use and occupation thereof and the material sought to be condemned; and

(3) An application to the county court to appoint commissioners to award the amount of compensation the owner thereof is entitled to receive therefor].

The commissioners shall view the land or material sought to be condemned and award to the owner or owners such a sum as will fairly represent the reduction in the market value of the entire property, all of or a portion of which is sought to be condemned, said sum being the difference between the market value of the entire property immediately before the taking and the market value of the remainder of the property immediately after the taking thereof, together with the fair rental value of any temporary easements sought to be condemned. Within fifteen days from the date of their appointment, they shall return a written report to the office of the circuit court, stating the above values in their award and shall describe in their report the property sought to be condemned. They shall be allowed a reasonable fee which shall be taxed as costs.

The clerk shall make such orders as to nonresidents and persons under disability as are required by the statutes and Rules of Civil Procedure in actions against them in circuit courts.

SECTION 9. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(b) A finding that the report of the commissioners conforms to the provisions of Section 6 of this Act;

(c) An authorization to take possession of the property for the purposes and under the conditions and limitations, if any, set forth in the petition upon payment to the owner or to the clerk of the court the amount of the compensation awarded by the commissioners;

(d) Proper provision for the conveyance of the title to the land and material, to the extent condemned, as adjudged therein in the event no exception is taken as provided in subsection (1) of Section 10 of this Act.

(3) Any exception from such interlocutory judgment by either party or both parties shall be confined solely to exceptions to the amount of compensation awarded by the commissioners.

(4) If the owner has filed answer or pleading putting in issue the right of the petitioner to condemn the property or use and occupation thereof sought to be condemned, the court shall, without intervention of jury, proceed forthwith to hear and determine whether or not the petitioner has such right. If the court determines that petitioner has such rights, an interlocutory judgment, as provided for in subsection (2) of this Section, shall be entered. If the court determines that petitioner does not have such right, it shall enter a final judgment which shall contain, in substance:

(a) A finding that the report of the commissioners conforms to the provisions of Section 6 of this Act;

(b) A finding that the petitioner is not authorized to condemn the property or the use and occupation thereof for the purposes and under the conditions and limitations set forth in the petition, stating the particular ground or grounds on which the petitioner is not so authorized;

(c) An order dismissing the petition and directing the petitioner to pay all costs.

SECTION 10. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) Within thirty (30) days from the date of entry of an interlocutory judgment authorizing the petitioner to take possession of the property, exceptions may be filed by either party or both parties by filing with the clerk of the circuit court and serving upon the other party or parties a statement of exceptions, which statement shall contain any exceptions the party has to the award made by the commissioners. The statement of exceptions shall be tried, but shall be limited to the questions which are raised in the original statements of the exceptions, or as amended, but the owner shall not be permitted to raise any question, nor shall the court reconsider any question so raised, concerning the right of the petitioner to condemn the property. All questions of fact pertaining to the amount of compensation to the owner, or owners, shall be determined by a jury, which jury on the motion of either party shall be sent by the court, in the charge of the sheriff, to view the land and material. After a jury trial, and if possession previously has not been taken by the condemnor of the land and material condemned, it may do so upon the payment to the owner or to the clerk of the circuit court the amount of the compensation adjudged by the circuit court to be due the owner.

(2) Appeals may be taken to the Court of Appeals from the final judgment of the circuit court as in other cases except that an appeal by the owner shall not operate as a supersedeas.

(3) The payment by the condemnor of the amount of compensation awarded and the taking possession of the lands and material condemned shall not prejudice its right to except from the award of the commissioners or the judgment of any court, nor shall the acceptance by the owner of the amount of the compensation awarded prejudice his right to except from the award of the commissioners or the judgment of any court.

(4) All costs in the circuit court shall be adjudged against the condemnor.

(5) If the condemnor takes possession of the property condemned and the amount of compensation is thereafter increased over that awarded by the commissioners, the condemnor shall pay interest to the owner at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum upon the amount of such increase from the date the condemnor took possession of the property. If the condemnor takes possession of the property condemned and the amount of compensation is thereafter decreased below that awarded by the commissioners, the condemnor shall be entitled to a personal judgment against the owner for the amount of the decrease plus interest at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum from the date the owner accepted the amount of compensation the condemnor paid into court or to the owner. If the owner at all times refuses to accept the payment tendered by the condemnor, no interest shall be allowed in the judgment against the owner for the amount of the decrease.

(6) Upon the final determination of exceptions, or upon expiration of thirty (30) days from entry of the interlocutory judgment if no exceptions are filed, the circuit court shall make such orders as may be proper for the conveyance of the title to the extent condemned, to the property, and shall enter such final judgment as may be appropriate.

SECTION 11. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

All money paid into court or paid or transferred to the clerk of a court under the provisions of this Act shall be received by the clerk of the court and held subject to the order of the court, for which the clerk and his sureties on his official bond shall be responsible to the persons entitled thereto.

SECTION 12. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

Where there are conflicting claimants to the land sought to be condemned and all such parties are before the court, each claimant, for the purposes of the condemnation proceeding only, shall be deemed to be an owner, and the procedure for the condemnation of the land shall be as provided in this Act except that, before the condemnor shall be entitled to take possession of the land, it shall be required to pay the compensation awarded therein to the circuit court clerk to be held for the benefit of, and paid over to such persons as may thereafter be determined to be entitled to receive it. In such cases, the claimants may have their rights determined in a separate action, but the filing of such action or its pendency shall in no wise stay or delay said condemnation proceedings.

SECTION 13. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

All proceedings under this Act shall be governed by the provisions of the Rules of Civil Procedure except where the provisions of this Act specifically or by necessary implication provide otherwise.

SECTION 14. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 416 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

(1) In all actions for the condemnation of lands under the provisions of this Act, except temporary easements, there shall be awarded to the landowners as compensation such a sum as will fairly represent the difference between the fair market value of the entire tract, all or a portion of which is sought to be condemned, immediately before the taking and the fair market value of the remainder thereof immediately after the taking, including in the remainder all rights which the landowner may retain in the lands sought to be condemned where less than the fee simple interest therein is taken, together with the fair rental value of any temporary easements sought to be condemned.

(2) Any change in the fair market value prior to the date of condemnation which the condemnor or condemnee establishes was substantially due to the general knowledge of the imminence of condemnation shall be disregarded in determining fair market value. The taking date for valuation purposes shall be either the date the condemnor takes the land, or the date of the trial of the issue of just compensation, whichever occurs first.

(1) Development shall be started on any property which has been acquired through condemnation within a period of five years from the date of the deed to the condemnor or the date on which the condemnor took possession, whichever is earlier, for the purpose for which it was condemned. The failure of the condemnor to so begin development shall entitle the condemnee landowner to repurchase the property at the price the condemnor paid to the landowner for the property. The person from whom the land is taken by condemnation may reacquire the land as aforementioned by application to a court of competent jurisdiction, if such procedure is necessary and may recover his costs and reasonable attorneys' fees necessary to reacquire the land.

(2) If development of the property is not started within a period of five years pursuant to the provisions of this Section, the condemnor may apply to a court of competent jurisdiction to extend the period of time before which the condemnee landowner shall be entitled to reacquire the property condemned. The court shall determine as a matter of law whether to grant such extension and the period of time for which the extension shall be granted.

Section 16. KRS 36.070 is amended to read as follows:

The facilities division shall be headed by a director experienced in the administration of real property. The division may make contracts, acquire real and personal property by gift, purchase, or by condemnation in the manner prescribed in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.120], and may do all things necessary to perform its duties under KRS 36.070 to 36.090.

Section 17. KRS 36.080 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The facilities division shall provide adequate armories, buildings and grounds for the Kentucky army and air national guard for its purposes of drill, instruction and administration and for the safekeeping of public property of the state and the United States issued to or for the use of the Kentucky national guard.

The division may, either alone or with the like cooperation of others, provide heat, light, water, telephone service and other costs of operation and maintenance, including insurance.

(3) The amounts to be spent for the construction, acquisition, maintenance and rental of armories shall be wholly within the discretion of the adjutant general.

Section 18. KRS 36.090 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The fiscal court of any county and the governing body of any city wherein a unit of the Kentucky national guard is established may, either severally or acting jointly with each other or with the facilities division, construct, or acquire by purchase, contract, lease, gift, donation, or by condemnation in the manner prescribed in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.120], grounds, buildings, and facilities suitable for national guard and community purposes. The buildings or the plans and specifications therefor must first be approved by the facilities division as suitable for use as armories by the national guard units in the county or city, and the fiscal court or governing body of the city must have first contracted with the facilities division for the use of the building as an armory by the national guard units upon terms consistent with KRS 36.070 to KRS 36.090.

(2) For the purpose of providing necessary funds for the acquisition or construction of the buildings and grounds, and the cost of maintenance and operation thereof, the fiscal court or governing body of the city may annually levy and collect a tax not exceeding ten cents (10¢) on each one hundred dollars ($100) worth of taxable property in the county or city, as determined by the last regular assessment for county or city taxes. If funds received from donations or from earnings from the building, together with rentals received from the facilities division, are adequate to provide for all expenses of operation and maintenance, the tax levies may be withheld and appropriated to the general expense fund of the county or city. If any county has, under preexisting laws, acquired or constructed buildings and grounds suitable for public assemblages, conventions, exhibitions and entertainments, and also for armory purposes, and shall contract with the facilities division for the use thereof by national guard units upon terms consistent with KRS 36.070 to KRS 36.090, the fiscal court of the county may levy and collect necessary taxes, not exceeding ten cents (10¢) on each one hundred dollars ($100) worth of taxable property, for the payment of expenses of operation and maintenance.

(b) To determine the housing and furnishings needs of the various state agencies located in Frankfort and to establish and put into effect a permanent program for housing them. The department is also authorized and directed to allocate office space and furnishings in existing public buildings located in Frankfort, exclusive of the third and fourth floors of the new state capitol, according to the needs of the various agencies and when necessary to provide additional office space and furnishings in Frankfort under any building program the department deems most advisable and economical for the state. The permanent housing program shall include provisions for housing the general assembly and its related agencies, including the legislative research commission, and its subcommittees, the executive offices, the Court of Appeals and the clerk of the Court of Appeals, the department of law and the law library, in the new state capitol, provided the general assembly and the legislative research commission shall have complete control and exclusive use of the third and fourth floors of the new state capitol. (6) To lease any real property, or any interest in such real property, owned by the state or any agency thereof, in accordance with KRS 45.360.

(7) To provide for and adopt such plans and specifications as may be necessary, to advertise for and receive bids for any expenditures proposed to be made, to award contracts for the purpose authorized, to supervise construction and make such changes and revisions in plans and specifications or in construction as may become necessary, and generally to do any and all other things as may become necessary or expedient in order to effectively fulfill and carry out the purposes of this chapter, including the right to employ such clerks, engineers, statisticians, architects or other persons required to be employed in order to fulfill the functions of the commonwealth relating to state property and buildings provided in KRS 56.450 to 56.550.

(8) To adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary to govern the acquisition, control, and disposition of the real property to which this section is applicable.

Section 20. KRS 58.140 is amended to read as follows:

In the event a governmental agency is unable to acquire, by purchase or agreement, any real property deemed necessary for the purposes of a public project, such agency may acquire the same by condemnation. The procedure for condemnation shall be as provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080, or as provided in KRS 416.120, whichever procedure is selected by the agency].

Section 22. KRS 65.530 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The purposes of the authority shall be to establish, maintain, operate and expand necessary and proper riverport and river navigation facilities, and to acquire and develop property, or rights therein within the economic environs of the riverport or proposed riverport to attract directly or indirectly river-oriented industry. It shall have the duty and such powers as may be necessary or desirable to promote and develop navigation, river transportation, riverports, and riverport facilities, and to attract industrial or commercial operations to the property held as industrial parks.

(2) The authority shall establish and fix reasonable rates, charges and fees for the use of the riverport facilities which shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the riverport is located. In fixing such rates, charges or fees the authority may take into consideration, among other factors, the total capital investment of the authority, the revenue needed properly to maintain such facilities, the revenue needed properly to expand the riverport and its facilities, the portion of the facilities utilized by the licensee or contracting party and its customers and the volume and type of business conducted. Any party aggrieved by the rates, charges or fees may appeal from the action of the authority to the circuit court of the county within which the authority operates, within ninety (90) days from the date that the authority finally publishes such rates, charges or fees and gives notice of same to the contracting party or licensee. The circuit court may hear evidence and determine whether or not the rates, charges or fees are, or are not, reasonable in amount. Appeal from the judgment of the circuit court may be prosecuted as any other civil appeal.

(3) The authority shall also have power, from time to time, to fix rates, charges or fees by contract, or by publishing general rates, charges or fees for commercial vendors, concessionaires or other persons for the use or occupancy of riverport facilities under such terms and conditions as it may deem to be in the best interest of maintaining, operating or expanding necessary riverport facilities, and the public use thereof.

(4) The authority may acquire by contract, lease, purchase, option, gift, condemnation or otherwise any real or personal property, or rights therein, necessary or suitable for establishing, developing, operating or expanding riverports, riverport facilities, water navigation facilities, including spoilage areas for the disposal of materials dredged from river bottoms in an effort to improve the navigability of rivers, and industrial parks or sites within the economic environs of the riverport or proposed riverport. The authority may erect, equip, operate and maintain on such property buildings and equipment necessary and proper for riverport and water navigation facilities. The authority may dispose of any real or personal property, or rights therein, which in the opinion of the authority is not needed for use as riverport or water navigation facilities, or use as industrial parks or sites. The authority may lease, sell, convey, or assign its interest in land owned, optioned, or otherwise held by it to any person for the purpose of constructing and/or operating any industrial or commercial facility or for the purpose of acting as the authority's agent or licensee in effectively carrying out any of its powers and duties.

(5) With the consent of the legislative body of the governmental unit in which the property to be condemned is located, the authority may by resolution, reciting that the property cannot be acquired by purchase or agreement and is needed for riverport, water navigation, or industrial purposes in accordance with the powers set forth in subsection (4) of this section, direct the condemnation of any property. The procedure for condemnation shall conform to the procedure set out in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 58.140]

(6) The authority may apply for, receive authorization for, establish and operate a foreign trade zone, as permitted by 19 U. S. C. section 81, provided approval is obtained from the Kentucky port and river development commission.

Section 23. KRS 67.085 is amended to read as follows:

Whenever the fiscal court of any county deems it to be in the best interest of the county to acquire the fee simple title to any real property within such county for any administrative or governmental purpose in addition to those now provided for by law and the fiscal court is unable to contract with the owner of the land, required for such purpose, for its purchase or to acquire the same by gift, the land may be condemned under the procedure set forth in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.110], and said fiscal court may appropriate funds to pay for said real property.

Section 24. KRS 74.090 is amended to read as follows:

If it becomes necessary to acquire a right of way or land, and it cannot be acquired by purchase, the commission may condemn the needed property in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080]. The owners of land sought to be condemned shall be made parties to the proceeding. Any damage awarded shall be paid by the commission out of the first funds available.

Section 25. KRS 76.080 is amended to read as follows:

The district created under the provisions of KRS 76.010 to 76.210 is empowered:

(1) To have jurisdiction, control, possession, and supervision of the existing sewer and drainage system of the city of the first or second class; to maintain, operate, reconstruct, and improve the same as a comprehensive sewer and drainage system; to make additions, betterments, and extensions thereto within the district area; and to have all the rights, privileges, and jurisdiction necessary or proper for carrying such powers into execution. No enumeration of powers in KRS 76.010 to 76.210 shall operate to restrict the meaning of this general grant of power or to exclude other powers comprehended within this general grant.

(2) To prepare or cause to be prepared and to be thereafter revised and adopted, plans, designs, and estimates of costs, of a system of trunk, intercepting, connecting, lateral, and outlet sewers, storm water drains, pumping and ventilating stations, disposal and treatment plants and works, and all other appliances and structures which in the judgment of the board will provide an effective and advantageous means for relieving the district area from inadequate sanitary and storm water drainage and from inadequate sanitary disposal and treatment of the sewage thereof, or such sections or parts of such system of the district area as the board may from time to time deem proper or convenient to construct, consistent with the plans and purposes of KRS 76.010 to 76.210, and may take all steps the board deems proper and necessary to effect the purposes of KRS 76.010 to 76.210.

(3) To construct any additions, betterments and extensions to the facilities of the district, within or without the district area, and to construct any construction subdistrict facilities or additions, betterments and extensions thereto, within or without the district area, by contract or under, through, or by means of its own officers, agents and employes. No construction or extensions shall be started within the city of the first or second class until, firstly, the city's director of works, and secondly, its board of aldermen have approved the plans. No construction or extensions shall be started in any city of the second, third, or fourth class until the governing authorities of such city or cities have approved the plans. No construction or extensions shall be started in any other part of the county until the plans have been approved, firstly, by the county engineer and, secondly, by the fiscal court.

(4) To establish, construct, operate, and maintain, as a part of the sewer and drainage system of the district, sewage treatment and disposal plants and systems and all the appurtenances and appliances thereunto belonging. The sewage treatment and disposal plants may be located in the city, or beyond the limits of the city in the county in which the city is located, as the board deems expedient.

(5) To acquire and hold the personal property the board deems necessary and proper for carrying out the corporate purposes of the district and to dispose of personal property when the district has no further need therefor.

(6) To acquire by purchase, gift, lease, or by condemnation, real property or any interest, right, easement, or privilege therein, as the board determines necessary, proper and convenient for the corporate purposes of the district, and to use the same so long as its corporate existence continues, and same is necessary or useful for the corporate purposes of the district. Condemnation proceedings may be instituted in the name of the district pursuant to a resolution of the board declaring the necessity for the taking, and the method of condemnation shall be the same as provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.120]

When the board by resolution declares that any real property which it has acquired, or any interest therein, is no longer necessary or useful for the corporate purposes of the district, the real property and interest therein may be disposed of.

(7) To make bylaws and agreements for the management and regulation of its affairs and for the regulation of the use of property under its control and for the establishment and collection of sewer rates, rentals and charges, which sewer rates, rentals and charges, applicable within the limits of a city of the first or second class, shall be subject to the approval, supervision and control of the legislative body of the city as hereinafter provided.

(8) To make contracts and execute all instruments necessary or convenient in the premises.

(9) To borrow money and to issue negotiable bonds and to provide for the rights of the holders thereof.

(10) To fix and collect sewer rates, rentals, and other charges, for services rendered by the facilities of the district, which sewer rates, rentals, and other charges, applicable within the limits of a city of the first or second class, shall be subject to the approval, supervision and control of the legislative body of such city as hereinafter provided.

(11) To enter on any lands, waters and premises for the purpose of making surveys, and soundings and examinations.

(12) To approve or revise the plans and designs of all trunk, intercepting, connecting, lateral and outlet sewers, storm water drains, pumping and ventilating stations, disposal and treatment plants and works proposed to be constructed, altered or reconstructed by any other person or corporation, private or public, in the whole county, in order to insure that such proposed construction, alteration or reconstruction shall conform to and be a part of a comprehensive sewer and drainage system for the said county. No sewers, drains, pumping and ventilating stations, or disposal and treatment plants or works shall be constructed, altered or reconstructed without approval by the board of the district. Any such work shall be subject to inspection and supervision of the district.

Section 26. KRS 76.110 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The district shall have the power to acquire by purchase, gift or eminent domain proceedings, the fee or such right, title, interest or easement, in such lands as may be deemed by the district necessary for any of the purposes mentioned in KRS 76.010 to 76.281, whether within or without the district area or within or without a construction subdistrict and any personal property necessary for the purpose of the district. Such lands or interest therein, or personal property may be so acquired whether or not the same are owned or held for public use by corporations, associations, or other persons having the power of eminent domain, or otherwise held or used for public purposes. But nothing in this chapter shall be construed to confer upon or recognize in the district any power to acquire by agreement, purchase or gift, or by eminent domain proceedings, any fee, right, title, interest or easement in property under the jurisdiction of the department of highways or included within the boundaries of any sanitation district organized under KRS chapter 220, except necessary rights of way for trunk sewers through such sanitation districts. Forthwith upon the acquisition of any such fee, right, title, interest or easement, or personal property, the same shall become dedicated to the uses and purposes of the district.

(2) The method of condemnation of such property shall be pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [(a) as provided in KRS 416.120, (b) as provided in KRS 76.080 (6), or (c) as provided in KRS 416.230 to 416.310 inclusive or as hereinafter provided].

(3) When a district has filed a proceeding to condemn land or any interest therein or personal property, pursuant to the provisions of the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.230 to 416.310], and the board of such district shall determine that the necessity for procuring possession of the property is urgent, it may pass a resolution, at the time that said condemnation is authorized or at any time thereafter for a declaration of taking, declaring that said lands are to be taken for the use of a metropolitan sewer district. Said declaration of taking shall contain, or have annexed thereto, the following:

(a) A statement of the authority under which and, the public use for which, said lands are taken;
(b) A description of the lands taken sufficient for identification thereof;
(c) A statement of the estate or interest in said lands taken for said public use;
(d) A plat showing the lands taken.

(4) At any time after the report of the commissioners has been made, the district may file said declaration of taking and make a deposit with the clerk of the court of the sum of money stated in the award of the commissioners appointed. Title to said lands in fee simple or such lesser estate as is specified in said declaration or to said personal property shall then vest in such metropolitan sewer district, and the right to just compensation for said land or interest therein or personal property shall vest in the persons entitled thereto. Said compensation shall be ascertained and awarded in said proceeding as otherwise provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.230 to 416.310 inclusive].

Section 27. KRS 80.150 is amended to read as follows:

If it becomes necessary to condemn property for the purpose of constructing any low-cost housing project, or securing rights of way leading thereto, the authority may, by resolution reciting the need, order the condemnation of any land or improvement or interest in land, that it deems necessary. Proceedings for the condemnation shall be in the circuit court of the county in which the property lies, and shall be conducted in the name of the authority. The city attorney shall conduct the proceedings, for the authority. The judgment of the court shall vest title in fee simple to the property condemned in the authority. In all other respects the form and manner of the proceedings shall be the same as that provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.120]. No payment or award in any condemnation proceedings, or for the cost or expense of the proceedings, shall be made except from funds provided under the authority of this chapter.

Section 28. KRS 80.540 is amended to read as follows:

An authority shall have the right to acquire by condemnation any real property which it may deem necessary for its purposes under KRS 80.310 to 80.610 after the adoption by it of a resolution declaring that the acquisition of the real property described therein is necessary for such purposes. Proceedings for such condemnation shall be in accordance with the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [the circuit court of the county in which the property lies,] and shall be conducted in the name of the authority by the attorney designated by the authority, and the judgment of the court shall vest title in fee simple to the property condemned in the authority. [In all other respects, the form and manner of the proceedings shall be the same as that provided for the condemnation of land for road purposes by fiscal courts.]

Section 29. KRS 82.180 is amended to read as follows:
Whenever any property authorized to be acquired under KRS 82.105 to 82.120 cannot be acquired by purchase upon terms which a city, or an agency thereof designated to act for it, deems to be reasonable, or whenever the owner is legally incapacitated, absent, unknown, or unable to convey valid title, the city, or the agency acting therefor, is hereby authorized and empowered to acquire such property by condemnation or the exercise of the power of eminent domain in the manner prescribed by the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 99.420. The term "agency" used in KRS 99.420 shall be deemed to mean and include the city itself, or an agency of the city designated to act for it].

Such subsidy payments may be made by an authority from any resources available to it, or from appropriations made or agreed to be made to it by any public body having an interest in the preservation of mass transit service to the public; and if bonds are ultimately issued for the purchase or other acquisition of such mass transit system, the aggregate amount of such subsidy payments may be included as a part of the cost of acquisition and made payable from the proceeds of such bonds. The mayor shall submit the recommendation to the legislative body for approval. The new site shall be adopted only upon the approval of the change by legislative resolution approved by the mayor. In the event the existing building on the old site is to be abandoned, the old site may be sold and the proceeds applied to the purchase of the new site.

The order appointing the commissioners shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court immediately upon its signing, and shall become part of the proceedings as of the date filed. In the event any person so appointed fails, refuses or becomes incapable of acting, the court, or judge thereof, shall forthwith appoint a qualified person to fill the vacancy. A majority of the commissioners appointed and qualified have the power to act and to make and sign the award and report.

(3) The commissioners shall immediately upon their appointment take the oath of office, and shall enter in and upon the property, right of way (if any) or easement (if any) sought to be condemned, and shall view same. They may hear evidence or make any inquiry they desire touching the value thereof. They shall award to the owner of each parcel of land and property the fair market value thereof. Property owned by the same owner, which is contiguous and adjacent may be considered as one (1) parcel and may be included by the commissioners under a single award. If less than an entire parcel of contiguous property belonging to the same owner is sought to be condemned, the commissioners shall also award to the owner the difference between the fair market value of the entire parcel of property before and after the taking. The award of the commissioners shall be filed by them, in writing, in the office of the circuit clerk, within fifteen (15) days after the day the order appointing the commissioners is filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court, and shall be styled "Report and Award of Commissioners."

The summons shall be issued in the same form and in the same manner as provided for upon the filing of a complaint under the Rules of Civil Procedure, except that the summons shall also contain the notification that the defendant shall serve his answer or other pleading within twenty (20) days after the filing of the report and award of the commissioners and notification that exceptions to the report and award of the commissioners must be filed within the same period of time. The action and proceedings shall be carried on as nearly as may be as ordinary civil actions at law are conducted. Nonresidents and persons under disability shall be proceeded against as provided by the Rules of Civil Procedure. Defenses and exceptions for nonresidents and persons under disability may be made and filed by any person authorized to make defense for such persons under the Rules of Civil Procedure.

(5) Any answer or other pleading filed by any defendant in response to the summons shall be confined solely to the question of the right of the agency to condemn the property sought to be condemned, but without prejudice to the right of the defendant, then and thereafter, within proper time, to file exceptions to the amount of compensation awarded in the report and award of the commissioners. Any issue raised in the answer or other pleading filed, putting in issue the right of the agency to condemn the property shall be promptly heard and decided by the court, without a jury. If the court finds the agency has no right to take the property in condemnation for the purpose of uses sought, it shall dismiss the complaint at the costs of the agency.

(6) If answer or other pleading is timely filed putting in issue the right of the agency to condemn the property, the time for filing exceptions to the report and award of commissioners shall automatically be extended to a time not later than ten (10) days after the decision by the court of the issue, and if the court decides that the agency does have the right to take the property in condemnation for the purposes or uses sought, the defendants shall file exceptions, should they desire so to do, to the report and award of commissioners within ten (10) days, if same has not theretofore been filed. If the defendants do not file an answer or pleading putting in issue the right of the agency to condemn the property, or having filed same is not sustained by the court, and, in either event, if the agency and the defendants do not file exceptions to the report and award of commissioners within the time provided, then the amount of the award set forth in the report and award of commissioners shall become final and not subject to exception or review and shall become and be entered as the judgment of the court setting and fixing the value of the land to be taken, and incidental damages to the remainder, if any. The agency has twenty (20) days from the filing of the report and award of commissioners to file its exceptions, should it desire so to do, unless answer or other pleading is filed by defendants, in which event the agency has ten (10) days after the decision by the court on the issue raised by the answer or pleading to file its exceptions. If exceptions are based on the ground that the award of the commissioners is too small or too great, the exceptions must be accompanied by an affidavit of the party excepting, his agent or attorney, stating the amount of the award and damages, if any, the party believes is just and reasonable. For the purpose of appeal, the difference between the amount awarded by the commissioners and the amount the excepting party claims would be just and reasonable shall be the amount in controversy.

(7) If timely exceptions to the report and award of commissioners are filed by any of the parties, the matter of the value of the property sought to be condemned shall forthwith be submitted to a jury to determine and assess value and damages, if any, and the case shall be advanced and have preference over other common law cases on the docket. In assessing value and damages, if any, the report and award of the commissioners shall not be permitted to be introduced or become substantive evidence in the case for the consideration of the jury, but nothing shall prevent the commissioners from testifying, subject to the same rules as apply to other witnesses, in which event either party may question the commissioners concerning their report and award. Upon request of any of the parties, the court may, in its discretion, send the jury to view the premises, except that if the property is taken under interlocutory judgment, as hereinafter provided, the jury's right to view shall be limited and restricted to the land only, if the buildings and appurtenances thereon and thereto have been removed or substantially altered and changed, and the court shall so instruct the jury. Jurors shall have the same qualifications as jurors in civil cases. They may or may not be residents of the city or governmental division in which the land, or the greater portion thereof, lies, but shall be residents of the county wherein same, or the greater portion thereof, lies. A unanimous verdict of all jurors is required, but only the foreman of the jury need sign the verdict.

(8) Upon final determination of all issues raised either by answer or other pleading, or by exceptions to the report and award of commissioners, or if no answer, pleadings or exceptions be filed by any of the parties, the court shall forthwith enter a judgment, which shall be a final judgment, and shall make such orders as are necessary and proper for the conveyance of the land, property and rights, if any, to the agency, upon the payment into court through the clerk of the circuit court by the agency of the amount set forth in the judgment of the court, vesting in the agency absolute fee simple title to the land, property and rights, if any, as described in the complaint, or any supplement or amendment thereof. In the event the owners fail, refuse or are unable to convey to the agency full and complete fee simple title to the land, property and rights, free, clear and unencumbered, the court shall thereupon cause the commissioner of its court, or a special commissioner appointed by the court for that purpose, to execute and deliver to the agency a deed of conveyance therefor, which deed of conveyance shall be executed as nearly as practicable in accordance with the rules governing the conveyance of property by commissioners when sold under order of court, including all the right, title and interest which the defendants and each of them had, or may have had therein. If, however, the agency has not taken same under interlocutory judgment, it may abandon its rights to take the land, property and rights, if any, and same shall be deemed abandoned by it in the event it does not pay into court within sixty (60) days from the date of the entering of the final judgment, the amount set forth therein as the amount to be paid by the agency for the taking thereof. The bond provided for by CR 4.11 of the Rules of Civil Procedure shall not apply and be required of the agency in any action for condemnation brought hereunder.

(9) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the agency may, prior to the entering of a final judgment, and at any time after the report and award of commissioners is filed in the circuit court, and notwithstanding exceptions have been or may be filed, file a demand for an interlocutory judgment. Copy of the demand shall be served upon defendants or their attorney or the person authorized to make defense for any nonresident or person under disability, at least ten (10) days prior to presentation to the court, or a judge thereof, in the manner provided by Rule 5 of the Rules of Civil Procedure. The court, or judge thereof, shall thereupon enter an interlocutory judgment granting and awarding to the agency immediate possession and full and complete use and control of the land and property sought to be condemned, and the agency shall thereupon be entitled to take possession thereof and to use and control same, including the right to remove, demolish, raze and do away with all buildings, structures and appurtenances thereon or thereto belonging, without let, hindrance, interruption or interference by the defendants, or anyone claiming under them, as fully as if title had been conveyed to it, and the court, or judge thereof, shall enforce same by appropriate order and proceedings; Provided, however, That before any interlocutory judgment is entered, the agency shall pay into the court, by depositing with the clerk of the circuit court, the amount contained and set forth in the report and award of commissioners, and shall at the same time file with the clerk a bond, with surety approved by the court, a judge thereof, or the clerk of the circuit court, conditioned upon the agency paying to the defendants the difference between the sum paid into court, and that which may thereafter be finally determined to be the value of the property or property rights, if any, or incidental damages, if any, unless the agency shall have sufficient sums duly appropriated, properly allocated to that purpose and on deposit to pay for any money judgments, including costs adjudged against the agency, that may thereafter be rendered against it, and if such facts are alleged in its complaint or in any supplement or amendment thereto, a bond shall not be required of it. If an interlocutory judgment is entered, and no answer, pleading or exceptions have been or are thereafter filed within time by any of the parties, final judgment shall be entered as provided for in subsection (8) of this section. If answer, pleading or exceptions are filed, the case shall proceed as provided for in cases where no interlocutory judgment has been demanded and entered, and wherein answer, pleading or exceptions are filed, and the interlocutory judgment shall remain in full force and effect. If the final judgment is greater than the amount paid into court by the agency under the report and award of the commissioners, the agency shall thereupon pay into court by depositing with the clerk of the circuit court the difference between the amount paid by the agency under the interlocutory judgment and the amount finally determined by the final judgment to be the value. If the difference be less, then the court shall direct the clerk to return and refund the difference to the agency out of the amount paid into court under the interlocutory judgment, if said sum has not been withdrawn by the defendants, or if withdrawn by the defendants, the court shall enter judgment in favor of the agency against the defendants and their surety for said difference, together with interest at six per cent (6%) per annum on the amount of the decrease from the date of withdrawal. The defendants, upon the payment by the agency into court of the amount set forth in the report and award of the commissioners, may, upon written demand, a copy of which shall be served upon the agency or its attorney at least ten (10) days prior to withdrawal of the funds, subject to approval by the court, withdraw from the clerk of the circuit court the amount, provided defendants execute a bond, with surety approved by the court, or a judge thereof, conditioned upon the payment to the agency by the defendants of any amount which may be determined to be the difference between the amount paid into court by the agency and the final judgment in the case, should it be finally determined that the amount paid into the court by the agency was greater than the amount set forth in the final judgment, or that the defendants receiving the funds were not the proper persons to receive same. The withdrawal of the amount by the defendants shall not prejudice or prevent defendants from filing answer, pleading or exceptions in the case, or from pursuing same if already filed, or taking any appeal, the same as if no withdrawal had been made. If defendants withdraw the amount paid into court by the agency, they shall be entitled to interest at six per cent (6%) per annum from the date of the taking of possession by the agency only on the amount by which said sum may thereafter be increased. If defendants do not withdraw the amount paid into court by the agency, they shall be entitled to interest at six per cent (6%) per annum from the date of the taking of possession by the agency only on the amount determined by the final judgment to be the value and amount defendants are entitled to receive for the land and property taken. The demand for an interlocutory judgment and the entering thereof is an additional remedy and right granted the agency, and the case shall continue and be disposed of in the same manner as if no interlocutory judgment had been demanded or entered.

(10) All money paid into court, or to the clerk of the circuit court, whether under an interlocutory judgment or a final judgment shall be received and held by the clerk subject to the order of the court, and the clerk and his sureties on his official bond shall be responsible to the persons entitled thereto.

(11) Where there are conflicting interests and claims in land and property sought to be condemned and all such parties are before the court, the claims and equities of any claimant and owner shall be decided by the court or jury, as the case may be, and the funds paid into court under an interlocutory judgment or final judgment shall be subject thereto. Such claims or determination of rights shall in no wise stay or delay said condemnation proceedings.

(12) If more than one (1) piece of property is involved, owned by different persons, the jury shall render a separate verdict as to the property of each person, or the court may direct a separate trial for each piece of property owned by different persons.

(13) An appeal may be taken by either party in interest from the circuit court to the Court of Appeals in the manner, for any of the causes and subject to the rules provided by general laws regarding appeals from circuit court to the Court of Appeals, but no appeal or supersedeas shall suspend the right of the agency to have possession of the property, easement or right of way condemned. Such appeals shall be advanced on the docket of the Court of Appeals.

(14) A slum area or blighted area acquired for a housing project by the housing authority of the community may be included in a redevelopment area and the use of such area for redevelopment shall be a public use as though such area were originally acquired for a redevelopment project.]

The condemnation proceedings shall [may] be had in the county court under the procedure prescribed in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.110, or may be had in the circuit court under the procedure prescribed in KRS 416.120, the selection as to which procedure to be followed being made by the fiscal court in the resolution ordering the condemnation].

(2) The legislative body of any city shall have the same power to condemn real property, lying within or without the corporate limits of the city, for flood control purposes, as is given to the fiscal court of a county by subsection (1) of this section. The condemnation proceedings shall be instituted and prosecuted by the city attorney.

(3) This section is intended to constitute an alternate method of acquiring property for flood control purposes, in addition to, and not as a substitute for, any other method authorized by law.

Section 56. KRS 104.070 is amended to read as follows:

If it becomes necessary to acquire rights of way, land, easements or borrow-pits, or other property, and it cannot be acquired by purchase, the governing authority may condemn and obtain the needed property in the manner provided by the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080, or, alternatively, in the manner provided by the statutes for the condemnation of property for public purposes by the particular class of city exercising the authority of KRS 104.020 to 104.160].

The sum not in controversy shall be paid or tendered to the parties defendant by the court prior to the entry of said interlocutory judgment.

(3) It is further provided that before rendering the interlocutory judgment, the court shall require the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district to execute a bond, with surety to be approved by the court, conditioned upon the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district paying to the parties defendant the difference between the sum paid into court and that which may thereafter be finally determined to be the value of the property or property rights and incidental damages, if any, if the parties defendant except to the report of the commissioners, unless the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district shall have sufficient funds duly appropriated, properly allocated to that purpose, and on deposit to pay any money judgments, including all costs adjudged against the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district, that may thereafter be rendered against it, and such fact or facts shall be alleged in its petition for condemnation.

(4) The city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district shall not be permitted to abandon the condemnation proceeding after having obtained possession and title to said land or other property or property rights unless none of the parties defendant will be materially prejudiced thereby.

(5) The proceedings for condemnation under the provisions of this section shall be conducted in the name of the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district by its regular attorney or by special counsel employed and designated by it to conduct such condemnation proceedings for such purpose, which power to employ and designate special counsel for such purpose is granted the city, county, flood control, drainage, levee, reclamation or soil conservation district [notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) of KRS 94.680, requiring condemnation proceedings by second-class cities to be conducted in the name of the city solicitor].

distribution systems and appurtenances thereto, or any facilities or property needed by such board for its use for the purposes thereof and desires to exercise the right of eminent domain, the board shall proceed pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [file in the office of the clerk of the circuit court a particular description of the property sought to be condemned, and may apply to the circuit court to appoint commissioners to assess the damages the owner or owners thereof may be entitled to receive, and thereupon said court shall appoint three (3) impartial housekeepers of the county who are landowners, and who shall be sworn to faithfully and impartially discharge their duties under this law.

(2) It shall be the duty of said commissioners to ascertain and determine the value of the property taken, the value of real estate, tangible personal property, intangible property and franchises if any such value is found to exist shall be determined and stated separately in their report; and they shall also award damages, if any, resulting to the remainder of the waterworks, water distribution system and appurtenances thereto of the owner, considering the purposes for which the property is taken, and the amount of said damages, if any, shall be stated separately in their report. They shall return a report, in writing, to the office of the clerk of said court, stating their award, and shall describe in their report the property condemned, give the name or names of the owners, and whether nonresidents of the state, infants, or incompetent persons.

(3) Upon the application of the said water district commissioners or the legislative body of the municipality herein referred to as the board, and upon filing such affidavits as may be necessary, the clerk of said court shall issue process against the owner or owners to show cause why the said report should not be confirmed, and shall make such orders as to nonresidents and persons under disability as are required by the Rules of Civil Procedure in actions against them in the circuit court.

(4) At the first regular term of the circuit court, after the owners shall have been summoned the length of time prescribed by the Rules of Civil Procedure before an answer is required in circuit court, it shall be the duty of the court to examine said report, and if it shall appear to be in conformity to this law, and to the extent that no exceptions have been filed thereto by either party, it shall confirm said report as against the owners not excepting.]

(2) Acquire by purchase, gift, grant, bequest, devise, or through condemnation proceedings in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 104.170], the fee simple title or any lesser interest in land including easements and flowage rights as are necessary for the exercise of any authorized function of the district, and for such purpose, may cause examinations and surveys to be made of any lands, easements or rights of way necessary for the performance of any authorized function of the district.

(3) Construct, improve, operate and maintain such structures as may be necessary for the performance of any function authorized by KRS 262.700 to 262.795.

(4) Borrow such money as is necessary for the purpose of acquiring lands or rights of way and establishing, constructing, reconstructing, repairing, enlarging and maintaining such structures and improvements as are required by the district in the performance of its functions, and issue, negotiate and sell its bonds as provided in KRS 262.750.

Section 99. KRS 266.130 is amended to read as follows:

The board of levee commissioners may enter upon, acquire, take and hold any lands or premises necessary and proper for locating, constructing, reconstructing, enlarging, extending, repairing and maintaining its line of levees, as well as for the cutting of ditches for the purpose of relieving the levees and the lands adjacent thereto enlarged by sipe and rain water. The board may also cut and remove trees, timbers and other materials that may, by falling or otherwise, encumber or endanger any levee. In case the owners cannot agree with the board as to the value of any property taken under authority of this section, the board may condemn the property in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

If it is necessary to acquire a right of way or any outlet over or through lands not affected by the drainage, and the same cannot be acquired by purchase, the same may be condemned by the board. The owners of the land sought to be condemned shall be made parties to the proceeding, and the procedure shall be substantially as provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080]. The damages awarded shall be paid by the board out of the first funds available, before the land is taken, injured or destroyed, unless the party entitled thereto waives payment in advance.

Section 101. KRS 267.450 is amended to read as follows:

The owner of any land that has been assessed for the cost of any improvement may use the improvement as an outlet for lateral drains from his land. If the land is separated from the improvement by the land of another, and the owners are unable to agree as to the terms on which the one may enter the land of the other and construct the drain or ditch, he may file his ancillary petition in the pending proceeding, and have the same condemned in the same manner as provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080]. When the ditch is constructed it shall become a part of the drainage system and be under the control of, and kept in repair by, the board.

Section 102. KRS 268.280 is amended to read as follows:

(1) When the report of the appraisers is filed in the office of the clerk of the court, if it shows that any property is going to be taken, damaged or affected, the owner of which has not been brought into court by notice on the organization of the district, the clerk shall embrace the name of such owner and a description of the property in the notice to them given by him and in the public notice, that the report of the appraisers has been filed, and set a hearing on a day certain during the next succeeding term of court, which does not convene within less than ten (10) days from the day on which the report was filed in his office.

(2) The public notice given by the clerk shall be substantially as follows:

"Commonwealth of Kentucky.

"In re drainage district No. .... court of .... County (or of .... Counties), Kentucky.

"Notice is hereby given to all owners of property in (drainage), (levee), (reclamation) district known as (insert name of district), the boundaries of which district are as follows: (here insert boundary description and also a separate description of any property added by the appraisers, together with the name of the owner), and to all persons whose property may be affected, that the board of appraisers has filed in the office of the clerk of this court its report in which it states and shows the benefits, damages and the assessments of benefits made upon all property in the district, the classification thereof and an appraisal of the value of the property necessary to be taken or used, or which will be affected by the making of the improvement. This proceeding is set for hearing on the .... day of ...., 19.., being the .... day of the next .... term of court. The report is on file in my office and subject to inspection by any person. Any person desiring to file exceptions thereto, must do so on or before the .... day of ...., 19.., being the first day of the .... term of court. Your failure to file exceptions to the report by that date will be construed by the court that you have no reasons to offer why it should not be confirmed.

"Done by me as clerk of the .... court on this the .... day of ...., 19...

.... Clerk."

(3) The clerk shall post a copy of the above notice at the front door of the courthouse of the county where the proceeding is pending, within five (5) days after the report is filed in his office, and shall cause it to be published pursuant to KRS chapter 424. One (1) copy of each issue of each newspaper containing the notice shall be filed by the clerk as a part of the record in the proceeding. On the first day of the term of court at which the report stands for hearing and trial, the clerk shall file in open court his certificate showing that he has published the notice as required. He shall sign the certificate officially and make it a part of the files of the proceedings. He shall make and attach a copy of his certificate to each duplicate copy of the report of the appraisers on file in his office.

(4) Owners shall have until and including the first day of the term of court at which the report is set for a hearing to file exceptions to it. All exceptions shall be heard and tried by the court on the day the proceeding is set for hearing pursuant to the preceding notice, unless further time be required. The trial of exceptions shall be by the court, except in cases where land is to be condemned, in which case it shall be by a jury as provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

(1) If any exceptions are filed to the report of the appraisers, the board may effect an agreement with the person filing exceptions but no agreement shall become binding until approved by the court. If no agreement is effected, a trial shall be had upon the exceptions.

(2) A trial shall first be had on the exceptions to the assessment of damages, which shall, if demanded, be by jury, as provided by the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080], and shall be governed in all respects by the same rules as therein provided. This shall apply to the damages assessed to the owners of land taken for rights of way, whether the lands or other property be within or without the (drainage), (levee), (reclamation) district. If it is necessary to acquire any right of way or outlet through any land not embraced in the district, it may be acquired in the same proceeding, and the value of the land to be taken and the damage to the adjacent lands used shall be determined in the same proceeding. All damages awarded either for land inside or outside of the district, or for lands actually taken, shall be paid by the board out of the first funds available for that purpose, and the board shall either pay in cash or make provisions for the payment thereof and secure the payment to the owner before the land is taken or damaged, unless the owner waives payment in advance. The trial of the exceptions to the damages assessed shall be completed before any hearing or trial is had upon any of the exceptions to the assessment of benefits or classification of property in the district.

(3) When the hearing is completed on the exceptions to the assessment of damages, the court shall hear and determine all exceptions to the assessment of benefits and classification of lands, which shall be heard by the court in a summary manner. The courts shall determine the correctness of the classification and assessment of benefits to each piece of property involved, when any exceptions have been filed to the report of the appraisers. The report of the appraisers shall be prima facie evidence of the fact that their findings are correct in all respects.

(4) If it appears to the court, after having heard and determined all exceptions, that the estimated cost of the construction of the proposed improvement contemplated in the plan of reclamation is less than the benefits properly assessed against the property, the court shall then approve and confirm the report of the appraisers as to the classification and assessment of benefits as amended or modified by the court. The order of the court approving and confirming the report of the appraisers shall also contain the judgment of the court relating to the condemnation of property to be taken or damaged.

(5) If a majority of the owners at this time desire to abandon the proposed improvement, they may do so by showing that its cost exceeds the benefit accruing to the property in the district. If this is shown, the court shall dismiss the proceeding. After the report of the appraisers has been filed, if the owners of seventy-five per cent (75%) of the land in the district, or any part of it which is practically separated from the rest, file a petition in the court in which the proceeding is pending stating that they desire to abandon the proposed improvement, the court shall dismiss the proceeding at the cost of the landowners.

(6) Any person may appeal from the judgment of the court, either upon the question of classification or the assessment of benefits or damages. The appeal shall be prosecuted in the same manner and within the time provided for in KRS 268.020. No person shall be allowed to raise any question he did not raise in his exceptions to the report of the appraisers in the trial court. The appeal shall not in any way stay the proceedings or affect the classification or the assessment of benefits or damages to any property not directly involved in the appeal, or prevent the execution of the judgment, except that particular part from which the appeal is prosecuted. The judgment shall be construed as a several judgment as to each piece of property.

(1) In order to effect the drainage, protection and reclamation of the land and other property in any district organized under this chapter subject to assessment, to protect cities from overflow, and to promote the public health or general welfare of the community, the board acting for the district may clean out, alter, construct or maintain any drain in or out of the district, and construct and maintain any levees, dikes, dams, revetments, reservoirs, holding basins, floodways, pumping stations, syphons and any other work and improvements deemed necessary to preserve and maintain the works or prevent overflow of land or protect

any city or parts thereof in or out of the district. The board may construct or enlarge any bridge needed in or out of the district across any drain or other improvement or any public highway, railroad right of way, track, grade, fill or cut, subject to the provisions of KRS 268.530; construct roadways upon, along and over levees and embankments; remove any fence, building or improvement in or out of the district.

(2) The board may hold, control and acquire by donation or purchase, or, if need be, condemn any land, easement, railroad right of way, sluice, conduit, sewer, holding basin or franchise in or out of the district for any purpose provided for in this chapter.

(a) The board may also condemn, in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080], for the use of the district any property within or without the district not acquired or condemned by the court on the report of the appraisers.

(3) The board may control all water power created by the construction of improvements in the district, and construct and maintain any hydroelectric power plants to develop such power for the use of the district and use any funds in the treasury of the district not otherwise appropriated for the construction and maintenance of such plants. The board may lease any power in excess of that required for the use of the district. The proceeds of such lease shall be turned into the treasury of the district.

(4) However, the construction or maintenance of any improvement shall not impair navigation upon any navigable stream in this state.

Section 105. KRS 268.570 is amended to read as follows:

Any owner may use the drain as an outlet for lateral ditches from his land. If his land is separated from the drain by the land of another and they are unable to agree as to the conditions on which one may enter another's land and construct the ditch, he may file his ancillary petition in the pending proceeding to the court, and secure condemnation as provided for in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080]. When the ditch is constructed, it shall become a part of the drainage system and shall be under the control of the board and kept in repair by it.

Section 106. KRS 269.070 is amended to read as follows:

Any county may remove any ponds, pools or swamp marshes, or reclaim swamp land that may cause sickness in the county, by ditching, leveeing or cleaning out logs and brush that may cause any creek to scatter or form pools of stagnant water. The cost shall be paid for out of the county levy or by taxation of the property in the county subject to taxation for state purposes. When the fiscal court undertakes such a project it may acquire for the county by contract or condemnation any land necessary to carry out the project. If condemnation proceedings are necessary, they shall be conducted in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

The corporation may extend its ditches, make other ditches, connect with any creek or stream and straighten or cut across any curve to facilitate drainage, and, when necessary, take the lands of private persons. The corporation is vested with the right and power of eminent domain for the condemnation of land that may be necessary, which remedy shall be pursued as provided by the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.100 or 416.110], the proceedings to be brought by the corporation in the county court, providing due compensation to the owners of land.

(1) The county court in each county of this commonwealth, wherein the fiscal court has requested it, is hereby authorized to establish a county-wide surface water drainage district for the entire county including all municipalities. The cost of procuring the necessary rights of way and the construction and maintenance of such county-wide drainage district shall be paid by the fiscal court out of the annual levy for county taxes. When the fiscal court undertakes such a project it may acquire for the county by contract or condemnation any land necessary to carry out the project. If condemnation proceedings are necessary they shall be conducted in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

(2) The administration of this district shall be exclusively by or within the fiscal court of said county, and the fiscal court is hereby authorized and empowered to employ such assistants, including commissioners or superintendent, and other employes as may be necessary for the construction, maintenance and continued operation of said system, and shall fix the salaries of all employes to be paid as other county employes are paid.

(3) In the construction and maintenance of such drainage system the fiscal court is authorized and empowered, as a part of the cost of construction and maintenance of said system, to build or construct such bridges and culverts over and across the ditches or canals of this system as in the opinion of the fiscal court are necessary.

(4) Nothing herein contained shall authorize or empower the construction or maintenance of a sanitary sewer system or sanitary sewers.

(3) If the railroad is constructed upon any public street or alley, the construction shall be upon such terms and conditions as are agreed upon between the company and the authorities of the city, and the road shall not be constructed until compensation is made, either by agreement or in the manner provided by the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080], to the owners of the property adjoining those parts of the street or alley on which the road is to be constructed.

(4) Any railroad company may build such spurs, switches, tracks or branches as are necessary to conduct its business or develop business along its line of road, and for that purpose shall have the same powers and be subject to the same restrictions and liabilities as are conferred or imposed upon it for the construction of its main line.

(1) If any applicant for a ferry privilege owns or has the right to use the land proposed as the site of the ferry only on one (1) side of the stream, and the landing on the opposite side is not at an established public highway, the applicant may, pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky, condemn [court, before granting the ferry privilege, shall issue a writ of ad quod damnum to ascertain the damage the owner of the land on the opposite side will sustain by establishing over his land] the necessary right of way, not [nor] more than forty (40) feet wide, for the use of the ferry. [The owner of the land on the opposite side must first be given reasonable notice of the intended application for the writ. If the court does not approve the assessment when returned, it shall issue a new writ. If the court approves the assessment, it shall, upon payment of the amount assessed into court for the benefit of the owner, condemn the right of way for the public use as a highway. If the land over which the right of way is sought is in another county, the writ of ad quod damnum shall be directed to the sheriff of that county.]

(2) Any person having an established ferry on any river in this state may have condemned, for a period of twenty (20) years or permanently, at his option, not more than one-half (1/2) acre of land adjacent to the ferry for any purpose necessary for the use of the ferry pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [Such person shall, after giving ten (10) days' notice to the owner of the land, apply to and obtain from the county court in which the land is situated a writ of ad quod damnum to ascertain the damages to the owner of the land. The writ may include the right to cut and remove any timber or other obstructions on the bank of the river, so as to clear them out of the way of the ferry. The writ shall be directed to the sheriff of the county, who shall proceed to execute it in the manner provided by subsection (1) of this section. The person having the land condemned shall acquire no right in it until the damages assessed and the costs of the proceedings are paid, and when they have been paid the sheriff shall convey the land so condemned to the applicant.]

If no owner of the land on either side of the stream over which a public highway passes will obtain the ferry privilege, or if such an owner, after obtaining the privilege, abandons it or fails to keep it up according to law, the county court may, after reasonable notice, grant the privilege to another. When it is necessary to the proper exercise of the privilege by such grantee, the court may cause to be condemned permanently, or for not more than twenty (20) years, at the option of the owner of the privilege, not more than two (2) acres of ground adjoining the landing, together with the use, for ferry purposes, of any adjacent uninclosed bank of the stream. Condemnation shall be pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [Before the final grant of the property and the use of the bank, the damage to the owner of the land shall be ascertained under a writ of ad quod damnum, and the amount thereof paid into court for the use of the owner.]

(3) The department of environmental protection shall attempt to purchase any land which it has determined should be acquired for the purpose of restoration and which the owners have not agreed to restore as provided in subsection (2) above. In any case where the department and the owners of the land are unable to agree upon the amount to be paid for the land, the department may exercise the power of eminent domain against such land by filing a condemnation suit under the [any] procedure of the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [as provided in KRS chapter 416].

(4) The purchase price, in the case of a negotiated acquisition, or the damages as finally determined, in the case of acquisition by condemnation, and the necessary expenses incidental thereto, shall be paid from appropriations made by the general assembly for such purposes and appropriations to which federal funds made available for such purposes have been credited.

Section 119. KRS 416.010 is amended to read as follows:

When any company authorized to construct a railroad is unable to contract with the owner of any land or material necessary for its use for the purpose thereof, it shall institute a condemnation action pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [file, in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the land or material is located, a particular description of the land or material sought to be condemned, and apply to the county court to appoint commissioners to assess the damages the owner thereof is entitled to receive].

(1) When any county court desires to condemn land under the authority of KRS 178.110, the county court shall proceed pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [appoint three impartial housekeepers of the county as commissioners to assess the damages the owner or tenant may be entitled to receive. The commissioners shall be sworn to faithfully and impartially discharge their duties according to law.

(2) Either the county or any tenant or owner may file exceptions to the report of the commissioners. If exceptions are filed by either party, the court shall, unless the parties waive a jury, forthwith cause a jury to be impaneled to try the issues and to assess compensation and damages.]

Section 121. KRS 416.110 is amended to read as follows:

(1) When any fiscal court desires to condemn land under the authority of KRS 178.120, it shall adopt a resolution ordering the condemnation of the required land. The resolution shall set forth the facts contemplated by KRS 178.120, give a general description of the land, and the name of the owner if known, and shall direct the county attorney to institute the proceedings.

(2) The county attorney shall file the petition for condemnation in the county court in the name of the county, and shall attach to the petition as an exhibit a certified copy of the resolution of the fiscal court. The resolution shall be prima facie evidence of the public use and necessity for the condemnation. Thereafter the proceedings shall be as provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [KRS 416.020 to 416.080, with the following exceptions:

(a) The "value of the land," as used in KRS 416.020, shall be the market value thereof, including the value of any trees or shrubbery taken and the market replacement value of fencing similar to any taken, and in the commissioners' report each of these items shall be stated separately, in addition to stating separately the incidental damages to adjacent land.

(b) The trial on exceptions shall be held on a day fixed by the court, rather than forthwith.

(c) The jury shall not be sent to view the land until after all testimony has been submitted to it.

(d) If the county appeals to the circuit court, it need not file a supersedeas bond.

(e) On appeal to the circuit court, a certified copy of the judgment of the county court shall be filed in lieu of a transcript of the orders of the county court.

(f) If, an appeal by the owner, the award of damages is not increased, or if, an appeal by the county, the award of damages is reduced, the owner shall, in addition to paying the costs of the appeal, repay to the county any sum he has received in excess of the amount awarded to him by the circuit court, plus interest at six percent on the difference between the awards from the date of the county court judgment, whether or not he has received the same. If, on appeal by the owner, the award of damages is increased, or if, on appeal by the county, the award is not reduced, the county shall, in addition to the costs of the appeal, pay interest at the rate of six percent on the difference between the awards.

(g) The county shall be entitled to take possession of the land condemned and to use and control the land for the purpose for which it was condemned, as fully as if title had been conveyed to the county, upon paying to the owner the damages awarded by the commissioners' report, where the report is confirmed, or paying into court the damages awarded by the jury, together with all costs adjudged to the owner.

(3) This section and KRS 178.120 constitute an additional and alternative method for the institution and prosecution of condemnation proceedings to acquire right of ways for county roads, streets, alleys, ditches and bridges.]

Section 122. KRS 416.120 is amended to read as follows:

Proceedings for condemnation by the director of parks and recreation of cities of the first class as authorized by KRS 97.257 shall be in accordance with the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [the circuit court, conducted in the name of the city by the director of law of such city, and shall be commenced by petition and summons, and carried on in a manner similar to actions at law, except that in proceedings against nonresident, absent and unknown defendants the city shall not be required to post bond as provided under CR 4.11. In any such actions the owners of distinct parts of any one general tract sought to be condemned may be included in one proceeding, or any one or more of such owners holding contiguous properties may be proceeded against in a separate action. Trial of such actions shall be by a jury summoned under order of court and consisting of twelve freeholders of such city or county, who shall be sworn to ascertain and determine fairly and impartially by their verdict the amount of compensation each and every owner shall be entitled to receive for his or her land or property described in the petition and sought to be condemned. The city shall have the burden of proving the value of the property to be condemned; and in assessing damages to the owner of the property it shall be competent for the jury to consider the benefits and advantages, if any, that to such owner will result from the proposed improvements, and to set off the same against such damages as the owner may have other than the value of the property actually condemned and taken by the city. Nonresidents, absent defendants, or unknown owners of property shall be proceeded against by warning order as in other civil actions. Any condemnation proceeding shall have precedence on the docket of the court and may be assigned for trial as soon as the parties are before the court. Upon return of the verdict of the jury, the court shall enter judgment vesting in such city the title to the property described and condemned, the said judgment to take effect upon the payment into the court by said city of the amount of money named in the verdict, and all taxed costs of the proceedings, and said city shall have sixty days within which to make said compensation and payment; provided, however, if payment be not made within such time, the said condemnation shall be deemed and treated as abandoned, and the verdict and judgment set aside, and the proceedings dismissed at the cost of said city, but without prejudice to any subsequent proceedings.]

(1) Every corporation organized for the purpose of constructing, or empowered to construct, a dam in any stream in this state for the purpose of improving navigation or developing, distributing and selling water power or electricity, and every corporation authorized under the laws of this state to conduct the business of producing and supplying electricity for the purpose of light, heat or power, may cause examinations and surveys to be made for its proposed dams, reservoirs, ponds, locks, bridges, power stations, roads, conduits and transmission lines, as well as the land that may be overflowed by the erection of any dam or other structure, and for such purposes may, by its officers, agents or servants, enter from time to time upon any lands or waters for the purpose of making such surveys or examinations, subject to liability for actual damage done. Before entering upon any land for such purposes, the corporation shall deposit with the clerk of the county in which the property is located, a bond to the Commonwealth in a penal sum fixed by the county court at not more than double the last assessed valuation of the property to be surveyed or examined, conditioned to indemnify all persons for actual damages sustained on account of making any examination or survey. When the location of the dam or other structure, and the land that may be overflowed by the erection of the dam, is determined, the corporation shall cause a survey and map to be made of the land to be taken and entered upon, which map shall be signed by the president and secretary and filed in the office of the clerk of the county court of the county in which the land shown on the map is situated.

(2) When any such corporation cannot, by agreement with the owner, acquire the property rights, privileges or easements needed for any of the uses or purposes referred to in subsection (1) of this section, the corporation may condemn such property, property rights, privileges or easements [either] in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080, or in the manner provided by KRS 416.230 to 416.310. A corporation may elect to proceed under either of the aforesaid acts]. Any corporation constructing or maintaining such dam shall be liable for any damages resulting from overflowing any property, public or private.

Section 124. KRS 416.150 is amended to read as follows:

Any telephone company desiring to condemn a right of way under the authority of subsection (2) of KRS 278.540 shall proceed pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky. [may file its petition for condemnation, verified by its agent, in the office of the clerk of the county court of the county in which the right of way sought to be condemned is located. The petition shall designate the owner of the land and the particular right of way sought to be condemned, and shall state the name of the petitioner, where and how incorporated, in what manner and with what kind of material it proposes to construct its telephone line, and that it has complied with the Constitution and laws of this state in regard to such corporations seeking to exercise the right of eminent domain. An application in writing by an authorized agent of the telephone company, proposing to agree with the owner of the land upon the compensation to be paid and offering a sum certain for such right of way, not accepted in writing by the owner or someone duly authorized by him within ten days after delivery of the offer to him, may be treated as a failure to agree authorizing condemnation.]

Section 125. KRS 416.210 is amended to read as follows:

Any burial association or corporation may condemn land by first recording, in the county clerk's office of the county where the land lies, a resolution that it needs the land to furnish a burial site for the public. It may condemn a sufficient roadway to have access to the land, not wider than one hundred feet. It may also condemn enough land, not exceeding five acres, adjacent to any land used for a cemetery for a chapel site. If the building of any state highway requires a change in the entrance to any cemetery, the burial association or corporation may condemn any adjacent land, not wider than one hundred feet for the new entrance. The condemnation procedure shall be in the manner provided in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080]. This section shall not permit condemnation of more than forty acres at any one time.

Section 126. KRS 416.220 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The owner of real estate serving the public, providing sleeping accommodations and meals, when pure water is not available in adequate quantities, shall have the right to condemn on the banks of any navigable stream a tract of land not more than twenty feet square and above the high water mark for a pumping station site and a right-of-way for a pipe line from said site to the deep water of the navigable stream and from said pumping station site to the point on the owner's real estate where the water is desired for use. The said property owner may condemn a right-of-way for an electric power line over the most direct course to the pumping station site. In the event the owner of such real estate finds it more desirable to make connections with the water system of a municipality or a water supply line leading from a navigable stream to the municipality or other source of supply, then said real estate owner may, at his option, condemn a right-of-way for a pipe line from said city water system or water supply line or other source of supply to the point on the owner's real estate where the water is desired for use, including such area as may be required to install and maintain pumps and meters for said water system and an electric line to conduct power to said pump with necessary electric control lines or apparatus. The owner of property condemning right-of-way for a water line under this section, may agree to supply the subject owner a quantity of water in lieu of cash compensation for the easement, and such agreement to supply water to the subject property owner shall not be construed to place a burden on the condemning party to supply water service to others or meet the obligation of a public utility to render water service.

(2) The provisions of KRS 381.660, 381.670, and 381.680 shall be complied with except that when the pumping station site and pipe line are located on cliff land and do not cross any tillable land the pumps and pipe may be located above ground.

(3) The procedure for condemnation shall be that set forth in the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

Section 127. KRS 416.230 is amended to read as follows:

The petition shall state that it is filed under the provisions of KRS 278.502 and shall be conducted pursuant to the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.230 to 416.310 and shall contain, in substance:

(1) Allegations sufficient to show that petitioner is entitled, under the provisions of KRS 278.502, to condemn the lands and material or the use and occupation of the lands in question;

(2) A particular description of the land, the use and occupation thereof and the material sought to be condemned; and

(3) An application to the county court to appoint commissioners to award the amount of compensation the owner thereof is entitled to receive therefor].

Section 128. KRS 416.340 is amended to read as follows:

Any water association supplying water to no less than 100 customers, which has been formed under the provisions of KRS Chapter 273, may exercise the power of eminent domain in accordance with the provisions of the Eminent Domain Act of Kentucky [KRS 416.010 to 416.080].

No proceeding under this chapter for compensation for an injury or death shall be maintained unless a notice of the accident shall have been given to the employer as soon as practicable after the happening thereof and unless a claim for compensation with respect to such injury shall have been made within two years after the date of the accident, or in case of death, within two years after such death, whether or not a claim has been made by the employe himself for compensation. Such notice and such claim may be given or made by any person claiming to be entitled to compensation or by some one in his behalf. If payments of compensation as such have been made voluntarily the making of a claim within such period shall not be required, but shall become requisite within two years [one year] following the suspension of such voluntary payments or within two years of the date of the accident, whichever is later.

HB 111, AN ACT relating to unemployment compensation.

Section 1. KRS 341.100 is amended to read as follows:

(1) In determining for any purpose under this chapter whether or not any work is suitable for a worker the commissioner shall consider, among other pertinent conditions, the degree of risk involved to his health, safety and morals; his physical fitness and prior training; his experience and prior earnings; his length of unemployment and prospects for securing local work in his customary occupation; and the distance of the available work from his residence.

(2) For the purpose of this chapter, no work shall be suitable and [neither waiting period credit nor] benefits shall not be denied under this chapter to any otherwise eligible worker for refusing to accept new work or new conditions of work under one or more of the following:

(a) If the position offered is vacant due directly to a strike, lock-out or other labor dispute;

(b) If the wages, hours, or other conditions of the work offered are substantially less favorable than those prevailing for similar work in the locality;

(c) If, as a condition of being employed, the worker would be required to join a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization;

(d) If the acceptance of such work would be prejudicial to the continuance of an established employer-employe relationship to which the worker is a party.

Section 2. KRS 341.360 is amended to read as follows:

No worker may [serve a waiting period or] be paid benefits for any week of unemployment:

(1) With respect to which a strike or other bona fide labor dispute which caused him to leave or lose his employment is in active progress in the establishment in which he is or was employed, except that [waiting periods may be served and] benefits may be paid unless the employer notifies the division in writing within seven days after the beginning of such alleged strike or labor dispute of the alleged existence of such strike or labor dispute. For the purpose of this subsection a lockout shall not be deemed to be a strike or a bona fide labor dispute and no worker shall [be denied credit for a waiting period or] be denied benefits by reason of a lockout;

(2) For which he has received or is seeking unemployment compensation under an unemployment compensation law of another state or of the United States, except as otherwise provided by an arrangement between this state and such other state or the United States. But if the appropriate agency of such state or of the United States finally determines that he is not entitled to such unemployment compensation, this subsection shall not apply; or

(3) Which, when based on service in an instructional, research, or principal administrative capacity in an institution of higher education (as defined in subsection (2) of KRS 341.067) begins during the period between two successive academic years, or during a similar period between two regular terms, whether or not successive, or during a period of paid sabbatical leave provided for in the individual's contract, if the worker has a contract or contracts to perform services in any such capacity for any institution or institutions of higher education for both such academic years or both such terms.

(1) According to the circumstances in each case, a worker shall be disqualified from receiving benefits [or serving a waiting period]:

(a) For not less than one (1) nor more than sixteen (16) weeks immediately following the commission of the disqualifying act, if, subsequent to his most recent work, he has failed without good cause either to apply for available, suitable work when so directed by the employment office or the commissioner or to accept suitable work when offered him, or to return to his customary self-employment when so directed by the commissioner; or

(b) For not less than six (6) nor more than sixteen (16) weeks immediately following the commission of the disqualifying act, if he has been discharged for misconduct connected with his most recent work, but legitimate activity in connection with labor organizations or failure to join a company union shall not be construed as misconduct.

(a) He was discharged for dishonesty in connection with his most recent work;

(b) He voluntarily quit his most recent work to marry or for the purpose of attending school, or to become self-employed; or

(c) He has left his most recent suitable work voluntarily without good cause.

(4) No worker shall be disqualified under paragraph (b) of subsections (1) or (2) of this section unless the employer, within a reasonable time as prescribed by Secretary's regulation, notifies the Department for Human Resources and the worker in writing of the alleged voluntary quitting or the discharge for misconduct; Provided, however, That nothing in this subsection shall restrict the right of the Secretary for Human Resources to disqualify a worker whose employer has refused or failed to notify the Department for Human Resources of the alleged voluntary quitting or discharge for misconduct if such alleged voluntary quitting or discharge for misconduct is known to the Secretary for Human Resources prior to the time benefits are paid to such worker; Provided, further, That the exercise of such right by the Secretary for Human Resources, in the absence of timely notice from the employer, shall not relieve the employer's reserve account of benefit charges under the provisions of subsection (3) of KRS 341.530.

(5) As used in this section and in subsection (3) of KRS 341.530, "most recent" work shall be construed as that work which occurred after the first day of the worker's base period and which last preceded the week of unemployment with respect to which benefits are claimed; except that, if the work last preceding such week of unemployment was intermittent or temporary in nature, most recent work may be construed as that work last preceding such intermittent or temporary work.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 292.310 is amended to read as follows:

When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Director" means the Director of the Division of Securities of the Department of Banking and Securities;

(2) "Agent" means any individual other than a broker-dealer who represents a broker-dealer or issuer in effecting or attempting to effect purchases or sales of securities, but "agent" does not include an individual who represents an issuer in:

(a) effecting a transaction in a security exempted by subsections (1), (2), (3), (9), (10) or (11) of KRS 292.400,

(b) effecting transactions exempted by KRS 292.410 or

(c) effecting transactions with existing employes, partners or directors of the issuer if no commission or other remuneration is paid or given directly or indirectly for soliciting any person in this state. A partner, officer, or director of a broker-dealer or issuer, or a person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, is an agent only if he otherwise comes within this definition;

(3) "Broker-dealer" means any person engaged in the business of effecting transactions in securities for the account of others or for his own account. "Broker-dealer" does not include:

(a) an agent, issuer, bank, savings institution, or trust company,

(b) a person who has no place of business in this state if he effects transactions in this state exclusively with or through the issuers of the securities involved in the transactions, other broker-dealers, or banks, savings institutions, trust companies, insurance companies, investment companies as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, pension or profit-sharing trusts, or other financial institutions or institutional buyers, whether acting for themselves or as trustees, or

(c) a person who has no place of business in this state if during any period of twelve consecutive months he does not direct more than fifteen (15) offers to sell or to buy into this state in any manner to persons other than those specified in paragraph (b);

(4) "Certified" means, when used in regard to financial statements, examined and reported upon in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards with an opinion expressed by an independent public or certified public accountant;

(5) "Fraud," "deceit," and "defraud" are not limited to common-law deceit;

(6) "Guaranteed" means guaranteed as to payment of principal, interest, or dividends;

(7) "Investment adviser" means any person who, for compensation, engages in the business of advising others, either directly or through publications or writings, as to the value of securities or as to the advisability of investing in, purchasing, or selling securities, or who, for compensation and as a part of a regular business, issues or promulgates analyses or reports concerning securities. "Investment adviser" does not include:

(a) a bank, savings institution, or trust company;

(b) a lawyer, accountant, engineer, or teacher whose performance of these services is solely incidental to the practice of his profession;

(c) a broker-dealer whose performance of these services is solely incidental to the conduct of his business as a broker-dealer and who receives no special compensation for them;

(d) a publisher of any bona fide newspaper, news magazine, or business or financial publication of general, regular, and paid circulation;

(e) a person whose advice, analyses, or reports relate only to securities exempted by KRS 292.400 (1);

(f) a person who has no place of business in this state if:

1. his only clients in this state are other investment advisers, broker-dealers, banks, savings institutions, trust companies, insurance companies, investment companies as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, pension or profit-sharing trusts, or other financial institutions or institutional buyers, whether acting for themselves or as trustees, or

2. during any period of twelve consecutive months he does not direct business communications into this state in any manner to more than five clients other than those specified in subparagraph 1., or

(g) such other persons not within the intent of this subsection as the director may by rule or order designate;

(8) "Issuer" means any person who issues or proposes to issue any security, except that with respect to certificates of deposit, voting trust certificates, or collateral-trust certificates, or with respect to certificates of interest or shares in an unincorporated investment trust not having a board of directors (or persons performing similar functions) or of the fixed, restricted management, or unit type, the term "issuer" means the person or persons performing the acts and assuming the duties of depositor or manager pursuant to the provisions of the trust or other agreement or instrument under which the security is issued;

(9) "Non-issuer" means not directly or indirectly for the benefit of the issuer;

(10) "Person" means an individual, a corporation, a partnership, an association, a joint-stock company, a trust where the interests of the beneficiaries are evidenced by a security, an unincorporated organization, a government, or a political subdivision of a government;

(11) "Sale" or "sell" includes every contract of sale of, contract to sell, or disposition of, a security or interest in a security for value. "Offer" or "offer to sell" includes every attempt to offer to dispose of, or solicitation of an offer to buy, a security or interest in a security for value. Any security given or delivered with, or as a bonus on account of, any purchase of securities or any other thing is considered to constitute part of the subject of the purchase and to have been offered and sold for value. A purported gift of assessable stock is considered to involve an offer and sale. Every sale or offer of a warrant or right to purchase or subscribe to another security of the same or another issuer, as well as every sale or offer, of a security which gives the holder a present or future right or privilege to convert into another security of the same or another issuer, is considered to include an offer of the other security;

preorganization certificate or subscription, transferable share, investment contract, voting-trust certificate of deposit for a security; fractional undivided interest in oil, gas, or other mineral rights; or, in general, any interest or instrument commonly known as a "security," or any certificate of interest in or participation in, temporary or interim certificate for, receipt for, guarantee of, or warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase, any of the foregoing. "Security" does not include any insurance or endowment policy or annuity contract under which an insurance company promises to pay a fixed number of dollars either in a lump sum or periodically for life or some other specified period;

(14) "State" means any state, territory, or possession of the United States, as well as the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Section 2. Whereas the definition of "Security" does not presently include fractional undivided interests in oil, gas, or other mineral rights, and whereas the protection of the public requires the inclusion of such rights in the definition of "Security," an emergency is declared to exist and this Act shall become effective upon its passage and approval by the Governor.

(1) No employer shall discriminate between employes in the same establishment on the basis of sex, by paying wages to any employe in any occupation in this state at a rate less than the rate at which he pays any employe of the opposite sex for comparable work on jobs which have comparable requirements relating to skill, effort and responsibility. Differentials which are paid pursuant to established seniority systems or merit increase systems, which do not discriminate on the basis of sex, are not within this prohibition [provided, however, that nothing in KRS 337.420 to 337.433 and 337.992 shall apply to any employer who is subject to the federal fair labor standards act of 1938, as amended, when that act imposes comparable or greater requirements than contained in KRS 337.420 to 337.433 and 337.992 and when said employer files with the commissioner of the department of labor a statement that said employer is covered by the federal fair labor standards act of 1938, as amended].

(2) An employer who is paying a wage differential in violation of KRS 337.420 to 337.433 and 337.992 shall not, in order to comply with it, reduce the wage rates of any employe.

(3) No person shall cause or attempt to cause an employer to discriminate against any employe in violation of KRS 337.420 to 337.433 and 337.992.

(4) No employer may discharge or discriminate against any employe by reason of any action taken by such employe to invoke or assist in any manner the enforcement of KRS 337.420 to 337.433 and 337.992.

HB 192, AN ACT relating to unemployment compensation.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 341.530 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall maintain a reserve account for each subject employer, and shall, except as provided in KRS 341.590, credit to such account the total amount of all contributions paid by the employer on his own behalf. Nothing in this section or elsewhere in this chapter shall be construed to grant any employer or individual who is or was in his employ prior claims or rights to the amounts paid by him into the fund.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, all benefits paid to an eligible worker in accordance with KRS 341.380 and one half (1/2) of the benefits paid in accordance with KRS 341.700 to KRS 341.740 shall be charged proportionately against the accounts of those of his subject employers from whom he has base-period wages. The proportion so used shall be that ratio which is obtained by dividing the base-period wages of a worker from such employer by the total base-period wages of such worker, provided, however, that the division may, when necessary, make such fractional adjustments in such computation as may be required to assure mathematical compliance with this provision.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) of this section, benefits paid to an eligible worker and chargeable to an employer's reserve account under such subsection shall be charged against the pooled account if such worker was discharged by such employer for misconduct connected with his most recent work for such employer, voluntarily left his most recent work with such employer without good cause attributable to the employment, or such employer has continuously employed the worker without significant interruption since the end of the worker's base period and in the week with respect to which benefits are paid, wages and employment are provided to the worker by such employer to the same extent as during the base period, and the employer within a reasonable time, as prescribed by regulation of the secretary, notifies the division, in writing, of the alleged voluntary quitting, discharge for misconduct or continuing employment [; Provided, however, That no employer making payments to the fund in lieu of contributions shall be relieved of charges by reason of this subsection].

(4) Each subject employer's reserve account shall, unless terminated or exhausted as of the computation date (as defined in subsection (5) of KRS 341.270), be charged with all benefits paid to eligible workers which are chargeable to such reserve account under subsection (2) of this section. A subject employer's reserve account shall be deemed to be terminated if he has ceased to be subject to this chapter, and his account has been closed and any balance remaining therein has been transferred to the fund's pooled account or to a successor's account as provided in KRS 341.540.

(5) Any subject employer may at any time make voluntary payments to the fund, additional to the contributions required under KRS 341.260 and 341.270. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, contributions paid within one (1) month following the computation date and voluntary payments made within twenty (20) days following the mailing of notices of new rates shall, in accordance with regulations established by the secretary, be credited to an employer's reserve account as of the computation date; Provided, no voluntary payments shall be used in computing an employer's rate unless such payment is made prior to the expiration of one hundred and twenty (120) days after the beginning of the year for which such rate is effective.

HB 34, AN ACT relating to city housing programs.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. A new section of KRS Chapter 80 is created to read as follows:
This Act shall be known as the Kentucky Urban Homesteading Act.

Section 2. A new section of KRS Chapter 80 is created to read as follows:
As used in this Act, the following words and terms shall have the following meaning:

(1) "Applicant" means any private individual of at least eighteen (18) years of age or any private individual and spouse, both of at least eighteen (18) years of age, who respond to an advertisement and supply data to an urban homesteading board pursuant to Section 6(2) of this Act;

(2) "Residence" means a structure in a residential neighborhood which, under existing local zoning and housing regulations, could provide or be made to provide one (1) or more separate living units;

(3) "Lot" means a parcel of land in a residential neighborhood upon which, under existing local zoning and housing regulations, a residence could be constructed;

(4) "Property" means a residence or lot as defined in this Act;

(5) "Board" means an urban homesteading board created pursuant to Section 4 of this Act.

Section 3. A new section of KRS Chapter 80 is created to read as follows:

(1) The General Assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) an economically unsound, unsafe, and unhealthy condition exists in many of the Commonwealth's urban areas as a result of the abandonment of deteriorated housing in residential neighborhoods;

(b) the deterioration and abandonment of housing in a neighborhood has a deleterious effect upon surrounding housing because owners of such housing defer property maintenance and because private lenders are hesitant to invest the capital in such neighborhoods necessary to keep such housing in a good state of repair;

(c) abandoned housing creates unhealthful condition by providing a haven for rats and other vermin and contributes to an unsafe condition by encouraging arson and other forms of vandalism;

(d) the abandonment of housing creates an economically unsound condition for cities because the property tax base of affected cities is depleted at the same time that the demand for costly public services increases;

(e) abandonment creates a special hardship for the residents of neighborhoods in which it occurs, because the value of their homes declines while the increasing safety and health hazards depreciate the quality of residential living in their neighborhoods;

(f) abandonment encourages persons with the financial capability to migrate from such neighborhoods, and that such outmigration accelerates the decline of such neighborhoods and further decreases the quality of life for those persons who, because of low income, poor health or advanced age or a combination of these factors must remain in their deteriorating neighborhoods;

(g) abandonment discourages investment in a neighborhood for purposes of homeownership and leads to the use of housing for rental purposes, often by absentee landlords who do not have the strong interest in housing maintenance which is characteristic of homeowners or resident landlords;

(h) abandonment and outmigration from inner city neighborhoods create pressure for residential development on the fringes of urban areas where land for such development is becoming increasingly scarce and costly, and where the costs of housing and public services is increasing at a rapid rate while public utilities existing in inner city neighborhoods become underutilized;

(2) The General Assembly further finds and declares that housing abandonment is often accompanied by property tax delinquency, weed, demolition and other such liens, and that cities do or could become the owners of large numbers of abandoned properties through foreclosure proceedings.

(3) The General Assembly further finds and declares that because rehabilitation or construction of housing for resident ownership in neighborhoods which experience housing abandonment will:

(a) increase the property tax base;

(b) encourage owners to maintain their property;

(c) provide homeownership opportunities for responsible citizens who otherwise could not consider the purchase of a home;

(d) eliminate sites which house vermin and promote vandalism;

(e) encourage the inflow of private capital for housing maintenance and improvement;

(f) increase the use of existing public utilities while decreasing the demand for public services relating to public health and safety;

(g) decrease development pressure on urban fringe areas;

(h) protect the investment of homeowners while enhancing the quality of residential life for homeowners and renters alike; that it is in the public interest for cities which own abandoned properties in residential areas to transfer ownership of such properties to persons who for their own residential use, or for the purpose of becoming resident landlords will agree to rehabilitate existing residences or construct new residences, and that such transfers may be made at nominal cost to the purchaser if such nominal cost to the purchaser is consistent with and will facilitate accomplishing the purposes of this Act.

Section 4. A new section of KRS Chapter 80 is created to read as follows:

(1) Any city which has adopted a code establishing minimum standards for the maintenance of residential property may establish an urban homesteading board which may be comprised in any one (1) of the following ways:

(a) a housing authority established pursuant to KRS 80.030;

(b) an urban renewal and community development agency established pursuant to KRS 99.350;

(c) a development authority established pursuant to KRS 99.620;

(d) a three (3) to five (5) member board appointed by the mayor with the consent of the city council; (e) at least three (3) members of the city council.

Should the members of an urban homesteading board hold their office by virtue of membership on the city council, a housing authority, an urban renewal and community development agency or a development authority, their membership on the urban homesteading board shall be coterminous with their membership on said other agency, but their actions pursuant to this Act shall constitute actions of an urban homesteading board, and shall not be construed as the actions of any other body. Should an independent urban homesteading board be created, its members shall serve four (4) year terms, which may be staggered at the discretion of the city council.

(2) The members of the board shall elect from their number a chairman and other officers as they deem necessary, and may adopt bylaws for their internal operation.

(3) The board may promulgate regulations consistent with fulfilling its responsibilities under the purposes of this Act. The city attorney shall review such regulations and shall approve them if they comply with the intents and purposes of this Act.

(4) The urban homesteading board may upon approval of the city council employ staff as necessary to implement an urban homesteading program.

(5) Members of an urban homesteading board shall be paid for expenses incurred while carrying out their official duties, and may receive compensation for their services if they are not compensated by the city in another official capacity.

Section 5. A new section of KRS Chapter 80 is created to read as follows:

(1) The urban homesteading board shall establish and maintain a catalogue of all properties in residentially zoned areas which are owned by the city. Information catalogued shall include:

(a) location;

(b) a description of the size of each lot and the size and number of rooms in each residence;

(c) a detailed description of the physical condition of the residence including a list of applicable housing code violations;

(d) an estimate of the present value of each residence;

(e) a description of the social and physical condition of the neighborhood in which the property is located;

(f) a recommendation as to the suitability of each property for inclusion in a program of neighborhood maintenance and improvement through housing rehabilitation or construction.

(2) The board shall review any documents on planning and redevelopment or similar documents which may have been prepared under the auspices of the city and shall compare its recommendations on the suitability of each residence or lot for rehabilitation or construction with the findings or recommendations of such other documents in order to avoid, where possible, duplication of effort or conflicts and inconsistencies among plans.

Section 6. A new section of KRS Chapter 80 is created to read as follows:

(1) Upon completion of its catalogue of city owned properties and comparison of its judgments with other pertinent plans and studies of the city, the board shall submit its catalogue to the city council for their review. Upon approval by resolution of the catalogue and recommendations, the city shall designate the urban homesteading board as an agent for the management and transfer of city owned properties to private individuals within the framework of a program of neighborhood maintenance and improvement.

(2) After designation as an agent for transfer of municipally owned properties, the urban homesteading board shall advertise by newspaper and other appropriate means for applicants for the urban homesteading program. Applicants shall be asked to supply data which shall be used to judge their reliability and capability to undertake a housing rehabilitation or construction effort within the context of the program. Such data shall be used only for evaluation of applicants within the context of the urban homesteading program and shall not be used for any other purpose nor shall it be made available to any person for any other purpose.

(3) An applicant who is approved by the board shall be placed on a priority list based upon his date of approval. In conformance with his position on such list, he shall be allowed to select from the list of board recommended properties, a residence which, in the judgment of the board, using any combination of financial and technical resources which he possesses, he will be capable of rehabilitating to the point of housing code conformance, or a lot upon which he will be capable of erecting a suitable residential structure.

Section 7. A new section of KRS Chapter 80 is created to read as follows:

After a qualified applicant has selected a property under the provisions of Section 6(3) of this Act, the urban homesteading board shall convey the property to the applicant under the following conditions:

(1) The city shall charge the applicant a price which may be nominal if, in the judgment of the homesteading board, such nominal price is consonant with the combination of financial and technical resources possessed by the applicant and is consistent with accomplishing the purposes of this Act;

(2) The applicant shall agree to correct all housing code violations existing in the residence within eighteen (18) months and shall maintain the residence as his primary place of residence for a period of twelve (12) consecutive months, which period may run concurrently with the period of repair if no city ordinances would be violated thereby and if the safety of the occupants would not be endangered thereby, or the applicant shall agree to construct on the property within eighteen (18) months a new residence which satisfies all applicable city ordinances and shall maintain the new residence as his primary place of residence for a period of twelve (12) consecutive months;

(3) The applicant shall agree to correct any board specified housing code violations in an existing residence by specified dates within the eighteen (18) month maximum allowable repair period, or shall agree to make specified progress on the construction of a new residence by specified dates within the eighteen (18) month maximum allowable period for the construction of a new residence;

(4) The applicant shall carry insurance sufficient to cover the cost of the property and improvements as they are made;

(5) The applicant shall have adequate financing assured for the purchase of the property and improvements thereto;

(6) The applicant shall agree, if required by the board, to submit bids for the improvement of his property to the board for their review and approval;

(7) At no time during the period of the conditional contract between the board and the applicant shall the city be liable for the acts or omissions of the applicant;

(8) The applicant shall agree to allow inspections, upon reasonable notice and at convenient times of the day, by members or agents of the board for the purpose of verifying compliance with the terms of the contract between the applicant and the board. Upon discovery that the applicant has failed to correct specified code violations within time limits of said contract, or has failed to make specified progress on the construction of a new residence within the time limits of said contract, the board shall notify the applicant in writing of the date by which he must correct said violations or make such progress, or show cause before a hearing of the board as to why he should not be evicted. Failure to correct specified code violations or make specified progress upon notice and within the time limits established by the board, or failure to complete repairs or construction within the eighteen (18) month maximum allowable time period or failure to maintain the residence as the primary place of residence for twelve (12) consecutive months shall be sufficient cause for the board, after a hearing at which the applicant has been instructed to appear, to terminate its contract with the applicant, whereupon the applicant shall forfeit all rights and interest in the property and improvements thereto, and shall be evicted by the city;

(9) In any appeal to the courts of a board's decision to evict an applicant, the findings of the board shall be conclusive unless the applicant can demonstrate to the court that such findings were reached by gross abuse of discretion or fraud;

(10) Upon eviction of the applicant by the city, any improvements to the property made by the applicant shall become the property of the city. Upon subsequent sale of the property and improvements thereto by the city, the proceeds of such sale shall be distributed as follows:

(a) first, to satisfy any liens on improvements to the property resulting from the activities of the applicant;

(b) second, to satisfy the costs of the city related to the property;

(c) third, to compensate the applicant for any investment he may have had in the property above that represented by said liens;

(11) Under extenuating circumstances, the board may extend the eighteen (18) month period allowed for completion of repairs or construction of a new residence by up to twelve (12) months, or may reduce the twelve (12) consecutive month residency requirement;

(12) The applicant shall be informed of all the terms and conditions of the contract with the city before he enters into said contract, and he shall acknowledge in writing that he has been so informed;

(13) Title to the property shall remain with the city until the applicant fulfills all of the terms and conditions of the contract, and upon fulfillment by the applicant of all the terms and conditions of his contract with the city, the board shall execute all documents necessary to transfer to the applicant fee simple title to the property.

Section 8. A new section of KRS Chapter 80 is created to read as follows:

The board shall assist lower income applicants by informing them of any grants or low interest loans which may be available for housing rehabilitation or construction efforts, and by cooperating with those agencies which may provide grants or low interest loans to reduce any administrative problems which may beset the applicant through dealing with more than one (1) agency.

Section 9. A new section of KRS Chapter 80 is created to read as follows:

The board shall promote training programs in home repair and maintenance, and finance, taxation and budgeting as they relate to homeownership, and may cooperate with school boards, vocational schools, universities, not-for-profit agencies and other groups in order to promote or establish such programs.

The Committee Substitute for HB 34 is as follows:

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 65.010 is amended to read as follows:

Any local government [city or county] may sell and convey any real estate owned by it upon a determination by the legislative body of such governmental unit that said real estate is no longer needed to carry on the governmental functions of the local government [city or county] or that other property is more suitable for the governmental purpose to which the property to be sold and conveyed has been dedicated. Any local government may sell and convey, for a price which may be nominal, any real estate owned by it to any person or non-profit corporation if such person or corporation shall agree, as a condition of such sale, to assist in programs of residential neighborhood rehabilitation and maintenance through local government specified improvements to or use of such real estate. The local government [city or county] may make such disposition of its property regardless of a previous dedication of said property whether the dedication was created by virtue of use, deed, ordinance or by any other manner. This section shall not apply to any public street, sidewalk, right of way or other easement.

Section 2. KRS 82.060 is amended to read as follows:

(1) All cities are hereby authorized to sell any real estate owned by them and surplus to their needs, including property acquired for or held in trust for park purposes, whether by purchase or by grant, when the public purpose to which said real estate has been dedicated has been abandoned, or is no longer needed or suitable for such purposes.

Section 1. KRS 288.530 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Every licensee may lend any sum of money not exceeding $1,500 [$1,200], excluding charges, and may charge contract for and receive thereon charges not in excess of 3 percent per month on that part of the unpaid principal balance not in excess of $500 and 2 percent per month on that part of the unpaid principal balance exceeding $500 but not exceeding $1,200 and 1 1/2 percent per month on that part of the unpaid principal balance exceeding $1,200 but not exceeding $1,500. Such rates shall be computed on scheduled unpaid principal balances of the cash advance for the full term of the loan contract [$20.00 per $100 on that part of the cash advance (the cash or its equivalent received by the borrower or paid out on his behalf or at his direction or request) not exceeding $300 and $16.00 per $100 on that part of the cash advance exceeding $300 but not exceeding $800 and $13.00 per $100 on that part of the cash advance exceeding $800 but not exceeding $1,200, when the loan is made payable over a period of one (1) year, and, proportionately at those rates for a greater or a lesser amount, within said limits, or over a longer or shorter term of loan, and such rates shall be computed on the full amount of the cash advance for the full term of the loan contract, notwithstanding any agreement to repay the loan in instalments]. Such charges shall be added to the cash advance and the resulting sum shall become the face amount of the note.

(2) For the purposes of computation, whether at the maximum rate or less, a month shall be that period of time from any date in a month to the corresponding date in the next month and if there is no such corresponding date then to the last day of such month, and a day shall be considered one-thirtieth (1/30) of a month when such computation is made for a fraction of a month. The portion of the charges applicable to any particular monthly instalment period, as originally scheduled or following a deferment, shall bear the same ratio to the total charges, excluding any adjustments made pursuant to subsection (3) of this section, as the balance scheduled to be outstanding during that monthly period bears to the sum of all monthly balances scheduled originally by the contract of loan.

(3) A licensee and borrower may agree that the first instalment date may be not more than fifteen (15) days more than one (1) month and the amount of such instalment may be increased by one-thirtieth (1/30) of the portion of the charges applicable to a first instalment period of one (1) month for each extra day.

(4) If one-half (1/2) or more of any instalment remains unpaid more than seven (7) days after it is due, the licensee may charge and collect a default charge not exceeding two cents (2¢) for each dollar of the scheduled instalment, and such charge may be collected for each full month thereafter the instalment remains unpaid.

(5) If the payment of all wholly unpaid instalment on which no default charge has been collected is deferred one or more full months, the licensee may charge and collect a deferment charge not exceeding two cents (2¢) for each one dollar ($1.00) of the sum of the instalment so deferred, multiplied by the number of months the maturity of the contract is extended; Provided, however, That such number of months shall not exceed the number of instalments which are due and wholly unpaid or due within fifteen (15) days from the date of deferment. The deferment charge may be collected at the time of deferment or at any time thereafter. Any payment received at the time of deferment may be applied first to the deferment charge and the remainder, if any, applied to the unpaid balance of the contract, provided, however, that if such payment is sufficient to pay, in addition to the appropriate deferment charge, any instalment which is in default and the applicable default charge, it shall be first so applied and any such instalment shall not be deferred or subject to the deferment charge. At the time a deferment is made the borrower shall be given a statement or receipt showing the amount of the deferment charge, the date and amount of the next scheduled payment and the number of remaining scheduled payments.

(6) If the contract of loan is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan or otherwise before the final instalment date, the portion of the charges applicable to the full instalment periods following the instalment date nearest the date of prepayment shall be refunded. Any default or deferment charges which are due and unpaid may be deducted from such refund. The tender by the borrower or at his request of an amount equal to the unpaid balance less the required refund must be accepted by the licensee in full payment of the contract. If judgment is obtained before the final instalment date the contract balance shall be reduced by the refund which would be required for prepayment in full as of the date judgment is obtained. No refund of less than one dollar ($1.00) need be made; no refund for partial prepayments need be made.

(7) If two (2) or more full instalments are in default for one (1) full month or more at any instalment date and if the contract so provides, the licensee may reduce the contract balance by the refund or credit which would be required for prepayment in full on such instalment date. Thereafter, in lieu of charging, collecting or receiving charges as provided in subsections (1) to (6) inclusive of this section, charges may be charged, collected and received as provided by subsection (8) of this section until the contract is fully paid.

(8) In lieu of computing and collecting charges as provided in subsections (1) to (6) inclusive of this section a licensee may contract for, collect and receive on loans of $1,500 [$1,200] or less charges as permitted in subsection (1) computed on the unpaid principal balance of the loan at time of payment [not exceeding 3 per cent per month on that part of the unpaid principal balance of the loan not in excess of $300 and 2 per cent per month on that part of the unpaid principal balance exceeding $300 but not exceeding $1,000 and 1 per cent per month on that part of the unpaid principal balance exceeding $1,000 but not exceeding $1,200]. Such charges shall not be paid, deducted, received in advance or compounded but shall be computed, collected and received only on unpaid principal balances for the time actually outstanding. The definition of a month and of a day in subsection (2) of this section shall apply for the purposes of such computations.

(9) If part or all of the consideration for a contract of loan is the unpaid principal balance of a prior loan with the same licensee then the principal amount payable under such contract of loan shall not include any unpaid charges on the prior loan except such charges which have accrued within sixty (60) days before the mailing of such new contract of loan and may include the balance remaining after giving the refund required by subsection (6) of this section.

(10) In addition to the charges provided for in this chapter no further charge or amount whatsoever for any examination, service, brokerage, commission, expense, fee, or bonus or other thing shall be directly or indirectly charged, contracted for, or received, except the lawful fees actually and necessarily paid out by the licensee to any public official for filing, recording or releasing in any public office any instrument securing the loan; the identifiable charge of premium for insurance provided for in KRS 288.560; or fees for noting or releasing a lien on or transferring a certificate of title to any motor vehicle offered as security for a loan made under this chapter. If any amount in excess of the amounts authorized by this chapter is charged, contracted for or received, except as the result of an accidental or bona fide error, the contract of loan shall be void and the lender shall have no right to collect or receive any principal, charges or recompense whatsoever.

(11) No licensee shall induce or permit any borrower to split up or divide any loan nor permit any one borrower or any husband or wife individually or together to become indebted to him under more than one contract of loan at the same time if the actual amount of the indebtedness on any one of such contracts is in the amount or of the value of $1,500 [$1,200] or less and there is charged, contracted for, or received thereon, directly or indirectly, by any device, subterfuge, or pretense whatsoever, any interest, or consideration therefor greater than would otherwise be permitted by this chapter.

(12) No licensee shall directly or indirectly charge, contract for or receive any interest or consideration greater than the lender would be permitted by law to charge if he were not a licensee hereunder upon any loan in the amount or of the value of more than $1,500 [$1,200] excluding charges, or in any case in which the licensee permits any individual as borrower, indorser, guarantor, or surety for any borrower, or otherwise, to owe on any loan or loans directly or contingently, or both, to the licensee at any time the sum of more than $1,500 [$1,200] for principal, excluding charges.

HB 422, AN ACT relating to motor vehicle reparations.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Section 1. KRS 304.39-060 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person who registers, operates, maintains or uses a motor vehicle on the public roadways of this Commonwealth shall, as a condition of such registration, operation, maintenance or use of such motor vehicle and use of the public roadways, be deemed to have accepted the provisions of this subtitle, and in particular those provisions which are contained in this section if he has consented to the limitations of his tort rights and liabilities as described in subsection (4).

(2) (a) Tort liability with respect to accidents occuring in this Commonwealth and arising from the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle is "abolished" for damages because of bodily injury, sickness or disease to the extent the basic reparation benefits provided in this subtitle are payable therefor, or that would be payable but for any deductible authorized by this subtitle, under any insurance policy or other method of security complying with the requirements of this subtitle, except to the extent non-economic detriment qualifies under subsection (2)(b) hereof.

(b) In any action of tort brought against the owner, registrant, operator or occupant of a motor vehicle with respect to which security has been provided as required in this subtitle, or against any person or organization legally responsible for his acts or omissions, a plaintiff may recover damages in tort for pain, suffering, mental anguish and inconvenience because of bodily injury, sickness or disease arising out of the ownership, maintenance, operation or use of such motor vehicle only in the event that the benefits which are payable for such injury as "medical expense" or which would be payable but for any exclusion or deductible authorized by this subtitle exceed one-thousand dollars ($1,000), or the injury or disease consists in whole or in part of permanent disfigurement, a fracture to a weight-bearing bone, a compound, comminuted, displaced or compressed fracture, loss of a body member, permanent injury within reasonable medical probability, permanent loss of bodily function or death. Any person who is entitled to receive free medical and surgical benefits shall be deemed in compliance with the requirements of this subsection upon a showing that the medical treatment received has an equivalent value of at least one-thousand dollars ($1,000).

(c) Tort liability is not so limited for injury to a person who is not an owner, operator, maintainer or user of a motor vehicle within subsection (1) of this section.

(3) For purposes of this section and the provisions on reparation obligor's rights of reimbursement, subrogation, and indemnity, a person does not intentionally cause harm merely because his act or failure to act is intentional or done with his realization that it creates a grave risk of harm.

(4) Any person may [refuse to] consent to the limitations of his tort rights and liabilities as contained in this section. Such consent [rejection] must be in writing in a form to be prescribed by the department of insurance and must have been executed and filed with the department at a time prior to any motor vehicle accident for which such consent [rejection] is to apply. Such consent [rejection] form together with a reasonable explanation thereof shall be furnished by the reparation obligor with each policy to each prospective insurance applicant. Such consent [rejection] form shall affirmatively state in bold print that acceptance of this form of insurance denies the applicant the right to sue a negligent motorist unless certain requirements contained in the policy of insurance are met. Consent [Rejection] by a person who is under legal disability shall be made on behalf of such person by his legal guardian or his natural parent. [The failure of such guardian or a natural parent of a person under legal disability to file a rejection, within six (6) months from the date that this subtitle would otherwise become applicable to such person, shall be deemed to be an affirmative acceptance of all provisions of this subtitle.] Provided, however, any person who, at the time of an accident, who does not have basic reparation insurance but has not formally consented to [rejected] such limitations of his tort rights and liabilities and has at such time in effect security equivalent to that required by KRS 304.39-110 shall be deemed to have not consented to [fully rejected] such limitations within meaning of this section for that accident only.

(5) Any consent [rejection] must be filed with the department of insurance and shall be for a period of five (5) years from the date of its execution unless revoked in writing. A copy of such consent [rejection or revocation] must be filed with each insurance company providing an automobile policy under which the individual is a named insured as defined in the policy.

(6) Every insurance company when issuing an automobile policy to a resident of this Commonwealth must inform the buyer in writing in a form to be prescribed by the insurance commissioner of his right to consent to [reject] the limitations of his tort rights and liabilities under this subtitle in the manner provided in subsections (4) and (7) of this section.

(7) Any failure to consent [Any rejection] shall result in the full retention by the individual of his tort rights and his tort liabilities. [Any person injured by a motor vehicle operator who has such rejection on file may claim his full damages, including nonpecuniary damages, or, if such injured person has not rejected his own tort limitations, he may also claim basic reparation benefits from the appropriate security on the vehicle as established under KRS 304.39-050. If such provider of security is other than the one providing security for the operator who has rejected the limitations, such provider shall be subrogated to the rights of the injured person to the extent of reparation benefits paid against the owner and operator of the vehicle.]

(8) Only persons who have consented to [No person who has rejected] the tort limitations under this section, except as provided in subsection (9) of this section or KRS 304.39-140(5), may collect basic reparation benefits.

(9) Any owner or operator of a motorcycle, as defined in Kentucky Revised Statutes, may file a consent [rejection] as described in subsections (4) and (5), which will apply solely to the ownership and operation of a motorcycle but will not apply to injury resulting from the ownership, operation or use of any other type of motor vehicle.

Section 2. KRS 304.39-140 is amended to read as follows:

(1) On and after June 21, 1974, each reparation obligor of the owner of a vehicle required to be registered in this Commonwealth shall, upon the request of a reparation insured, be required to provide added reparation benefits for economic loss in units of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per person subject to the lesser of:

(a) Forty-thousand dollars ($40,000) in added reparation benefits; or

(b) The limit of security provided for liability to any one (1) person in excess of the requirements of KRS 304.39-110(1)(a).

(2) Each basic reparation obligor shall be permitted to incorporate in added reparation benefits coverage such terms, conditions and exclusions as may be consistent with premiums charged. The amounts payable under added reparation benefits may be duplicative of benefits received from collateral source benefits, or may provide for reasonable waiting periods, deductibles or coinsurance provision. The added reparation obligor shall be subrogated, subject to KRS 304.39-070 and 304.39-300, to the injured person's right of recovery against any responsible third party.

(3) If the injured person, or injured persons, is entitled to damages under KRS 304.39-060 from the liability insurer of a second person, a self-insurer or an obligated government, collection of such damages shall have priority over the rights of the subrogee for its reimbursement of added reparation benefits paid to or in behalf of such injured person or persons.

(4) Basic reparation insurers shall make available upon request deductibles in the amounts of two hundred fifty dollars ($250), five hundred dollars ($500) and one thousand dollars ($1,000) from all basic reparation benefits otherwise payable, except that if two (2) or more basic reparation insureds to whom the deductible is applicable under the contract of insurance are injured in the same accident, the aggregate amount of the deductible applicable to all of them shall not exceed the specified deductible, which amount where necessary shall be allocated equally among them. Any person who is a basic reparation insured under an insurance policy issued with no deductible or with a deductible of a lesser amount than that under which he receives basic reparation benefits payments, shall be entitled to be paid under such policy the difference between the benefits he is actually paid and the benefits which would have been paid had his benefits been payable under such policy.

(5) Reparation obligors shall make available upon request to those persons who have failed to consent to limitations of their tort liability [rejected their tort limitations], in accordance with KRS 304.39-060(4), basic reparation benefits coverage and added reparation benefits.

(1) All reparation obligors shall be obligated to provide to a reparation insured or an insured person who has not consented to [rejected] his tort limitations as provided in KRS 304.39-060 a certificate or other evidence of insurance whenever coverage required by KRS 304.39-110 is issued or renewed upon policy anniversary date;

(2) An owner or registrant of a motor vehicle with respect to which security is required under KRS 304.39-110, who fails to have such security when the motor vehicle is involved in an accident shall have all the rights and obligations of a reparation obligor, and any other reparation obligor which has paid or may become obligated to pay basic or added reparation benefits to an injured person under a basic or added reparation contract or under the terms of the assigned claims plan shall be subrogated to the rights of the injured person against such owner or registrant.

(1) On and after June 21, 1974, each reparation obligor of the owner of a vehicle required to be registered in this Commonwealth shall, upon the request of a reparation insured, be required to provide added reparation benefits for economic loss in units of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per person subject to the lesser of:

(a) Forty-thousand dollars ($40,000) in added reparation benefits; or

(b) The limit of security provided for liability to any one (1) person in excess of the requirements of KRS 304.39-110(1)(a).

The added reparation obligor shall be subrogated, subject to KRS 304.39-070 and 304.39-300, to the injured person's right of recovery against any responsible third party.

(5) Reparation obligors shall make available upon request to those persons who have rejected their tort limitations, in accordance with KRS 304.39-060(4), basic reparation benefits coverage and added reparation benefits.

No person who has been convicted of a felony is eligible for appointment. After appointment no member shall interfere in any election. [If it is possible to secure such a person, the appointee shall have been a resident of the city for at least six (6) months in addition to the other required qualifications; but should the city legislative body determine a person meeting this added qualification cannot be secured, a residence of six (6) months in the county is sufficient.]

Section 2. KRS 95.762 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The commission shall require all applicants for appointments as members of the police or fire departments to be examined as to their qualifications to fill the office of policeman or fireman, and as to their knowledge of the English language, and as to the law and rules governing the duties of policemen and firemen. (5) The civil service commission may provide that appointments for initial permanent employment may be probationary appointments for a period of not more than six (6) months, after which probationary period regular appointments shall be given to all probationary employes who are deemed to be satisfactory by the respective appointing authority.

The complaint shall state: That a hearing will be held before a hearing officer appointed by the city or county legislative body [the public officer (or his designated agent)] at a place therein fixed not less than ten (10) days nor more than thirty (30) days after the serving of the complaint; that the owner and parties in interest may file an answer to the complaint and appear in person, or otherwise, and give testimony at the place and time fixed in the complaint; and that the rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling in hearings before the hearing [public] officer. If the owners of or parties in interest in such structure are not residents of Kentucky, or if service has been by publication, the hearing shall be held not less than thirty (30) days nor more than forty-five (45) days after the serving of the complaint or final date of such publication.

Should the owner choose to repair, alter or improve the structure, he shall notify the public officer of his decision within 30 days of the issuance of the order;

(3) In any case where the structure under consideration presents an imminent and immediate threat to the safety of persons or other property, the hearing officer shall, regardless of any other provisions of an order he may issue regarding the structure, issue and cause to be served upon the owner thereof an order directing the owner to immediately remove or correct within the time specified in the order those conditions which cause the threat to the safety of persons or other property;

(4) In any case where there is no known address for an owner and parties in interest, and said owner and parties in interest have not answered the complaint after service by publication, the hearing officer may order the public officer to do any of those actions described in subsections (1), (2) and (3) of this section as may be justified by the condition of the structure.

[(1) To the intent and within the time specified in the order, to repair, alter or improve the said structure to render it fit for human habitation, occupancy or use, or, at the option of the owner, to vacate and close the structure if the repair, alteration, or improvement of the structure can be made at a cost that is not more than 50 per cent of the value of the structure; or

(2) Within the time specified in the order, to remove or demolish the said structure if the repair, alteration, or improvement of the structure cannot be made at a cost that is not more than 50 per cent of the value of the structure.]

Section 4. KRS 80.670 is amended to read as follows:

HB 475, AN ACT relating to municipal bonds.

WHEREAS, amendments to federal tax and securities statutes in recent years have created a federal classification of certain municipal bonds under the designation "industrial development bonds," which bonds may, in certain instances, be subject to federal income taxation, and which bonds are required, if publicly sold, to be offered through an offering circular containing information on any private corporation connected with the project, which information may not be available to the municipality; and

WHEREAS, in the operation of a municipal system for the distribution of natural gas under the provisions of KRS 96.170, it has been determined by the Court of Appeals in the recent case of Haney v. City of Somerset, handed down on November 26, 1975, that a city is required under existing statutes to offer its revenue bonds for a project, deemed to be an "industrial development bond project" under federal law, at a public sale; and

WHEREAS, such public sale would require, under the aforesaid federal statutory amendments, that an offering circular include information which may be unobtainable as to any private company purchasing and transporting gas in connection with the city's project; and

WHEREAS, the Court of Appeals, in said opinion, has indicated that the city to which its opinion was applicable, and all other cities operating under KRS 96.170 in a like situation, could be authorized to meet the federal requirements for industrial development bonds by appropriate legislative enactment, and it is the intent of the General Assembly, by this Act, to resolve this apparent conflict between federal and state requirements in a manner which will make it possible for cities to finance projects in such situations, with appropriate safeguards,

NOW, THEREFORE,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

SECTION 1. A NEW SECTION OF KRS CHAPTER 96 IS CREATED TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

The legislative body of any city operating a municipal system for the acquisition and distribution of natural gas under the authority of KRS 96.170 may, by ordinance, authorize the issuance of revenue bonds to pay all or any part of the costs of any project for the improvement or extension of said system, or for obtaining new sources of supply. Said revenue bonds may be sold and issued in the manner provided for the sale and issuance of revenue bonds under the provisions of KRS 58.010 to 58.140, inclusive, or, upon a determination of said legislative body, acting upon the advice of the city attorney or city solicitor, that the proposed bonds will be industrial development bonds within the meaning of federal statutes, said revenue bonds, whether or not exempt from federal income taxation, may be sold in any manner provided for the sale of industrial building revenue bonds under the terms of KRS 103.200 to 103.285, inclusive; provided, however, that the contract with the private corporation which is deemed to give rise to the federal classification of industrial development bonds need not take the form of a lease agreement, and no request in writing from any contracting private corporation shall be required for any negotiated sale, and provided, further, that in the event of a negotiated sale, a report of negotiations shall be made to a consultant who shall be employed by the city to make a recommendation to the legislative body on the adequacy of such negotiations and of the terms of sale in the light of market conditions. The provisions of KRS 424.360 shall not apply to any negotiated sale under this Section.

Section 2. Whereas the scarcity of natural gas in many areas of the Commonwealth has created shortages which will result in a lack of heat and power if immediate development of new sources of gas is not undertaken, and such development cannot be financed in all instances under present statutes, an emergency is declared to exist, and this Act shall take effect upon its passage and approval by the Governor, or upon the date it shall constitutionally become effective without the Governor's signature.

If the school levy is to be made upon the city assessment as authorized in subsection (1), the clerk of such city shall furnish to the school district or districts which the city embraces, the assessed valuation of property subject to local taxation in the school district, as determined by its tax assessor. If the school levy is to be made upon the county assessment the county clerk shall furnish to the proper school district or districts the assessed valuation of property subject to local taxation in such district or districts, as certified by the Kentucky tax board of tax appeals.

Section 3. KRS 160.470 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Each district board of education shall prepare a general school budget on forms prescribed and furnished by the state board of education, showing the amount of money needed for current expenses, debt service, capital outlay, and other necessary expenses of the schools during the succeeding fiscal year, the estimated total amount that will be received from the common school fund and other sources, the assessed valuation of property subject to local taxation in the school district furnished as provided in subsection (3) of KRS 160.460, an estimate made by the department of revenue of public service company assessments and assessments of other property in the school district not furnished under the provisions of subsection (3) of KRS 160.460, and the amount that will be needed to be raised by local taxation, including the rate of levy necessary to raise such an amount.

(2) Notwithstanding any statutory provisions to the contrary, no district board of education shall submit a budget to the state board of education which would require more revenue from local ad valorem taxes than would be produced by application of the preceding year's rate to the preceding year's assessment, exclusive of voted levies and net assessment growth as defined in KRS 132.425, except as provided in subsection (3) of KRS 157.380 and as provided in subsection (4) of this section. In the event of a merger of school districts, the limitations contained in this section shall be based upon the combined revenue of the merging districts, as computed under the provisions of this section.

(3) The superintendent of public instruction shall certify to each district board of education, by June 1 of each year, the maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue. This amount shall be computed as follows:

(a) The superintendent of public instruction shall determine the total amount of ad valorem tax revenue which would be produced by application of the preceding year's rate to the preceding year's assessment.

(b) The superintendent of public instruction shall determine the total amount of ad valorem tax revenue which would be produced by application of the preceding year's effective tax rate to the net assessment growth in each school district. The net assessment growth as determined in accordance with KRS 132.425 shall be certified to the superintendent of public instruction by the department of revenue by May 20 of each year.

(c) The superintendent of public instruction shall compile a list of those school districts in which the general fund ad valorem tax for the 1965-1966 school year was levied at a rate less than the $1.50 maximum then authorized by KRS 160.475. The superintendent of public instruction shall then calculate for each such district the revenue that would have been produced for the 1965-1966 school year if such tax had been levied at the $1.50 rate. He shall then re-calculate the maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue that would have been authorized for each such district for the 1966-1967, 1967-1968, 1968-1969 and 1969-1970 school years as though the 1965-1966 tax had been levied at the $1.50 rate, including in such re-calculation the revenue that would have been derived from taxation of net assessment growth under paragraph (b) of this subsection and the revenue that would have been derived from any percentage increases actually adopted by the district under subsection (4) of this section. The maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue so re-calculated for the 1969-1970 school year shall, for such districts, be deemed the total amount of ad valorem tax revenue to be determined by the superintendent for the 1970-1971 school year under paragraph (a) of this subsection.

(d) The sum of the amounts computed under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection shall be the maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue for purposes of subsection (2) of this section, except as otherwise therein prescribed.

(e) Any school district which is not contemplating capital construction and which is eligible for the increase allowed in paragraph (c) of this subsection may elect to take advantage of the increase in equal stages over a period of three years.

(4) Notwithstanding the limitations contained in subsection (2) of this section, any district board of education which in preparing its proposed budget deems that it will require an amount of revenue greater than that permitted in subsection (2) of this section may submit to the state board of education [levying authority] for the school years 1966-1967 and 1967-1968 a budget which could require an increase in such revenue of not more than 10 per cent after compliance with the following:

(a) The district board of education shall give notice of any proposed increase in revenue. Notwithstanding any statutory provisions to the contrary, notice shall be given by causing to be published, at least one (1) time in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or by posting at the courthouse door if there be no such newspaper, the fact that said increase of not exceeding 10 per cent is being proposed. Said advertisement shall state that the district board of education will meet at a place and on a day fixed in the advertisement, not earlier than one (1) week and not later than two (2) weeks from the date of the advertisement, for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed increase and explaining the reasons for such proposal.

(b) The district board of education shall conduct a public hearing at the place and on the date advertised for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed increase and explaining the reasons for such proposal.

(5) Within three (3) days after the district board of education has received its assessment data, three [Three] (3) copies of the budget shall be forwarded to [filed with] the state board of education for its approval or disapproval. [clerk of the tax-levying authority of the district within three (3) days after the district board of education has received its assessment data. The clerk shall present the budget to the proper tax-levying authority when the authority convenes to fix its school levy.] The failure of the district board of education to furnish the budget within the time prescribed shall not invalidate any levy made thereafter.

(6) [Within three (3) days after the tax-levying authority has fixed the tax rate, the district board of education shall forward two (2) copies of the budget to the state board of education for its approval or disapproval.] The budget shall be disapproved by the state board of education if it is financially unsound or fails to provide for: (a) Payment of maturing principal of and interest on any outstanding voted school improvement bonds of the school district authorized and issued pursuant to KRS 162.080 and 162.090, with the written approval of the state board of education, or (b) Payment of rentals in connection with any outstanding school building revenue bonds issued for the benefit of the independent school district or county school district, as the case may be, by the appropriate city or county as authorized and provided under the provisions of KRS 162.120 to 162.300, with the written approval of the state board of education, or fails to comply with the law; and the state board of education shall state its reason, or reasons, for such disapproval. In such event the district board of education shall amend its budget, within the limitations of this section, to obviate the reasons for disapproval.

(7) If the budget as amended specifies a tax levy different from that levied under the disapproved budget, the tax-levying authority shall amend its levy in accordance therewith, so that the levy as amended shall comply with the provisions of subsection (1) of KRS 160.460. No general school budget shall become effective until approved by the state board of education.

(8) Each district board of education shall, if required by the state board of education, prepare and submit to it not later than September 15, a close estimate or working budget which shall conform to the rules and regulations prescribed by the state board of education, and which shall be consistent in its major divisions with the general school budget previously prepared.

Section 4. KRS 160.476 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The board of education of any district may, in addition to other taxes [requested] for school purposes, [request the] levy [of] not less than four cents (4¢) nor more than twenty cents (20¢) on each one hundred dollars ($100) valuation of property subject to local taxation, to provide a special fund for the purchase of sites for school buildings, for the erection and complete equipping of school buildings, and for the major alteration, enlargement and complete equipping of existing buildings, provided, however, that such tax shall come within the maximum school tax levy provided by KRS 160.475. In addition to or in lieu of this special tax, any board of education may pay into this special fund at the close of any fiscal year the proceeds from the sale of land or property no longer needed for school purposes and all or any balances remaining in the general fund over and above the amount necessary for discharging obligations for the fiscal year in full.

(2) The special fund provided for herein shall be kept in a separate account designated as "school building fund." The fund shall be kept in a depository selected by the board of education, or invested in bonds of the United States, of this state, or county or municipality in this state, provided, however, that such investments shall be approved by the state board of education.

(3) All expenditures from such fund shall be made solely for the purposes enumerated herein and shall be made in accordance with the school laws of the state at such times as the board of education determines. The board of education shall cause to be made annually an audit of the building fund by a certified public accountant or by an accountant approved by the state department of education.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other subsection of this section to the contrary, for the 1966 tax year and for all subsequent years no district board of education shall [request the] levy a tax at [of] a rate under the provisions of this section which exceeds the compensating tax rate as defined in KRS 132.010. The superintendent of public instruction shall certify the compensating tax rate to the district board of education.

Section 5. KRS 160.477 is amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) Upon request of the board of education of any school district, the county board of elections [tax-levying authority of the district] shall [adopt an ordinance or resolution] submit[ting] to the qualified voters of the district, the question as to whether a special school building tax rate of not less than five cents (5¢) nor more than fifty cents (50¢) as requested by the board shall be levied on each $100 of property subject to local taxation. This tax levy shall be in addition to the maximum school tax levy provided by subsection (2) of KRS 160.470. The income from the tax shall be used for the purchase or lease of school sites and buildings, for the erection and complete equipping of new school buildings, for the major alteration, enlargement and complete equipping of existing buildings, for the purpose of retiring, directly or through rental payments, school revenue bonds issued for such school building improvements, and for the purpose of financing any program for the acquisition, improvement, or building of schools. The question shall be so framed that the voter may by his vote answer "for" or "against."

(b) The election shall be held [at a time fixed in the ordinance or resolution,] not less than fifteen (15) or more than thirty (30) days from the time the request of the board is filed with the county board of elections, [tax-levying authority,] and reasonable notice of the election shall be given. The election shall be conducted and carried out in the school district in all respects as required by the general election laws, and shall be held by the same officers as required by the general election laws. The expense of the election shall be borne by the school district. [fiscal court except where the election is held in a district embracing a city of the first five (5) classes, in which case the cost of the election shall be borne by the governing body of the city.]

(c) If a majority of those voting on the question favor the special school building tax levy, the tax-levying authority shall when the next tax rate for the district is fixed levy the special rate specified [by the board of education of the school district] for the school building fund in addition to the levy provided by subsection (2) of KRS 160.470.

(2) There may be included, in the maximum levy provided for in subsection (2) of KRS 160.470, a special levy for building fund purposes as authorized by KRS 160.476, which shall be in addition to the levy authorized by vote as provided in subsection (1) of this section.

(3) In addition to or in lieu of this special tax, any board of education may pay into this special fund at the close of any fiscal year the proceeds from the sale of land or property no longer needed for school purposes and allow any balances to remain in the general fund over and above the amount necessary for discharging obligations for the fiscal year in full.

(4) The special fund provided for in subsection (1) of this section shall be kept in a separate account designated as "special voted school building fund." The fund shall be kept in the depository selected by the district board of education, or invested in bonds of the United States, of this state, or of any county or municipality in this state, provided, however, that such investment shall be approved by the state board of education.

(5) All expenditures from such fund shall be made solely for the purposes enumerated in this section and shall be made in accordance with the school laws of the state at such times as the district board of education determines. The district board of education shall cause to be made annually an audit of the building fund by a certified public accountant or by an accountant approved by the state department of education.

(6) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other subsection of this section to the contrary, for the 1966 tax year and for all subsequent years no district board of education shall request the levy a tax at [of] a rate under the provisions of this section which exceeds the compensating tax rate as defined in KRS 132.010, except as provided in subsection (7) of this section, and except that a rate which has been approved by the voters under this section but which was not levied by the district board of education in 1965 may be levied after it has been reduced to the compensating tax rate as defined in KRS 132.010, and except that in any school district where the rate levied in 1965 was less than the maximum rate which had been approved by the voters, the compensating tax rate shall be computed and may be levied as though the maximum approved rate had been levied in 1965 and the amount of revenue which would have been produced from such maximum levy had been derived therefrom.

(7) Notwithstanding the limitations contained in subsection (6) of this section no tax rate shall be set lower than that necessary to provide such funds as are required to meet principal and interest payments on outstanding bonded indebtedness and payments of rentals in connection with any outstanding school revenue bonds issued under the provisions of KRS chapter 162.

Section 6. KRS 160.500 is amended to read as follows:

(1) School taxes shall be collected by the sheriff for county school districts and by the regular tax collector [s] of the city for the independent school districts [tax-levying authorities that make the school levies for the various school districts,] at the same time and in the same manner as other local taxes are collected, except as provided in this section and in KRS 160.510. The bond of the regular tax collector shall be made to cover his duties as the tax collector of the school district or districts for which he collects taxes. The tax collector shall be entitled to a fee at the rate of four per cent (4%) for the collection of school taxes, which fee may be charged only for collecting or receiving school taxes or school funds received from the local school levy. No allowance shall be made for the collection of school taxes to any collecting officer who continues to collect taxes after his term that would not be allowed him had he collected the taxes during his term.

(2) An independent school district may select a special tax collector to collect its school taxes, and in the event such independent school district does so select a special tax collector, a majority of the members of the independent school district board of education shall fix a fee for such special tax collector at a rate of not less than one per cent (1%) nor more than four per cent (4%) of the school taxes or school funds collected by such special tax collector from the local school levy in such independent school district. The special tax collector shall be required to execute bond in the same manner as provided in KRS 160.560 for the execution of a treasurer's bond, and the penal sum of the bond shall not be less than the aggregate of the tax bills that come into the hands of the special tax collector.

(3) The clerk shall include all school taxes on the regular tax bills furnished the tax collector except in case an independent district has selected a special tax collector, in which case the school taxes shall be listed by the clerk on a separate bill. The clerk shall be allowed a fee not to exceed three cents (3¢) for each separate school tax bill, to be paid by the independent district board of education.

Section 7. KRS 160.530 is amended to read as follows:

The money collected by taxation under the provisions of KRS 160.460 to 160.520 and other school money shall be expended by the board of education in accordance with the recommendations contained in the budget submitted to the state board of education [tax-levying authority].

[The fiscal court shall levy, within fifteen (15) days of such request, the school tax at the rate requested and the levy shall take effect not less than thirty (30) days nor more than ninety (90) days after the passage of the order or resolution.] The imposition of any tax levied under the provisions of KRS 160.593 to 160.597, 160.601 to 160.633, and 160.635 to 160.648 shall be limited to the territory of the school district. [or districts requesting the levy. In those counties where one (1) of the taxes referred to by this section is in effect county-wide on June 21, 1974, the taxes shall continue to be levied on a county-wide basis. [(2) Two or more boards of education within a county may make a joint request for the tax to be levied in their respective districts.]

[The imposition of school taxes authorized by KRS 160.605 to 160.611, 160.613 to 160.617, 160.621 to 160.633 shall be by order or resolution of the fiscal court. No more than one such order or resolution shall be passed in any one calendar year, and no] No more than one school tax authorized by KRS 160.605 to 160.611, 160.613 to 160.617, 160.621 to 160.633 shall be in effect in any one district at any one time.

(1) The order or resolution [of the fiscal court] levying any of the school taxes designated heretofore in this section shall go into effect not less than thirty (30) days nor more than ninety (90) days after its passage. [by the fiscal court.] If during the thirty (30) days immediately following the passage of the order or resolution a petition signed by a number of registered and qualified voters equal to fifteen per cent (15%) of the votes cast in the school district levying [requesting] the tax [levy] for the office receiving the greatest total vote at the last preceding presidential election is presented to the school board [fiscal court] protesting against passage of the order or resolution, the order or resolution shall be suspended from going into effect for that district until after the election provided for in subsection (2) of this section. In the event that more than one (1) school district within a county has levied [requested] the tax [levy], a separate petition meeting the requirements herein must be filed for each school district. The fifteen per cent (15%) requirement must be met in each respective participating school district. (2) Thereupon, the fiscal court shall submit to the voters of the school district in which a valid recall petition has been filed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section at the next regular November election the question as to whether the tax shall be levied. The question shall be so framed that the voter may by his vote answer, "for" or "against." If a majority of the votes cast in a district upon the question oppose its passage, the order or resolution shall not go into effect in that district. In the event that the election is to be held in more than one (1) school district within a county the votes shall be counted separately.

(3) In the event that the order or resolution includes more than one (1) school district within a county and a valid recall petition has not been filed as required by this section against one (1) or more of these school districts, the levy may be made in that school district or districts without regard to any recall petition pending or voted thereon in another school district within the county.

The fiscal court may require the board of education to make an annual certification as to the need and necessity for the continuance of the current tax.] In the event that more than one board of education within a county has one of these taxes in effect, each board of education desiring a tax rate reduction shall provide an individual certification of the tax rate reduction desired for that district.

As used in this Act, unless the context requires otherwise:

"Tax levying authority" shall mean boards of education of county school districts and independent school districts.

Section 2. KRS 160.460 is amended to read as follows:

(1) All school taxes shall be levied by the board of education of each school district. [fiscal court of each county except in independent school districts embraced by cities of the first four (4) classes. In such districts the tax shall be levied by the governing body of the city.] The tax-levying authority shall levy an [such] ad valorem tax [and such poll tax as specified by the district board of education] within the limits prescribed in KRS 160.470 [160.475], which will obtain for the school district the amount of money needed as shown in the [such] district's general school budget submitted under the provisions of KRS 160.470.

(2) The tax-levying authority shall make an annual school levy not later than July 1. The school levy shall not be made until the general school budget has been received and approved by the state board of education [tax-levying authority]. The failure of the authority to make the levy by the date prescribed shall not invalidate any levy made thereafter.

(3) All school taxes shall be levied on all property subject to local taxation in the jurisdiction of the tax-levying authority. If the school levy is to be made upon the city assessment, which is hereby authorized for independent school districts embraced by cities of the first four classes [as authorized in subsection (1)], the clerk of such city shall furnish to the school district or districts which the city embraces, the assessed valuation of property subject to local taxation in the school district, as determined by its tax assessor. If the school levy is to be made upon the county assessment the county clerk shall furnish to the proper school district or districts the assessed valuation of property subject to local taxation in such district or districts, as certified by the Kentucky tax board of tax appeals.

Section 3. KRS 160.470 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Each district board of education shall prepare a general school budget on forms prescribed and furnished by the state board of education, showing the amount of money needed for current expenses, debt service, capital outlay, and other necessary expenses of the schools during the succeeding fiscal year, the estimated total amount that will be received from the common school fund and other sources, the assessed valuation of property subject to local taxation in the school district furnished as provided in subsection (3) of KRS 160.460, an estimate made by the department of revenue of public service company assessments and assessments of other property in the school district not furnished under the provisions of subsection (3) of KRS 160.460, and the amount that will be needed to be raised by local taxation, including the rate of levy necessary to raise such an amount.

(2) Notwithstanding any statutory provisions to the contrary, no district board of education shall submit a budget to the state board of education which would require more revenue from local ad valorem taxes than would be produced by application of the maximum rate that could have been levied in the preceding year ['s rate] to the preceding year's assessment, exclusive of voted levies and net assessment growth as defined in KRS 132.425, except as provided in subsection (3) of KRS 157.380 and 157A.100. [and as provided in subsection (4) of this section.] In the event of a merger of school districts, the limitations contained in this section shall be based upon the combined revenue of the merging districts, as computed under the provisions of this section.

(3) The superintendent of public instruction shall certify to each district board of education, by June 1 of each year, the maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue. This amount shall be computed as follows:

(a) The superintendent of public instruction shall determine the total amount of ad valorem tax revenue which would be produced by application of the maximum rate that could have been levied in the preceding year ['s rate] to the preceding year's assessment.

(b) The superintendent of public instruction shall determine the total amount of ad valorem tax revenue which would be produced by application of the maximum rate that could have been levied in the preceding year ['s effective tax rate] to the net assessment growth in each school district. The net assessment growth as determined in accordance with KRS 132.425 shall be certified to the superintendent of public instruction by the department of revenue by May 20 of each year.

[(c) The superintendent of public instruction shall compile a list of those school districts in which the general fund ad valorem tax for the 1965-1966 school year was levied at a rate less than the $1.50 maximum then authorized by KRS 160.475. The superintendent of public instruction shall then calculate for each such district the revenue that would have been produced for the 1965-1966 school year if such tax had been levied at the $1.50 rate. He shall then re-calculate the maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue that would have been authorized for each such district for the 1966-1967, 1967-1968, 1968-1969 and 1969-1970 school years as though the 1965-1966 tax had been levied at the $1.50 rate, including in such re-calculation the revenue that would have been derived from taxation of net assessment growth under paragraph (b) of this subsection and the revenue that would have been derived from any percentage increases actually adopted by the district under subsection (4) of this section. The maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue so re-calculated for the 1969-1970 school year shall, for such districts, be deemed the total amount of ad valorem tax revenue to be determined by the superintendent for the 1970-1971 school year under paragraph (a) of this subsection.]

(c) [(d)] The sum of the amounts computed under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection shall be the maximum permissible local ad valorem tax revenue for purposes of subsection (2) of this section, except as otherwise therein prescribed.

[(e) Any school district which is not contemplating capital construction and which is eligible for the increase allowed in paragraph (c) of this subsection may elect to take advantage of the increase in equal stages over a period of three years.]

[(4) Notwithstanding the limitations contained in subsection (2) of this section, any district board of education which in preparing its proposed budget deems that it will require an amount of revenue greater than that permitted in subsection (2) of this section may submit to the state board of education [levying authority] for the school years 1966-1967 and 1967-1968 a budget which could require an increase in such revenue of not more than 10 per cent after compliance with the following:

(a) The district board of education shall give notice of any proposed increase in revenue. Notwithstanding any statutory provisions to the contrary, notice shall be given by causing to be published, at least one (1) time in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or by posting at the courthouse door if there be no such newspaper, the fact that said increase of not exceeding 10 per cent is being proposed. Said advertisement shall state that the district board of education will meet at a place and on a day fixed in the advertisement, not earlier than one (1) week and not later than two (2) weeks from the date of the advertisement, for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed increase and explaining the reasons for such proposal.

(b) The district board of education shall conduct a public hearing at the place and on the date advertised for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed increase and explaining the reasons for such proposal.]

(4) [(5)] Within three (3) days after the district board of education has received its assessment data, three [Three] (3) copies of the budget shall be forwarded to [filed with] the state board of education for its approval or disapproval. [clerk of the tax-levying authority of the district within three (3) days after the district board of education has received its assessment data. The clerk shall present the budget to the proper tax-levying authority when the authority convenes to fix its school levy.] The failure of the district board of education to furnish the budget within the time prescribed shall not invalidate any levy made thereafter.

(5) [(6)] [Within three (3) days after the tax-levying authority has fixed the tax rate, the district board of education shall forward two (2) copies of the budget to the state board of education for its approval or disapproval.] The budget shall be disapproved by the state board of education if it is financially unsound or fails to provide for: (a) Payment of maturing principal of and interest on any outstanding voted school improvement bonds of the school district authorized and issued pursuant to KRS 162.080 and 162.090, with the written approval of the state board of education, or (b) Payment of rentals in connection with any outstanding school building revenue bonds issued for the benefit of the independent school district or county school district, as the case may be, by the appropriate city or county as authorized and provided under the provisions of KRS 162.120 to 162.300 and KRS 58.010 to 58.140, with the written approval of the state board of education, or fails to comply with the law; and the state board of education shall state its reason, or reasons, for such disapproval. In such event the district board of education shall amend its budget, within the limitations of this section, to obviate the reasons for disapproval and resubmit the budget to the state board of education for its final approval.

(6) [(7)] If the budget as amended specifies a tax levy different from that levied under the disapproved budget, the tax-levying authority shall amend its levy in accordance therewith, so that the levy as amended shall comply with the provisions of subsection (1) of KRS 160.460. No general school budget shall become effective and no ad valorem levy shall be made until approved by the state board of education.

(7) [(8)] Each district board of education shall, if required by the state board of education, prepare and submit to it not later than September 15, a close estimate or working budget which shall conform to the rules and regulations prescribed by the state board of education, and which shall be consistent in its major divisions with the general school budget previously prepared.

Section 4. KRS 160.476 is amended to read as follows:

(1) The board of education of any district may, in addition to other taxes [requested] for school purposes, [request the] levy [of] not less than four cents (4c) nor more than twenty cents (20¢) on each one hundred dollars ($100) valuation of property subject to local taxation, to provide a special fund for the purchase of sites for school buildings and physical education and athletic facilities, for the erection and complete equipping of school buildings and physical education and athletic facilities, and for the major alteration, enlargement and complete equipping of existing buildings and physical education and athletic facilities, provided, however, that such tax shall come within the maximum school tax levy provided by KRS 160.470 [160.475]. In addition to or in lieu of this special tax, any board of education may pay into this special fund at the close of any fiscal year the proceeds from the sale of land or property no longer needed for school purposes and all or any balances remaining in the general fund over and above the amount necessary for discharging obligations for the fiscal year in full.

(2) The special fund provided for herein shall be kept in a separate account designated as "school building fund." The fund shall be kept in a depository selected by the board of education, or invested in bonds of the United States, of this state, or county or municipality in this state, provided, however, that such investments shall be approved by the state board of education.

(3) All expenditures from such fund shall be made solely for the purposes enumerated herein and shall be made in accordance with the school laws of the state at such times as the board of education determines. The board of education shall cause to be made annually an audit of the building fund by a certified public accountant or by an accountant approved by the state department of education.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other subsection of this section to the contrary, for the 1966 tax year and for all subsequent years no district board of education shall [request the] levy a tax at [of] a rate under the provisions of this section which exceeds the compensating tax rate as defined in KRS 132.010. The superintendent of public instruction shall certify the compensating tax rate to the district board of education.

Section 5. KRS 160.477 is amended to read as follows:

(1) (a) Upon request of the board of education of any school district, the county board of elections [tax-levying authority of the district] shall [adopt an ordinance or resolution] submit[ting] to the qualified voters of the district, the question as to whether a special school building tax rate of not less than five cents (5c) nor more than fifty cents (50¢) as requested by the board shall be levied on each $100 of property subject to local taxation. This tax levy shall be in addition to the maximum school tax levy provided by subsection (2) of KRS 160.470. The income from the tax shall be used for the purchase or lease of school sites and buildings and physical education and athletic facilities, for the erection and complete equipping of new school buildings and physical education and athletic facilities, for the major alteration, enlargement and complete equipping of existing buildings and physical education and athletic facilities, for the purpose of retiring, directly or through rental payments, school revenue bonds issued for such school [building] improvements, and for the purpose of financing any program for the acquisition, improvement, or building of school improvements [schools]. The question shall be so framed that the voter may by his vote answer "for" or "against."

(b) The election shall be held [at a time fixed in the ordinance or resolution,] not less than fifteen (15) or more than thirty (30) days from the time the request of the board is filed with the county board of elections, [tax-levying authority,] and reasonable notice of the election shall be given. The election shall be conducted and carried out in the school district in all respects as required by the general election laws, and shall be held by the same officers as required by the general election laws. The expense of the election shall be borne by the school district. [fiscal court except where the election is held in a district embracing a city of the first five (5) classes, in which case the cost of the election shall be borne by the governing body of the city.]

(c) If a majority of those voting on the question favor the special school building tax levy, the tax-levying authority shall when the next tax rate for the district is fixed levy the special rate specified [by the board of education of the school district] for the school building fund in addition to the levy provided by subsection (2) of KRS 160.470.

(2) There may be included, in the maximum levy provided for in subsection (2) of KRS 160.470, a special levy for building fund purposes as authorized by KRS 160.476, which shall be in addition to the levy authorized by vote as provided in subsection (1) of this section.

(3) In addition to or in lieu of this special tax, any board of education may pay into this special fund at the close of any fiscal year the proceeds from the sale of land or property no longer needed for school purposes and allow any balances to remain in the general fund over and above the amount necessary for discharging obligations for the fiscal year in full.

(4) The special fund provided for in subsection (1) of this section shall be kept in a separate account designated as "special voted school building fund." The fund shall be kept in the depository selected by the district board of education, or invested in bonds of the United States, of this state, or of any county or municipality in this state, provided, however, that such investment shall be approved by the state board of education.

(5) All expenditures from such fund shall be made solely for the purposes enumerated in this section and shall be made in accordance with the school laws of the state at such times as the district board of education determines. The district board of education shall cause to be made annually an audit of the building fund by a certified public accountant or by an accountant approved by the state department of education.

(6) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other subsection of this section to the contrary, for the 1966 tax year and for all subsequent years no district board of education shall [request the] levy a tax at [of] a rate under the provisions of this section which exceeds the compensating tax rate as defined in KRS 132.010, except as provided in subsection (7) of this section, and except that a rate which has been approved by the voters under this section but which was not levied by the district board of education in 1965 may be levied after it has been reduced to the compensating tax rate as defined in KRS 132.010, and except that in any school district where the rate levied in 1965 was less than the maximum rate which had been approved by the voters, the compensating tax rate shall be computed and may be levied as though the maximum approved rate had been levied in 1965 and the amount of revenue which would have been produced from such maximum levy had been derived therefrom.

(7) Notwithstanding the limitations contained in subsection (6) of this section no tax rate shall be set lower than that necessary to provide such funds as are required to meet principal and interest payments on outstanding bonded indebtedness and payments of rentals in connection with any outstanding school revenue bonds issued under the provisions of KRS chapter 58 and KRS chapter 162.

Section 6. KRS 160.500 is amended to read as follows:

(1) School taxes shall be collected by the sheriff for county school districts and by the regular tax collector [s] of the city or special tax collector for the independent school districts [tax-levying authorities that make the school levies for the various school districts,] at the same time and in the same manner as other local taxes are collected, except as provided in this section and in KRS 160.510. The bond of the regular or special tax collector shall be made to cover his duties as the tax collector of the school district or districts for which he collects taxes. The tax collector shall be entitled to a fee equal to his expense but not to exceed [at] the rate of four per cent (4%) for the collection of school taxes, which fee may be charged only for collecting or receiving school taxes or school funds received from the local school levy. No allowance shall be made for the collection of school taxes to any collecting officer who continues to collect taxes after his term that would not be allowed him had he collected the taxes during his term.

(2) An independent school district may select a special tax collector to collect its school taxes, and in the event such independent school district does so select a special tax collector, a majority of the members of the independent school district board of education shall fix a fee for such special tax collector at a rate of not [less than one per cent (1%) nor] more than four per cent (4%) of the school taxes or school funds collected by such special tax collector from the local school levy in such independent school district. The special tax collector shall be required to execute bond in the same manner as provided in KRS 160.560 for the execution of a treasurer's bond, and the penal sum of the bond shall not be less than the aggregate of the tax bills that come into the hands of the special tax collector.

(3) The clerk shall include all school taxes on the regular tax bills furnished the tax collector except in case an independent district has selected a special tax collector, in which case the school taxes shall be listed by the clerk on a separate bill. The clerk shall be allowed a fee not to exceed three cents (3c) for each separate school tax bill, to be paid by the independent district board of education.

Section 7. KRS 160.530 is amended to read as follows:

[The fiscal court shall levy, within fifteen (15) days of such request, the school tax at the rate requested and the levy shall take effect not less than thirty (30) days nor more than ninety (90) days after the passage of the order or resolution.] The imposition of

In those counties where one (1) of the taxes referred to by this section is in effect county-wide on June 21, 1974, the taxes shall continue to be levied on a county-wide basis. Revenue produced by such taxes shall be distributed on the basis of average daily attendance, as set forth in KRS 160.644, to those districts levying such taxes.]

(2) Two or more boards of education may agree in writing, which shall be approved by the state board of education, to levy identical school taxes authorized by KRS 160.605 to 160.611, 160,613 to 160.617, and 160.621 to 160.633. After the levying in each district so agreeing of a tax under the terms of such agreement, the receipts from said tax shall be held in a common fund and disbursed therefrom to each district on the basis of average daily attendance, as set forth in KRS 160.644. Any districts levying taxes under the terms of such an agreement shall be deemed to constitute a combined taxing district for the purposes of reference in KRS Chapter 160. [within a county may make a joint request for the tax to be levied in their respective districts.]

Section 9. KRS 160.595 is amended to read as follows:

[The imposition of school taxes authorized by KRS 160.605 to 160.611, 160.613 to 160.617, 160.621 to 160.633 shall be by order or resolution of the fiscal court. No more than one such order or resolution shall be passed in any one calendar year, and no] No more than one school tax authorized by KRS 160.605 to 160.611, 160.613 to 160.617, 160.621 to 160.633 shall be in effect in any one district or combined taxing district at any one time.

Section 10. KRS 160.597 is amended to read as follows:

Any [order or resolution of a fiscal court levying a] school tax authorized by KRS 160.593 to 160.597, 160.601 to 160.633, 160.635 to 160.648 may be recalled as follows:

(1) The order or resolution [of the fiscal court] levying any of the school taxes designated heretofore in this section shall go into effect not less than thirty (30) days nor more than ninety (90) days after its passage. [by the fiscal court.] If during the thirty (30) days immediately following the passage of the order or resolution a petition signed by a number of registered and qualified voters equal to fifteen per cent (15%) of the votes cast in the school district or combined taxing district levying [requesting] the tax [levy] for the office receiving the greatest total vote at the last preceding presidential election is presented to the school board [fiscal court] protesting against passage of the order or resolution, the order or resolution shall be suspended from going into effect for that district until after the election provided for in subsection (2) of this section. [In the event that more than one (1) school district within a county has requested the tax, a separate petition meeting the requirements herein must be filed for each school district. The fifteen per cent (15%) requirement must be met in each respective participating school district.] Each sheet of the petition shall contain the names and addresses of voters in but one (1) voting precinct and each sheet shall state the name, number, or designation of the precinct and, where applicable, the name, number or designation of the district or ward wherein the precinct is situated. Each voter shall sign his name in the same manner as he signed the current registration form described in KRS 117.630 or subsection (2) of KRS 117.720, as the case may be. If the signature is difficult to read, the voter shall, on the same line legibly write or print his name in the same fashion as he signed it. One or more persons shall verify by affidavit the signatures and addresses of the signers of the petition. (2) Thereupon, if it has been determined that the petition contains enough valid signatures to suspend the effect of the order or resolution, the county board of elections [fiscal court] shall submit to the voters of the school district in which a valid recall petition has been filed pursuant to subsection (1) of this section at the next regular November election the question as to whether the tax shall be levied. The question shall be so framed that the voter may by his vote answer, "for" or "against." If a majority of the votes cast in a district or combined taxing district upon the question oppose its passage, the order or resolution shall not go into effect in that district or combined taxing district. If a majority of the votes cast in a district or combined taxing district upon the question favor its passage, the order or resolution shall go into effect in that district. In the event that the election is to be held in more than one (1) school district within a county the votes shall be counted separately.

[(3) In the event that the order or resolution includes more than one (1) school district within a county and a valid recall petition has not been filed as required by this section against one (1) or more of these school districts, the levy may be made in that school district or districts without regard to any recall petition pending or voted thereon in another school district within the county.]

Notwithstanding any statutory provisions to the contrary, notice shall be given by causing to be published, at least one (1) time in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or by posting at the courthouse door if there be no such newspaper, the fact that such levy [request] is being proposed. The advertisement shall state that the district board of education will meet at a place and on a day fixed in the advertisement, not earlier than one (1) week and not later than two (2) weeks from the date of the advertisement, for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed increase and explaining the reasons for such proposal.

(2) The school district board of education shall conduct a public hearing at the place and on the date advertised for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed levy [request] and explaining the reasons for such proposal.

This school tax shall be remitted with the return and shall be delinquent six (6) months after the close of the individual's tax year. The district board of education [county finance officer] shall furnish the necessary tax returns for the administration of this school tax.

[If a reduction in rate is requested, the fiscal court shall reduce the rate to the requested amount. The fiscal court may require the board of education to make an annual certification as to the need and necessity for the continuance of the current tax. In the event that more than one board of education within a county has one of these taxes in effect, each board of education desiring a tax rate reduction shall provide an individual certification of the tax rate reduction desired for that district.]

The Governor shall, within the limitations of this subsection, set the length of term of each of the initial appointees to the Board.

(4) Vacancies occurring on the Board among those members appointed by the Governor shall be filled by seeking nominations as in Section 2(1) of this Act from the organization which originally nominated the member who is to be replaced. A replacement for a Board member shall be appointed immediately upon the expiration of the departing Board member's term of service. Should a Board member vacate his position on the Board prior to the expiration of his term, his replacement shall be appointed for the period of the unexpired term. Should the unexpired term be less than two years, the person selected to fill the unexpired term may subsequently be appointed to one successive four year term.

(5) Members may be removed from the Board by the Governor for unethical conduct or for failure to attend three or more successive meetings of the Board without reasonable cause.

All Board members shall be compensated for expenses incurred in the conduct of Board business.

Section 3. A new section of KRS Chapter 198B is created to read as follows:

(1) There is hereby created the Kentucky Department of Housing, Buildings and Construction within the cabinet for public protection and regulation. The Governor shall appoint a commissioner to head the department by July 31, 1976. The Commissioner shall receive for his services such compensation as the Governor shall determine. The Commissioner shall be selected by the Governor on the basis of demonstrated competence and experience in one or several professions relating to the housing and construction industry. Competence may be demonstrated by notable accomplishment in finance, engineering, architecture, law, land use planning, management and administration, construction contracting, real estate sales, real estate development or similar professions related to the responsibilities of the Commissioner as contained in this Act.

(2) The Commissioner may employ sufficient staff to carry out the functions of his office. Neither the Commissioner nor any member of his staff shall be employed, either directly or indirectly, in any aspect of the building industry as regulated by this Act while employed by the Department of Housing, Buildings and Construction.

(3) The Department shall serve as staff for the Board of Housing, Buildings and Construction as established by this Act, and shall perform all budgeting, procurement, and other administrative activities necessary to the functioning of this body. The Board shall prescribe the duties of the Commissioner in addition to those duties otherwise delegated to him by the Governor or prescribed for him by law.

(4) The Department may enter into contracts with the Federal government, other agencies of state government or with its subdivisions, or with private profit or nonprofit organizations in order to effect the purposes of this Act.

(5) Subject to the direction of the Board of Housing, Buildings and Construction, the Commissioner shall cooperate with the agencies of the United States and with the governing bodies and housing authorities of counties, cities, and with not for profit organizations and area development districts in relation to matters set forth in this Act, and in any reasonable manner that may be necessary for the State to qualify for, and to receive grants or aid from such agencies. To these ends and subject to the direction of the Board, the Commissioner shall have the power to comply with each condition and execute such agreements as may be necessary, convenient, or desirable.

(6) Nothing in this Act shall preclude any other agency, board, or officer of the State from being designated as the directing or allocating agency, board, or officer for the distribution of Federal grants and aid, or the performance of other duties to the extent necessary to qualify for and to receive grants and aid for programs under the administration of the Department.

(7) The Commissioner is authorized to receive, for and on behalf of the State, the Department, and the Board of Housing, Buildings and Construction, from the United States and agencies thereof, and from any and all other sources, grants and aid and gifts made for the purpose of providing, or to assist in providing, any of the programs authorized by this Act, including expenses of administration. All such funds shall be paid into the State Treasury and credited to a trust and agency fund to be used by the Department in carrying out the provisions of this chapter. No part of this fund shall revert to the general fund of the Commonwealth.

Section 4. A new section of KRS Chapter 198B is created to read as follows:

The Kentucky Board of Housing, Buildings and Construction shall have the following general powers and duties:

(1) To conduct or cause to be conducted studies to determine the housing preferences of Kentucky citizens and the present and future housing requirements of the state;

(2) To devise and implement procedures for attaining and maintaining an accurate count of the housing inventory in Kentucky, including information on the age, physical condition, size, facilities, and amenities of such housing, and housing constructed and demolished each year;

(3) To conduct or cause to be conducted or participate in studies of the costs of the various factors of building production and use of buildings, and to recommend programs and procedures which will minimize the cost of housing and construction and use of buildings, including use of energy, while maintaining safety, durability and comfort;

(4) To design programs coordinating the elements of housing finance, production, maintenance and rehabilitation for the purpose of assuring the availability of safe, adequate housing in a healthful environment for all Kentucky citizens;

(5) To administer regulatory legislation relating to housing, buildings and construction;

(6) To establish or cause to be established public information and educational programs relating to housing, to include informing all Kentucky citizens about housing and housing related programs that are available on all levels of government;

(7) To design and administer or participate in the design and administration of educational programs to prepare low income families for home ownership and counsel them during their early years as home owners;

(8) To promote educational programs to assist sponsors in the development and management of low and moderate income housing for sale or rental;

(9) To assume administrative coordination of the various state construction review and housing programs and to cooperate with various federal, state and local agencies in their programs as they relate to housing;

(10) To recommend state housing policies and goals to the Kentucky General Assembly;

(11) To adopt and promulgate a mandatory uniform state building code which shall establish standards for the construction of all buildings in the state.

Section 5. A new section of KRS Chapter 198B is created to read as follows:

(1) Within one year from its initial meeting, after adequate notice in accordance with KRS Chapter 13, the Board shall adopt and promulgate a mandatory uniform state building code which shall establish standards for the construction of all buildings in the state. The code shall stipulate that all reviews and approvals of building plans for conformance with the uniform state building code prior to construction approval shall be conducted only by the Department or a local government delegated such responsibilities by this chapter, and any exceptions to this policy shall be explicitly stated in the code.

(2) The code shall be comprehensive and shall include but not be limited to provisions for general construction; structural quality; mechanical systems to include heating, cooling, and ventilation; electrical systems: and life safety from hazards of fire, explosion, and other disasters, whether caused by acts of nature or man. The code shall not apply to plumbing or to boilers.

(3) This code shall be designed after the models offered by such model code agencies as the Building Officials and Code Administrators, International, Inc.; The International Conference of Building Officials; the Southern Building Code Congress; and other nationally recognized organizations which may include governmental agencies. The code shall:

(a) provide uniform standards and requirements for construction and construction materials;

(b) to the extent practicable, set forth standards, specifications and requirements in terms of performance objectives, so as to facilitate the use of new technologies, techniques, and materials. The code shall not discriminate in favor of particular suppliers materials, techniques, or technologies;

(c) protect the public health, safety, and welfare within the state.

(4) Adoption of a code shall include provisions for the annual review of, and the Board shall adopt when deemed justified to fulfill the purposes of this Act, new materials, technologies, and techniques in the building industry. The Board may adopt a model code promulgated by a model code agency only if that agency provides for democratic participation by the Board and any local governments which may enforce the code, in an annual review and possible adoption of new materials, technologies, and techniques in the building industry.

(5) The Board shall issue regulations, after notice in accordance with KRS Chapter 13, which are necessary to implement the uniform state building code or to carry out any other responsibility assigned to said Board by this Act.

(6) The Board shall provide for monitoring the effectiveness of agencies designated by local governments to enforce the provisions of the uniform state building code.

(7) The Board shall provide for the printing and supply, including amendments and revisions thereto, of sufficient copies of the uniform state building code for all interested parties.

Section 6. A new section of KRS Chapter 198B is created to read as follows:

(1) Each local government in the state of Kentucky shall employ a building official or inspector and other code enforcement personnel as required, to enforce the uniform state building code within the boundaries of its jurisdiction, and shall neither adopt nor enforce any other ordinance regulating buildings which conflicts with the uniform state building code, except that a building code adopted by a local government prior to passage of this Act may continue in effect until such time as the uniform state building code becomes mandatory within that local government jurisdiction.

(2) Local governments shall be responsible for the examination and approval or disapproval of plans and specifications for buildings of no more than three stories in height, exclusive of attic and basement, which do not contain more than 20,000 square feet of floor area, and are not intended for assembly, educational, institutional or high hazard occupancy, business or industrial occupancy in excess of 100 persons, or for use as a frozen food locker plant as defined in KRS 221.010. Local governments shall be responsible for the issuance and revocation of building permits, licenses, certificates and similar documents which cover activities within their area of responsibility, and the inspection of all buildings pursuant to the provisions of this Act and the uniform state building code. Each local government issuing a building or demolition permit or an initial certificate of occupancy on a new structure shall send a copy of such permit or certificate to the commissioner of housing and construction for his use in maintaining an accurate housing inventory for Kentucky.

(3) The department shall be responsible for the examination and approval or disapproval of plans and specifications for all buildings which are not the responsibility of local governments. The department may issue and revoke permits, licenses, certificates and similar documents within its area of responsibility, and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with local governments for the inspection of all buildings pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and the uniform state building code. The department may preempt any portion of a local program if the commissioner determines that the local jurisdiction is not adequately performing that portion of the program. If the department preempts any portion of a local program, it shall collect the fees applicable to that portion of the program.

(4) Any local government may petition the commissioner requesting that additional plan review functions be allocated to that local government. Such petition shall include evidence of the local government's capability to perform additional plan review functions. The commissioner, after review of the petition and supporting evidence, may grant or deny to the local government any part of a request for additional responsibility. If the commissioner denies any part of a petition, he shall explain his reasons for denial in writing, and provide a copy to the board and the local government. A local government may appeal such denial directly to the board, and the board shall review such appeal according to the procedures found in Sections 7(8) through 7(12) of this Act. Should the local government be granted additional responsibility by the commissioner or the board, the department shall hold concurrent jurisdiction over such additional responsibility, but the local government shall collect any fees for functions it performs pursuant to such additional responsibility.

(5) The commissioner shall expedite the review of plans and specifications by assigning responsibilities and coordinating review activities among the department's various functional offices so as to prevent unnecessary duplication in the review of plans and specifications.

(6) No building shall be constructed in this state until a local building official with appropriate jurisdiction over said building, or an official representing the department, issues a permit for such construction. The local building official or the representative of the department shall issue a permit if the plans and specifications for the building satisfy the requirements of the uniform state building code and if the party desiring to construct the building has complied with all other legal requirements concerning the location and construction of said building. The applicant for a building permit, by the act of applying for the permit, is deemed to have consented to inspection, by the local government or the department, of such building during construction and upon the completion of construction for the purpose of determining that such building is constructed in compliance with the uniform state building code. This section shall apply to industrialized building systems but destructive disassembly of industrialized building systems which carry a seal of approval pursuant to a manufactured building law in the state in which they were manufactured, which seal of approval is accepted by the Board of Housing, Buildings, and Construction, shall not be performed in order to conduct such tests or inspections.

(7) No building on which construction was begun nor any industrialized building system on which site preparation and assembly were begun after the uniform state building code became effective shall be occupied until the local building official or a representative of the department issues a certificate of occupancy certifying that the building was constructed in conformance with the standards of the uniform state building code, or assembled or installed in conformance with applicable instructions.

(8) A local government may contract with other local governments, and may seek the technical assistance of an Area Development District in order to provide for the local enforcement of the uniform state building code. Such contracts among local governments shall conform to the provisions of KRS Chapter 65.

(9) Each local government and the department may establish a schedule of fees for the functions performed under the provisions of this Act. Such fees shall be designed to fully cover the cost of the service performed but shall in no case exceed the cost of the service performed. Fees payable to the department shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to a trust and agency fund to be used by the department in carrying out the provisions of this chapter. No part of this fund shall revert to the general fund of the Commonwealth.

Section 7. A new section of KRS Chapter 198B is created to read as follows:

(1) The Mayor, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, or County Judge of a local government which is enforcing the uniform state building code may, upon the approval of the local legislative body, appoint a local appeals board, consisting of at least three technically qualified persons with professional experience related to the building industry, to hear appeals from the decisions of the local building official.

(2) Local governments which are enforcing the uniform state building code may cooperate with each other to provide a local appeals board and shall adhere to the provisions of KRS Chapter 65 when entering such cooperative agreements. No local building official or employe of a local inspection department may sit on a local appeals board if such board is hearing an appeal to a decision rendered by his department. No member of a local appeals board shall hear an appeal in a case in which he has a private interest.

(3) Any party to a decision by the local building official may appeal that decision to the local appeals board. Upon receipt of an appeal from a qualified party, the local appeals board shall convene a hearing to consider the appeal within twenty days of receipt. All parties to the appeal shall be notified of the time and place of the hearing by letter mailed by registered or certified mail no later than ten days prior to the date of the hearing. The local appeals board shall render a decision within ten days after the hearing.

(4) A local appeals board may uphold, amend, or reverse the decision of a local building official, and there shall be no appeal from the decision of a local appeals board except that any party to such decision may appeal to the Board of Housing, Buildings and Construction. Appeals to the Board of Housing, Buildings and Construction shall include citations of those provisions of the uniform state building code which are at issue, and an explanation of why the decision of the local appeals board or the local building official relative to those provisions is being contested.

(5) The Board of Housing, Buildings and Construction shall serve to hear appeals from the decisions of local appeals boards, when such boards exist, or to hear appeals directly from the decisions of local building officials in cases where no local appeals board has jurisdiction. In no case shall the Board hear an appeal directly from a party aggrieved by the decision of a local building official when there is a local appeals board with jurisdiction in the case.

(6) The board shall hear appeals directly from a party aggrieved by the decision of an agent of the department. Such appeals shall include citations of those provisions of the uniform state building code which are at issue, and an explanation of why the decision of the agent of the department relative to those provisions is being contested.

(7) Appeals to the Board of Housing, Buildings and Construction shall be addressed to the Commissioner who shall immediately notify the Chairman of the Board when an appeal is received. The Commissioner or a designated employe of his department shall then investigate the evidence pertaining to such appeal and, based upon the results of such investigation, make recommendations to the Board on the disposition of the case in question. No employe of the department shall investigate or make recommendations on an appeal to his own decision, but shall defer in such cases to employes who were not party to the decision which led to the appeal. In conducting such investigation, the Commissioner or his designated representatives, acting for the department, shall have the authority to administer oaths and affirmations, issue subpoenas authorized by law, rule upon offers of proof and receive relevant evidence, take or cause depositions to be taken, regulate the course of any hearings they may schedule, and hold conferences for the settlement or simplification of the issues by consent of the parties. The Commissioner shall complete such investigations and forward written recommendations to the Chairman of the Board within forty-five days after receiving an appeal.

(8) Upon receiving the written recommendations of the Commissioner, the Board may decide to accept such recommendations, or it may decide to convene a hearing to consider the question further. Upon receipt of the recommendations of the Commissioner, the Board shall render a decision on each appeal at its next regularly scheduled meeting, but no later than thirty days after receipt of such recommendations.

(9) Should the Board's decision be to schedule a hearing on the appeal, such hearing shall occur within thirty days of such decision, and all parties to such hearing shall be immediately notified in writing of the time and place of such hearing by the Commissioner.

(10) The Board may appoint five or more of its members to consider the recommendations of the Commissioner or to conduct the hearing, and those so appointed shall act in all matters concerning the appeal for the entire Board.

(11) In considering an appeal, the Board, if they deem it necessary to reach an equitable decision, may exercise any of the powers granted to the Commissioner in Section 7(7) of this Act. The Board shall render a decision within ten days of any appeals hearing it may conduct.

(12) The Board may uphold, amend, or reverse the decision of a local appeals board, a local building official or an agent of the department; and the decision of the Board shall be final, and there shall be no appeal from the Board's decision, except to the Franklin Circuit Court, and thereafter to the Court of Appeals.

Section 8. A new section of KRS Chapter 198B is created to read as follows:

(1) Any interested party may suggest amendments to the uniform state building code to the Department of Housing, Buildings and Construction. The department shall transmit all suggested amendments to the Board with recommendations on the advisability of the suggested amendments.

(2) The Board may amend the uniform state building code at any time, but only after notice in accordance with KRS Chapter 13. Such amendments shall be effective statewide.

(3) No amendment shall violate the performance orientation of the code, favor certain materials or suppliers, or weaken the life safety features of the uniform state building code as specified in Section 5(3) of this Act.

Section 9. A new section of KRS Chapter 198B is created to read as follows:

(1) The department may conduct or sponsor pre-entry and in-service education and training programs on the technical, legal, and administrative aspects of building code administration and enforcement. For this purpose it may cooperate and contract with educational institutions, area development districts, local, regional, state or national building officials' organizations, and any other appropriate organization.

(2) The department may reimburse building officials, code enforcement officers and other employes of the state and its subdivisions for related expenses incurred by them for attendance at in-service training programs approved by the department.

(2) In all local governments in a county containing a city of the third or fourth class, but not a city of the first or second class, the uniform state building code, as it pertains to buildings for which the department has the responsibility for plan reviews, shall become effective six months after promulgation by the Board and as it pertains to buildings for which local governments have responsibility for plan review shall become effective two years after promulgation by the Board. Any of said local governments may adopt the code prior to such times.

(3) In all local governments in a county containing a city of the fifth or sixth class, but not a city of the first through fourth classes, the uniform state building code as it pertains to buildings for which the department has the responsibility for plan reviews shall become effective six months after promulgation by the Board and as it pertains to buildings for which local governments have responsibility for plan review shall become effective three years after promulgation by the Board. Section 5. A new section of KRS Chapter 198B is created to read as follows:

(1) Within one year from its initial meeting, after adequate notice in accordance with KRS Chapter 13, the Board shall adopt and promulgate a mandatory uniform state building code which shall establish standards for the construction of all buildings, as defined in Section 1 of this Act, in the state. The code shall provide that the review and approval, as necessary, of building plans for conformance with the uniform state building code prior to construction approval shall be conducted only by the Department or a local government or governments delegated such responsibilities by this chapter, and any exceptions to this policy shall be explicitly stated in the code.

(2) The code shall be comprehensive and shall include but not be limited to provisions for general construction; structural quality; mechanical systems to include heating, cooling, and ventilation; electrical systems; and life safety from hazards of fire, explosion, and other disasters, whether caused by acts of nature or man. The code shall encompass the Kentucky state plumbing code promulgated pursuant to KRS 318.130, boiler rules and regulations issued pursuant to KRS 236.030, and the national electrical code.

(3) This code shall be designed after and may be selected from the models offered by such model code agencies as the Building Officials and Code Administrators, International, Inc.; The International Conference of Building Officials; the Southern Building Code Congress; and other nationally recognized organizations which may include governmental agencies. The code shall:

(a) provide uniform standards and requirements for construction and construction materials;

(b) to the extent practicable, set forth standards, specifications and requirements in terms of performance objectives, so as to facilitate the use of new technologies, techniques, and materials. The code shall not discriminate in favor of particular suppliers materials, techniques, or technologies;

(c) protect the public health, safety, and welfare within the state.

(4) Adoption of a code shall include provisions for the continuing review of, and the Board shall adopt when deemed justified to fulfill the purposes of this Act, new materials, technologies, and techniques in the building industry. The Board may adopt a model code promulgated by a model code agency only if that agency provides a method for democratic participation by the Board and any local governments which may enforce the code, in a continuing review and possible adoption of new materials, technologies, and techniques in the building industry.

(5) The Board shall issue regulations, after notice in accordance with KRS Chapter 13, which are necessary to implement the uniform state building code or to carry out any other responsibility assigned to said Board by this Act.

(6) The Board shall provide for monitoring the effectiveness of agencies designated by local governments to enforce the provisions of the uniform state building code.

(7) The Board shall provide for the supply, including amendments and revisions thereto, of sufficient copies of the uniform state building code for all interested parties.

Section 6. A new section of KRS Chapter 198B is created to read as follows:

(1) Each local government in the state of Kentucky shall employ a building official or inspector and other code enforcement personnel as necessary, or shall contract for such services in accordance with Section

6(8) of this Act to enforce the uniform state building code within the boundaries of its jurisdiction, and shall neither adopt nor enforce any other ordinance regulating buildings which conflicts with the uniform state building code, except that a building code adopted by a local government prior to passage of this Act may continue in effect until such time as the uniform state building code becomes mandatory within that local government jurisdiction.

(2) Local governments shall be responsible for the examination and approval or disapproval of plans and specifications for buildings of no more than three stories in height, exclusive of attic and basement, which do not contain more than 20,000 square feet of floor area, and are not intended for assembly, educational, institutional or high hazard occupancy, business or industrial occupancy in excess of 100 persons, or for use as a frozen food locker plant as defined in KRS 221.010. Local governments shall be responsible for the issuance and revocation of building permits, licenses, certificates and similar documents which cover activities within their area of responsibility, and the inspection of all buildings pursuant to the provisions of this Act and the uniform state building code. Each local government issuing a building or demolition permit or an initial certificate of occupancy on a new structure shall send a copy of such permit or certificate to the commissioner for his use in maintaining an accurate housing inventory for Kentucky.

(3) Urban county governments may determine service districts within their boundaries within which farm dwellings and other farm buildings, not used in the business of retail trade or as a place of regular employment for ten (10) or more people, shall be exempt from the requirements of the uniform state building code. Such determination may be reviewed and altered by the board.

(4) The department shall be responsible for the examination and approval or disapproval of plans and specifications for all buildings which are not the responsibility of local governments. The department may issue and revoke permits, licenses, certificates and similar documents within its area of responsibility, and shall have concurrent jurisdiction with local governments for the inspection of all buildings pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and the uniform state building code. The department may preempt any portion of a local program if the commissioner determines that the local jurisdiction is not adequately performing that portion of the program. If the department preempts any portion of a local program, it shall collect the fees applicable to that portion of the program.

(5) Any local government may petition the commissioner requesting that additional plan review functions be allocated to that local government. Such petition shall include evidence of the local government's capability to perform additional plan review functions. The commissioner, after review of the petition and supporting evidence, may grant or deny to the local government any part of a request for additional responsibility. If the commissioner denies any part of a petition, he shall explain his reasons for denial in writing, and provide a copy to the board and the local government. A local government may appeal such denial directly to the board, and the board shall review such appeal according to the procedures found in Sections 7(8) through 7(12) of this Act. Should the local government be granted additional responsibility by the commissioner or the board, the department shall hold concurrent jurisdiction over such additional responsibility, but the local government shall collect any fees for functions it performs pursuant to such additional responsibility.

(6) The commissioner shall expedite the review of plans and specifications by assigning responsibilities and coordinating review activities among the department's various functional offices so as to prevent unnecessary duplication in the review of plans and specifications.

(7) No building shall be constructed in this state until a local building official with appropriate jurisdiction over said building, or an official representing the department, issues a permit for such construction. The local building official or the representative of the department shall issue a permit if the proposed building satisfies the requirements of the uniform state building code and if the party desiring to construct the building has complied with all other legal requirements concerning the location and construction of said building. The applicant for a building permit, by the act of applying for the permit, is deemed to have consented to inspection, by the local government or the department, of such building during construction and upon the completion of construction for the purpose of determining that such building is constructed in compliance with the uniform state building code. This section shall apply to industrialized building systems but destructive disassembly of industrialized building systems which carry a seal of approval pursuant to a manufactured building law in the state in which they were manufactured, which seal of approval is accepted by the Board of Buildings, Housing and Construction, shall not be performed in order to conduct such tests or inspections.

(8) No building on which construction was begun nor any industrialized building system on which site preparation and assembly were begun after the uniform state building code became effective shall be occupied until the local building official or a representative of the department issues a certificate of occupancy certifying that the building was constructed in conformance with the standards of the uniform state building code, or assembled or installed in conformance with applicable instructions.

(9) A local government may contract with other local governments, and may seek the technical assistance of other agencies in order to provide for the local enforcement of the uniform state building code. Such contracts among local governments shall conform to the provisions of KRS Chapter 65.

(10) Each local government and the department may establish a schedule of fees for the functions performed under the provisions of this Act. Such fees shall be designed to fully cover the cost of the service performed but shall in no case exceed the cost of the service performed. Fees payable to the department shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to a trust and agency fund to be used by the department in carrying out the provisions of this chapter. No part of this fund shall revert to the general fund of the Commonwealth.

(1) The Mayor, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, or County Judge of a local government which is enforcing the uniform state building code may, upon the approval of the local legislative body, appoint a local appeals board, consisting of at least three technically qualified persons with professional experience related to the building industry, to hear appeals from the decisions of the local building official.

(2) Local governments which are enforcing the uniform state building code may cooperate with each other to provide a local appeals board and shall adhere to the provisions of KRS Chapter 65 when entering such cooperative agreements. No local building official or employe of a local inspection department may sit on a local appeals board if such board is hearing an appeal to a decision rendered by his department. No member of a local appeals board shall hear an appeal in a case in which he has a private interest.

(3) Any party to a decision by the local building official may appeal that decision to the local appeals board. Upon receipt of an appeal from a qualified party, the local appeals board shall convene a hearing to consider the appeal within fifteen days of receipt. All parties to the appeal shall be notified of the time and place of the hearing by letter mailed by registered or certified mail no later than ten days prior to the date of the hearing. The local appeals board shall render a decision within five working days after the hearing.

(4) A local appeals board may uphold, amend, or reverse the decision of a local building official, and there shall be no appeal from the decision of a local appeals board except that any party to such decision may appeal to the Board of Buildings, Housing and Construction. Appeals to the Board of Buildings, Housing and Construction shall include citations of those provisions of the uniform state building code which are at issue, and an explanation of why the decision of the local appeals board or the local building official relative to those provisions is being contested.

(5) The Board of Buildings, Housing and Construction shall serve to hear appeals from the decisions of local appeals boards, when such boards exist, or to hear appeals directly from the decisions of local building officials in cases where no local appeals board has jurisdiction. In no case shall the Board hear an appeal directly from a party aggrieved by the decision of a local building official when there is a local appeals board with jurisdiction in the case.

(6) The board shall hear appeals directly from a party aggrieved by the decision of an agent of the department. Such appeals shall include citations of those provisions of the uniform state building code which are at issue, and an explanation of why the decision of the agent of the department relative to those provisions is being contested.

(7) Appeals to the Board of Buildings, Housing and Construction shall be addressed to the Commissioner who shall immediately notify the Chairman of the Board when an appeal is received. The Commissioner or a designated employe of his department shall then investigate the evidence pertaining to such appeal and, based upon the results of such investigation, make recommendations to the Board on the disposition of the case in question. No employe of the department shall investigate or make recommendations on an appeal to his own decision, but shall defer in such cases to employes who were not party to the decision which led to the appeal. In conducting such investigation, the Commissioner or his designated representatives, acting for the department, shall have the authority to administer oaths and affirmations, issue subpoenas authorized by law, rule upon offers of proof and receive relevant evidence, take or cause depositions to be taken, regulate the course of any hearings they may schedule, and hold conferences for the settlement or simplification of the issues by consent of the parties. The Commissioner shall complete such investigations and forward written recommendations to the Chairman of the Board within thirty days after receiving an appeal.

(8) Upon receiving the written recommendations of the Commissioner, the Board may decide to accept such recommendations, or it may decide to convene a hearing to consider the question further. Upon receipt of the recommendations of the Commissioner, the Board shall render a decision on each appeal at its next regularly scheduled meeting, but no later than thirty days after receipt of such recommendations.

(9) Should the Board's decision be to schedule a hearing on the appeal, such hearing shall occur within thirty days of such decision, and all parties to such hearing shall be immediately notified in writing of the time and place of such hearing by the Commissioner.

(10) The Board may appoint five or more of its members to consider the recommendations of the Commissioner or to conduct the hearing, and those so appointed shall act in all matters concerning the appeal for the entire Board.

(11) In considering an appeal, the Board, if they deem it necessary to reach an equitable decision, may exercise any of the powers granted to the Commissioner in Section 7(7) of this Act. The Board shall render a decision within ten days of any appeals hearing it may conduct.

(12) The Board may uphold, amend, or reverse the decision of a local appeals board, a local building official or an agent of the department; and the decision of the Board shall be final, and there shall be no appeal from the Board's decision, except to the Franklin Circuit Court.

Section 8. A new section of KRS Chapter 198B is created to read as follows:

(1) Any interested party may suggest amendments to the uniform state building code to the Department of Buildings, Housing and Construction. The department shall transmit all suggested amendments to the Board with recommendations on the advisability of the suggested amendments.

(2) The Board may amend the uniform state building code at any time, but only after notice in accordance with KRS Chapter 13. Such amendments shall be effective statewide.

(3) No amendment shall violate the performance orientation of the code, favor certain materials or suppliers, or weaken the life safety features of the uniform state building code as specified in Section 5(3) of this Act.

Section 9. A new section of KRS Chapter 198B is created to read as follows:

(1) The department may conduct or sponsor pre-entry and in-service education and training programs on the technical, legal, and administrative aspects of building code administration and enforcement. For this purpose it may cooperate and contract with educational institutions, area development districts, local, regional, state or national building officials' organizations, and any other appropriate organization.

(2) The department may reimburse building officials, code enforcement officers and other employes of the state and its subdivisions for related expenses incurred by them for attendance at in-service training programs approved by the department.

(2) In all local governments in a county containing a city of the third or fourth class, but not a city of the first or second class, the uniform state building code, as it pertains to buildings for which the department has the responsibility for plan reviews, shall become effective six months after promulgation by the Board and as it pertains to buildings for which local governments have responsibility for plan review shall become effective two years after promulgation by the Board.
